UNDERWENT OPERATION.—At Stratford Hospital last week, under Dr. Deacun's charge, Miss Lizzie Byers was operated upon for the removal of the tonsils and growth from throat and nose. She returned Monday and is now able to be around though still quite weak from its effects.

A SNAP.—The North Grey License Commissioners had only two licenses to issue in their territory this year, such is the extent of Local Option restriction. Recent legislation prevents the buying of kegs from breweries and otherwise hampers attempts to evade the law. Temperance sentiment is making steady progress.

SATURDAY A "DRY" DAY.—Saturday was a sorry day to many of our townsmen. The new Liquor Act went into force. The most important effect, as regards Owen Sound, is to stop the sale of cases and kegs by the brewery. The "beer garden," therefore, is a thing of the past; whereas residents in its near vicinity rejoice. What its former habitues will do remains to be seen. They may endeavor to import, but that course is fraught with risk, for inspectors now have the power to seize liquors in transit; and it is up to the consignee to convince the authorities that it is not bought for re-sale.—O. S. Sun.

How very frequently does it happen that the possession at hand of a weapon is the immediate cause of the crime of homicide. Men often carry revolvers for personal protection who have no notion of using the weapon offensively, but who nevertheless in emergency do use it with results fatal both to themselves and victims. It may be allowed that a well-meaning man is safer without a weapon than with it. The fact of a man being unarmed is often of superior protection, for it allays the precipitation of a possible antagonist and compels moderation of action on his own account. The carrying of weapons under ordinary circumstances is therefore the sheerest folly, and to stop the practice of it is in the general interest of the country. Public opinion will approve the Government's amendment of the criminal code making the carrying of concealed weapons a crime punishable by imprisonment.—Ex.

BROKE HER ARM.—Little Mabel Grady, the 10 year old daughter of Mr Wm Grady, north of town, is very ill at present with pneumonia and a broken arm, caused by falling against the corner of the house in play.

The baseball meeting called for last Thursday evening did not materialize, but a town league five club schedule will probably be drawn up the end of this week. With lacrosse out of the question, baseball bids fair to boom in town this summer.

Mr. John Burgess is adorned this week with a benighted head, the result of a kick from a fractious horse. He was leading it when another horse came near at which it showed resentment suddenly by kicking out, knocking Mr Burgess down. A second kick while down struck him on the head making a cut requiring some stitching and stunning him. However he got up, his safety from a more serious if not fatal accident being attributable to the horse's unshod feet. He will soon be all right again.

STRIKE AVERTED.—What looked like a serious strike amongst the dock hands at Owen Sound was averted a few days ago by both C. P. R. Company and the men taking advantage of the Lemiex Act, and submitting their differences to arbitration. The company met the men by raising the rate by 1 cent an hour on two of the grades of work, the demand of the men was for a raise of at least 5 cts an hour on all three grades. The threat that freighters would be sent to Goderich, Midland or Collingwood to unload was no doubt a factor in bringing about peace.

Will Camp at Owen Sound.

The Militia Department have this year issued new regulations regarding the Military training camps. A number of regiments among which are the 31st of Grey and 35th of Simcoe, will train at home this summer in their respective regimental headquarters instead of at Niagara. The idea is to save transportation expenses or at least reduce them to a great extent. The 31st are slated to train at Owen Sound from June 28 to July 10. The county town papers are somewhat elated at the prospect of having a training camp in their midst with full regimental strength, 350 men. However we would be surprised to see much over half the number gather here, Niagara is always a great drawing-card to the young blood, and as the Toronto Star points out, the home camp will be a severe detriment to recruiting; "few young fellows will be bothered leaving the farm or the shop to put on a red tunic, and get under canvas beside some small stream that runs within earshot of their everyday lives."

The Star further says: "A dozen helps and aids to military training that are in evidence at the big camps at Niagara must be missing from the small one-horse regimental camp at the county town. The inspiration of the greater camp, the new scenes, the rivalry of other regiments, the example of the regulars, the opportunities of working with other branches of the service, the presence and assistance of auxiliary corps—these are a few of the advantages of brigade or divisional camps which the regimental stay-at-home camps must struggle along without."

Obituary

HUGH MACKAY.

This, Wednesday morning, 12th of May, there passed away peacefully at his home here, Mr Hugh MacKay, at the ripe age of 72 years. For weeks back he has been confined to his bed, and gradually got weaker from a dropsical complaint. The end was foreseen for some time, yet his removal makes a gap in the lessening number of old Durhamites, which calls for passing notice.

Deceased is the last member of a large family of brothers who emigrated from Sutherlandshire, Scotland, in the fifties of last century. Hugh with another brother started business in a small way in Toronto and about 40 years ago came to Durham and went into the hotel business, being remembered by many as long proprietor of the Argyle Hotel which stood where McGrath's blacksmith shop now stands. Giving up that business he took out an Auctioneer's license and for many years had a great run at that work. For the last two or three summers he had a bush-rangering position under the government in New Ontario.

He was a man of a vigorous constitution, seldom was ill all his life, and an enthusiastic Scot. He was a member of the Sons of Scotland Society and of the Orange Society also, and his forethought in this line will comfort his heirs.

