RAMBLES THROUGH GLENELG.

By the Assessor. Continued from last week.

From Dornoch we travel down the second con. to the Morriens. The old gentleman, Mr Peter Morrison, is one of the pioneers of that part and as he never got married he shares his extensive property with his nephew John Morrison, where we always received the kindest reception from Mr and Mrs Morrison. Down the hill south is Isiah Melosh and although Mr Melosh is not quite as old as the old Prophet he is getting up in years all the same. Going back to the gravel, the old log house where the Latona Post Office was kept sixty years ago, is yet quite fresh. The old postmaster was Mr Appleby, now the place is occupied by Mr John Ray formerly of Priceville. Near here is the old graveyard where many of the old pioneers' ashes are mixed with the sands of their narrow beds. Of these many had experienced the hardships of the early days some probably carrying their provisions from Fergus or some other nearer points. Now as there is nothing visible but the mounds that cover their decayed bones and some of the old tumble down buildings that tell of the resting place of those brave men and women who braved the forests of the Garafraza Road in the early forties. Down the road was the residence of the late John Cameron who died some years ago at Bottinow, Dakota. Of these many had experience in company with the late Henry Farr about fifty years ago. The farm is the property of Mr Dan McDougall, Mulock, now. As it was getting towards dinner time we deviated from our path and crossed into Bentinck side and landed in the comfortable home of our friend, Mr Duncan McArthur and sisters, where we got craving appetite appeased after being exposed to the forenoon's storm. Mr McArthur's place was Mr Malcoln Cameron's who was well and favorably known in Bentinck and Glenelg but now of Dakota.

Going back east again we come to the Glenelg road where once a flourishing business was done by the old firm of N. G. & J. McKechnie of Durham, in the saw mill business but at a stand still now; there are large piles of lumber there yet and the mills are in good condition and a full water privilege. The Messrs McKechnie will likely be starting business there again in this locality. They own a large tract of land and their total assessment in the township is over $9000.00. A little northwest is the McCormicks, residence once of the late John Smart at the age of 92 years and a number of years as collector for the whole township away back in the sixties. Gillen Boyd, another old settler and the residence of Peter McLunes who served as councillor but now of Sarawak near Owen Sound, Kingston Heights commands a view of the country round about for a long distance and a person getting to the top would almost imagine he was half way up to the better country. Near here was the residence of Mr Kenneth McKenzie who left a number of years ago. The old gentleman is yet quite smart at the age of 92 years. Down the second we come to the residence of Wm Ritchie who served as councillor and assessor for a few years. Mr Ritchie has a fine farm, on the corner of his lot is the School House of Section No. 3. On the other side of the road was the residence of the late Wm Morrison one of the well-known officials of the township for long time being councillor, deputy reeve and assessor for some 10 or 15 years away back in part of the fifties, sixties and seventies. Mr Morrison died over 20 years ago. Now the place is owned by his son James Morrison. Going back again to the Garafraza we strike on Tobermory. The name was taken from some place in Mall, Scotland but the proprietor Mr McLean knows better as he came from that part of the old land whether it was so or not. Now we will quit for this time for there is no use in crowding the Editor too much.

The interest of the farm is peace.—The Sun.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor of the REVIEW: Dear Sir:—

In your report of the minutes of the Town Council contained in last week's Review you mention a controversy between the Mayor and Reeve in which the Reeve justifies himself for giving away cement blocks this year, belonging to the town, one reason being that I gave away blocks last year. If he made this statement I beg leave to state that it is absolutely false as I did not give away any blocks and as far as I know there was not any given away by any other person. A report was brought before the Council last year either in the month of June or July in which the Ag' Society offered to remove the broken cement blocks covering the sidewalk along side of the Cream Separator Plant which was accepted by the Council as it saved the town the expense of removing this debris. At the same time orders were issued that all whole or sound blocks should be piled up along side of the building and I believe this was strictly adhered to. Thanking you for space I am, Yours truly W. CALDER.

The Farm and War.

Let one more fact, in connection with the clamor for armaments, be clearly understood: The cost of such outfit falls wholly on producers, and in this country farmers are the chief producers. To the contractors such expenditures bring riches; to the politician the swelling expenditures and multiplication of offices bring patronage. To the producer—the farmer—the end is toil without reward.

On Wednesday last Mr Wm McMurdo and Miss Minnie Wilson were joined in wedlock at the Latter Day Saints' Church. The young couple left that evening to spend their honeymoon with Toronto friends.

On the same evening the home of Mr and Mrs James Knox was the scene of another of those pleasant events when in the presence of a few near relatives, their daughter Mabel was joined heart and hand to Mr Will McCormick.

Mr Neil McCannel of Durham, called on friends here on Wednesday evening and was accompanied home next morning by his mother who had been spending a few days with her daughter Mrs N. McMillan.

Mr George and Miss Ethel Campbell visited Priceville friends on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs T. Ryan of Normansby, Sundayed with Mr and Mrs R. J. Hanam.

It is our sad duty to chronicle the death of Mr Charlie Haw who died this morning (Monday).

Are you satisfied with your position? Have you stopped to think how many have passed through Mount Forest Business College to the very positions you like?

Swinton Park

Intended for last week.

Mr J. Alderson took a trip to Corbetton on Monday and brought home a fine driver which for style and speed is hard to excel. J. says that with a little training he will not be afraid to put him on the track with anything that ever wore hair, wool, feathers or diamonds, for fun, money or marbles.

J. T. McMurdo has also invested in a fine colt and whole new driving outfit. Jack never does things by halves.

Another football match was played between Swamp College and Swinton Park on Tuesday of last week, ending up without any score being made. The College boys are fast coming to the front, for which we think a large portion of the credit is due to the enthusiasm shown by the young ladies who accompanied them from the College and cheered their braves to victory.

The A. Richardson Co. have moved their mill from Dawson to Beer St. to save Dan McCormick's winter cut of logs.

Mr J. E. McLeod of Collingwood visited over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Neil McMillan.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs McMillan's, Sr, illness and hope to hear of her speedy recovery.

W. Kinsman visited his uncle Wm. Wheeler, New England Sunday evening. This Week's Budget.

Anniversary service will be held in the Presbyterian church, Sunday the 20th. On the 22 the annual Garden Party will be held on Mr Knox's lawn. A high-classed entertainment will be given in the church in the evening.

During the storm which passed over this section Sunday evening Mr J. Campbell had a cow killed by lightning. We have not heard of any farther damage.
