FROM DISTANT AFRICA.—Mrs. Thos. Banks, Edge Hill, recently received a card dated Feb. 26 last, from Mrs. Rice, (nee Annie Bartlett) who, with her husband, left about New Years for Northern Nigeria, West Africa on missionary work. They arrived safely on February 9th.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE.—A very important meeting of this body will be held in the Baptist church on Wednesday evening, 28th April, and will be addressed by Mr. W. J. Smith, a Provincial organizer, thoroughly conversant with the work. The various churches in town are giving up their prayer meetings that evening.

A requisition is being sent from Chesley to the License Inspector for Centre Bruce, requesting him to reduce the number of licenses in that town to two. The petition sets forth that two hotels are adequate for the town. The commissioners grant the request at their April meeting the license to be cut off will be issued for only three months from May 1st.

WHEAT SOARING.—Farmers with full wheat bins these days will have a fortune coming to them. The price of wheat, it was thought a few years ago, would never again rise to the dollar mark, but it is far above it and still rising. A dealer named Patten, has by "corners" and manipulations, cleared during the last few days, about five million dollars, which should have gone into the pockets of thousands of farmers or consumers or both.

STRIPPING UP.—Last Friday's Post Arthur Chronicle has the following piece of news regarding a well-known South Grey man. We heartily congratulate "Dave" on his promotion: "David McIntyre, formerly of the Canadian Lake Line, will this season act in the capacity of assistant to J. Bell, agent of the Northern Navigation Co. He has been spending some time in the east and arrived home last night, assuming his new duties this morning. He is one of the best known marine men on the lakes."

PREYIONS TO THE DEPARTURE OF Dr. Seim and family for Lumbdes, the people of Holstein presented them with an address testifying to the esteem in which they were held and loss to the community by their departure. Dr. Seim was presented with a roll top desk, Mrs. Seim with a gold watch and chain and the two boys with a handsome bible. Dr. Seim was a very public spirited citizen. He took great interest in the Agricultural Society, the Library and the School and he will be greatly missed in Holstein.

$500 REWARD.—Such was the heading on a placard in McKeech's window one morning last week, this amount being offered to anyone giving Chief Carson information leading to the conviction of the person who broke the large plate glass window, apparently by the throwing of a large stone displayed inside. However it was all a clever deception, originated by the sale promoter, but proved quite an attraction to the indoor circus. Strips of glass had been gummed on the inside of the plate glass, radiating from the circumference of an imaginary circle. The edges of these strips appeared to be cracks and the circle, the hole which the stone lying in the window had made in passing through. It was "April fool day" for numbers of people, including Chief Carson, who at first glance remarked "Well that night watchman hasn't been attending to his business properly, or this wouldn't have happened."

Obituary

CHARLES MCARTHUR.

On Saturday last the grave closed on all that was mortal of the above gentleman. He died on Thursday morning previous after months, indeed one might say years, of invalidism, which though depressing and weakening was not accompanied by physical suffering. The trouble was, we believe, "sclerosis," an affection which seems to numb both nerves and muscles, gradually making the patient more and more helpless. This was the experience in Mr McArthur's case for, for three or four months back, he had scarcely stirred except as his devoted wife moved him. For years before that he had gradually become totally incapacitated for business, presenting in his long drawn out illness a remarkable contrast to his brother John, who died so suddenly and unexpectedly only two months ago.

Mr McArthur was a native of the island of Mull, Argyshire, Scotland, leaving there with his parents in the early 50's of last century, when but four years old. He was one of five brothers, three of whom remain: Neil in Alberta, Duncan and Hugh in Glenelg, the latter being in very poor health.

Deceased early showed an intellectual bias and prepared himself for a teacher, in which calling he remained, for many years, being uniformly successful. He occupied schools in Glenelg, Egremont and Normanby, and always left behind a healthy stimulus and influence on the minds of the young. There are many yet who will gratefully acknowledge the inspiration received from contact with Mr McArthur in the days of his chief life work. The writer, more than many, was closely associated with deceased in his scholastic and other work in the days of his strength, and learned to appreciate his upright Christian character as well as his professional ability.

In 1891, he bought out the REVIEW newspaper and published it for three and a half years, through a somewhat difficult period. In 1895 he launched out into a mercantile business in Upper Town and later moved down town into the premises at present occupied. In 1897 he married Miss M. Whitmore, also a teacher of experience and ability. Always devoted to each other she proved in the last years of his weakness, not only a ministering angel, but a buttress and support to the business which came entirely under her care. Never, we feel sure, was a fading life more brightened than was that of Chas. McArthur by the ministrations of his faithful companion.

Deceased was a member of the Baptist Communion, to which body he was strongly attached. In politics he was always Liberal, though latterly, he refrained from voting at several elections.

