I find that I cannot. I don't know what I am going to do. I must send this money to my sister, and I have only a big bunch of small bills. It won't do to put them in an envelope." Gov. St. John rose to the bait just as if he had never braved the dangers of such great cities as Topeka or Wichita. "I can let you have two twenties," he The offer was accepted. Mr. St. John stranger handed over a roll in return. Seeing that he was dealing with a stranger Mr. St. John carefully counted the contents of the roll. He found that

t contained seven $1 bills and one $5 "You have made a mistake," he said. "There is not enough money here." The stranger, who in the meantime had placed the two twenties in an envelope and sealed it, was all apologies. "That's a joke on my wife," he explained. "She gave me that roll and told me that there was $40 in it. Here, you just hold this envelope while I go back and get the rest of the money.' The Governor put the envelope in his pocket and resumed his study of the landscape. Finally he bethought him that the stranger had never come back. Then Mr. St. John opened the envelope. It contained only two pieces of tissue paper,-St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Question of Scoring in Bridge Whist, It is the duty of every player to keep the score for both sides, and to keep it correctly. If he knows that his opponents have three aces in a "no trump" game, he is bound to score them thirty points above the line, whether they claim it or not, or whether they score it or not. At the end of the rubber the scores are added up, and the winners generally announce how much they make it. If one of the opponents makes it more or less, he should say at once, "I do not agree," and the scores will then be compared and put right. For a player to accept his opponents' score without saying anything, when he himself makes it more, is perilously akin to

The question has once more arisen as to whether a player at bridge is bound to correct his opponents' score, if they do not claim as much as they are entitled to, either for honors or for tricks. It is generally in the "no trump" game that the point occurs. Perhaps the dealer and his partner have three aces between them, but they do not claim anything for honors, o. the dealer wins four by cards but only claims three; are his opponents bound to put him right? There can be only one answer to this question. Certainly they are bound to do so-in ordinary fairness, if not according to the strict letter of the law. There is no mentjon of the case in the laws, because it was not considered necessary to state anything so obvious .--W. Dalton in the June Strand Magazine,