Mr MacKay was twice married. One son, George and two daughters, Mrs Gilmour and Mrs Brann, Lorraine, Ohio, remain of the first union. William, Hugh, and Maggie are dead. By the second wife there are three daughters, Bessie, (Mrs Chapman) Annie, and Mary. Mrs — (nee Matilda Telford) a step-daughter, is expected from the Pacific coast, but has not arrived in time to see him alive.

The funeral will take place on Saturday at 3 p. m. to Durham Cemetery.

MR ANGLUS CAMERON.

We announced the illness of this gentleman last week, and our issue was not long off the press till the sad word came to his daughter here that he was dead. Mrs Cameron had gone west the week previous and got to Lethbridge, where Mr Cameron was in a hospital, on 1st of May. From Saturday till Thursday she was able to furnish kindly ministrations but death was in the cup and that day, he passed away, his wife and their two sons being near. The trouble was as we indicated an acute attack of pneumonia. He was interred in the west and thus only the fragrance of the memory of a loving husband and father will remain to his loved ones here. Mrs Cameron will remain in the West for some time, disposing of his affairs.

For several years Mr Cameron has spent his summers in Dakota, where he had a farm and was fairly successful. Only last year he decided to cross over into his own Canada, and in southern Alberta he had picked his homestead, not far from Lethbridge. Mr Cameron came of a sturdy Highland stock, and left his native land with his family when but eight years of age. He took his share of the pioneer work in Glenelg and disposing of his farm there moved to town a number of years ago. Three brothers survive him: Neil at Bunnasin, John in N. Dakota, and Archie in Kansas. Sisters of deceased are Mrs John McArthur, Glenelg, (lately widowed) and Mrs Dugald Bell, Port Egan. To Mr and Mrs Cameron were born four children, Will and Alister, who both went west recently, Annie in London, Ont., and Agnes at home. To these add all the mourners will be extended sympathy.

Mr Cameron was a member of the Baptist Church and his kind and obliging disposition, coupled with his integrity made him valued as a neighbor and friend.

MISS S. R. HOPKINS

"Thou hast all seasons for thine own." O! Death!

This assertion of the poet was strikingly illustrated last week when after a few days' illness from an attack of pneumonia Miss Selma Roben, Hopkins, youngest daughter of Mrs Geo. Hopkins of the 2nd Con., Bentinck, was taken away.

This sudden bereavement will fall as a heavy blow on her widowed mother, from whom she has seldom or never been separated, and who has been her chief companion, since the father's death some five years ago. Saturday previous she was in Durham and went home not feeling well. A doctor was secured but skill and care did not arrest the hand of death and at the budding and hopeful age of 17 years, 8 mos., the young spirit took its flight.

The funeral on Friday drew a large concourse of sympathizing mourners. Rev. Mr. Rice conducted impressive services and the remains were taken to the little Hutton Hill cemetery where her father sleeps. Beside her mother the chief mourners are, sisters, May, Mrs. Peter McIlvride in Manitoba: Winnie, Mrs Christie, also in the West; Cella, Mrs Mighton, and Lily Peari who is a teacher; brothers are Alexander, Darling and Robert G. To the mourners near and far, we extend sincere sympathy.

MRS. JOHN SMITH

It is our sad duty to report the death of an old and respected neighbor, in the person of Mrs John Smith, near Crawford, Bentinck township, who passed away on Tuesday, 4th May, aged 72 years. For some time she had not been strong, but three weeks before her death she became much worse, and the end came. She lived on Lot 23, Con. 9, for 45 years. All who knew her held her in high esteem as a good Christian and an upright lady. She survived her husband by 10 years.

She was born in County Antrim, Ireland and came to this country about forty seven years ago with her family of whom their now remain only two sisters, Jane, Mrs Boyd, of Bentinck, and Margaret, also a Mrs Boyd, of Manitoulin Island. Two sons and three daughters remain to cherish the memory of a kind, affectionate and sympathetic mother: John in the west, Mrs John McDonald, Aberdeen, and Misses Nancy and Ellen at home with James. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community in their sad loss.

She was buried on 6th inst. in Latona cemetery, Rev. Mr Ockley, Methodist minister of Elmwood conducting the services.—Com.

Open to all Phones.

The railway commission has handed out a very important judgment defining a general rule under which independent or other telephone companies may be allowed to install their lines in railway stations without regard to the fact that such are already served by the lines of another company.

The question has long been agitated, the railways, most of them served by the Bell Co., opposing the independent lines being admitted. The judgment is a win for the independents.

The application came from the People's Telephone Co. of Sherbrooke, and Caledon, Ont., Telephone Co., for orders compelling the railways to permit them to place their telephones in the stations already served by the Bell Co.

The general principle is laid down that if a telephone company's instruments are in general use in the district surrounding the station, and if it would be of substantial convenience to the public having business with the railway, while not unduly oppressive to the latter, the applications should be granted subject to an agreement the general form of which is prescribed.

It provides that the charge for the privilege shall be $1 a year, that the railway company shall have free use of the instrument that the telephone company may remove the line on 30 days' notice.

In case of more than two companies seeking such privileges, a special application to the commission is required. Years ago, The World began the battle for this privilege, when the application of an independent telephone company for a location in the C. P. R. station at Locust Hill became, through the efforts of this newspaper, a cause celebre. The struggle with begun has now been crowned with complete victory.
