In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be the Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart of Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart of Kidneys. The old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to dose the failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual causes of the failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by MacFarlane & Co.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—ever from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the throat with a cough cure. Don't blindly suppress it with a stopping powder. It's strange how many people continually warm people not to take cough medicine or prescriptions containing Opium, mixtures of prescriptions containing Opium, mixtures of prescriptions containing Opium, mixtures of prescriptions containing Opium.

Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure

Wedded Thirty Years.

Last week's Port Arthur Chronicle records a delightful function at the home of Inspector and Mrs John Ritchie of that place on the occasion of the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage. Their many friends around here will join with us in extending felicitations to them. Here is how it is done in Port Arthur:

The guests were received by the host and hostess, who stood together at the entrance to the drawing room, and extended most cordial greetings to all. Mrs Ritchie had donned for the occasion a most becoming costume of dark blue striped chiffon broadcloth, with yoke and front of Brussels lace. Mr and Mrs Will Ritchie looked most charming in white silk and chiffon. Miss Ritchie, the fair daughter of the house, as usual looked very pretty in a lovely lingerie frock of lace and small enamel in Princess, and trimmed with bands of embroidery and ball fringe.

In the supper room, whether after offering felicitations, the guests found their way. Mrs Hugh Raney and Mrs A. G. Smith, presided at a table that was centred with a shower of la France roses, and lit by candles in crystal vases. Mrs Raney, looking handsome in black director silk with a very beautiful violet hat, poured tea, and coming violet hat, poured tea, and Mrs Will Ritchie looked over the and marguerites, pressed over the and wearing a chic suit of tan linen and Irish lace, with a smart hat of coral, flower and forget-me-nots of coral, served the liver. A bevy of pretty girls, the Misses Ironside, Burk, K. Evans, E. Vignar, Henders, Hurley and Dickson, and Mrs Mayhew, who were a very charming group of assistance, giving to all who were duty bound in seeing that all were duly served, and little Marian Sutherland opened the door. About ten o'clock guests wished Mr and Mrs Ritchie long life and happiness, and the occasion, giving to Mrs Ritchie a very pretty sunburst of pearls and amethysts, and to Mr Ritchie a beautiful study lamp.

Mr Ritchie responded, thanking the friends on behalf of Mrs Ritchie and himself, said what pleasure it gave them to be so kindly remembered, and referred most feelingly to the happy life he and Mrs Ritchie had enjoyed for thirty years. Other short speeches were made by Mayor Matthews, Mr J. W. Morgan, P.D.G.M., then, Mr J. A. Morgan, P.D.G.M., principal of the Fort William collegiate, and Rev. Dr. Murray.