The funeral on Saturday last was largely attended. The body was taken to the chapel, where his pastor Rev. Mr Newton, preached an appropriate sermon from "For me to live is Christ and to die is gain," closing with a complimentary personal reference to the character and worth of the deceased.

Rest came the journey to his last resting place in Trinity Church cemetery, the pall bearers being Messrs C. L. Grant, Wm Irwin, Robt. Adam, John Graham, A. Davidson, Ed. McClocklin.

Mrs. JAS. McDONALD.

On Sunday last there passed away one of the pioneers of Bentinck, Mrs. Jas. McDonald, who had passed the four score limit in years. For some months back she has been living with her daughter Lizzie on the old farm homestead in Glenelg, and gradually affection carried her off. Previous to coming to Glenelg she lived at Aberdeen, Bentinck, where her daughter Lizzie, kept store and post office for many years, and faithfully comforted and sustained her mother through all her declining days. She survived her husband by 32 years. Three sons and four daughters remain to cherish the memory of a mother beloved. As neighbor and friend Mrs. McDonald was very highly spoken of and will long be kindly remembered by a host of friends, many of whom turned out on Monday to pay the last tribute.

Mrs. John Weir, 3rd Con., Glenelg, is a sister of deceased, whose sons are John, on the old homestead, near Aberdeen, Alex and James in D. kota. The daughters are Mrs McIntosh, near Crawford, Annie and Jane both married in the west and Miss Lizzie, Alex, got home last Friday in time to have his mother know him and welcome him before she passed away. Rev. Mr Farquharson conducted the funeral services.

Inspector Tilley to Lecture

One of those rare public lectures by high educational officials will be given on Monday evening, 3rd of May, in the Town Hall, Durham, by the well known Inspector Tilley, whose long experience, thorough qualifications and thoroughness in his duties as Inspector of Schools or any other Educational topic.

This popular lecture is for country as well as town, and we hope to see a very large number from surrounding sections help to crowd the Town Hall.

Owner of Middaugh House Dead.

On Monday last Mr Murphy, of Markdale, died as a result of an attack of pneumonia. The vegetable death of this young man has an interest for Durham seeing he was the proprietor of the Middaugh House in this town. We are not aware who are his heirs, he is unmarried, and possibly the hotel property here may revert to the original owners. We have no other particulars at this writing.

Horse Fair

As was expected and as was to be expected, the fair on Tuesday was not, in attendance, up to some of its predecessors. The pressure of spring work no doubt detained many. However there was considerable business done, a lot of buyers being present, and bidding on all classes of horses. The very greatest attention should be given to the selection of sires during the coming season.

Make Durham Beautiful.

Spring is with us and the sun and rain will soon desk the earth with beauty. Help the movement along by the cleaning up process in streets and yards, and do it quickly. The following suggestions clipped from an exchange should all be adopted:

- If your store front, residence or fence is dingy, order it painted.
- If your awning is old, torn or faded get a new one.
- If your sidewalk, gate or fence needs repairing, fix it.
- If your advertising sign is old or faded, take it down and paint it.
- Resolve never to throw paper in the street.
- Take all the dandelions out of your lawn, they spoil its beauty.
- Destroy the young weeds that are straying on your property and on your neighbor's property.
- Burn all the rubbish possible, allow no one to throw it on the streets, alleys or vacant lots.
- Promise not to spit on the sidewalk.
- Organize a block improvement society, and allow no weeds to grow on sidewalk area or vacant property in your block.
- Irrespective of the size of your house make your lawn the finest.
- Illuminate the front of your store in the business section.
- Exray (not put forth) or dollar spent to improve our town's appearance will be returned two-fold.

ANNUAL N. B. C. CONTESTS.—The annual presentation of medals at the Northern Business College, O. Sound, took place on Wednesday week. This is one of the events in the student's life that is looked forward to with great eagerness. The some 200 students that attend have all an opportunity of contesting, and thus all the contests are very keen. The work exhibited was excellent and spoke highly for the methods of instruction employed in that institution. The judges were School Inspector Burgess, City Treasurer A. F. Armstrong, W. P. Telford, Ex. M. P. Rev. W. J. Cadman, assisted Principal Fleming and the staff, in making the awards. The contests were for Writing, Best set of Books, Spelling test, best Spelling for term, Letter Copying, Rapid Business Writing, Rapid Arithmetic, Greatest Improvement in writing. The winners were well scattered over the county and beyond it.

One of the greatest helps in accumulating money is a Savings Account. The desire to increase it, and the habit of at once depositing money received—drawing it out only as required—develops the habit of saving, and brings you out at the end of the year with a snug sum that would otherwise have slipped away. It opens a Savings Account. Why not do it?
