Diamond Wedding Celebration.

Tuesday last the home of Mr and Mrs Daniel Coleridge, Egremont, was the scene of one of the rarest of events in human experience, viz: a reunion of their family to celebrate the completion of sixty years of married life.

On the far gone day of the 31st of March, 1849 the now aged couple were married in Devonshire, England, and a few weeks after set sail for Canada to face life under new conditions. They came to Hamilton and after a few years there they ever since been.

The exact date was, then, last 31st of March but the reunion was put off till a summer day. All of their children could not get there (as they did four years ago) but there was seven of them present, with wives, husbands, children and grand children, who spent a very pleasant day, enjoyed two meals together, gave toasts and congratulations, sang, chatted and played together as in yore olden time and then with tender good bys and good wishes separated, carrying pleasant memories of a rare event. Though both over four score, the aged parents are in fair health and greatly enjoyed the occasion. Their family circle of 10 children has never been broken and these with grand and great-grand children rise up and call them blessed.

The eldest grand-child, Mrs Wickham, Walter's Falls, with husband and two children were there making four generations. Mr Coleridge is the last of a family of 12, six of Mrs C's family are still alive.

Camp Sarawak, Owen Sound

June 30th, '09

After an uneventful leave taking from Durham and arriving at McWilliam, where we took on another soldier, we proceeded stopping again for a minute or two in McArthur's fields at Bunesan where the pump on the engine refused for the time being to work properly. The band were busy playing at the time but the difficulty had to be rectified there and then. Priceville and the Junction were duly saluted and passed, staying at the latter place for four hours, some tramping the track for Flesherston, others going down the line towards Proton Station.

Arriving at O. Sound a weary and dusty tramp was taken to the camp grounds, some three miles out north west of Brooke, military etiquette bidding the use of the sidewalk, and the streets leading to the camp not having an acquaintance with the water wagon, it may be imagined how 2 in 1 and all other famous boot polishes were soon put in the shade.

Their uniform and countenance eyes were such that their names might easily have been written upon each one.

The general feeling towards the grounds so far is one of satisfaction, a fine level stretch owned by the Government with a rifle range and firing points up to 1000 yds. in length just alongside, a fine spring about 100 yds. distant has been piped and brings the water fresh and pure right into the grounds: a telephone on the grounds is also a convenience for ordering goods. &c.

A fine, quiet, unobtrusive Camp, everything in good going shape all tents including large mess tent and tables are up. Flesherston Co. some 10 strong, were brought to the station by Lt. Richardson and Sgt. Bellamy, the men from there being sent on under the care of Capt. Snider, Sgt. Bert Martin the two former mentioned, returning to town.

The drawing influence of historic Niagara's fine commons and Camp grounds is felt by all the Co's on this occasion. The Band is giving good satisfaction, quite an improvement on last year, I hear it said. They have no long march up the line before breakfast or at bedtime. A half day's outing is held out to-morrow for town, when the men must be shaved and hair clipped and look spruce generally.

Football is the most fashionable sport here so far, a shooting match is spoken of with sides chosen by Col. Gleib and Major Chisholm on the first of July. The afternoon drill for that day is put off on account of holiday. Many are going to town, some are visiting friends in the country.

A carry-all sent up from town last night did not secure many passengers at 25 cents for the round trip. The Grand Trunk running alongside affords an interesting sight to those who care for it in the passing of many trains, passengers, freight and mail. The food supplies are being contracted for by the officers of the Regt. this year, the Government allowing 25 cents per day per man for the purpose, another new item for the pay sheets added.

Friday afternoon, no drill on account of rain, proved a half holiday like the day preceding on account of our natal day. A lecture by Musketry instructor Horke was given instead, in the large Marquee, on the use of the rifle in handling and aiming and other facts in connection with it. The instructor who is also Major though not on duty as such this year, thoroughly understands his business and makes it quite interesting.

A service after tea on Friday evening on the parade ground by Chaplain Ardill, who gave a short address on the 23rd Psalm, was very favourably commented upon not only for its excellence but for the innovation, as being something new in camp on a week night.

A corporal's guard is mounted daily 3 men and a Sgt. for our safe keeping through the silent watches. The requirements for efficiency pay is looked upon as rather severe, in requiring a first man to take an average of outers 14, 2nd year man an average of Magpies 21, and a 3rd year man one of inners 28, in 7 shots at a 6-inch bull's eye. It can't be done by the best old shots on the grounds with a new and strange rifle. More dissatisfaction is felt every year at the way military matters are being run. In addition to the above, is the messing allowance of 25 cents per day per man, which is looked upon as being too little.

A visit to Mr and Mrs Alex. Adair, late of Egremont, found the comfortably occupying a large and handsome mansion not far from O. S. with a fine view of the bay: they enjoy it greatly as well they may.

Canned Goods

We do not sell our CANNED goods at less than wholesale prices.

Our Price

Canned Peas, Corn and Tomatoes, 10c per can. This price is right. We invite all the people in town and country who are ANGRY enough to give us honest equivalent for what they use, to come to us for canned goods.

We cannot afford to sell canned goods at less than their actual cost, and hence in our time and energy as a bonus.

Come to us for Canned Goods. Our prices are right. The truth may be BLAMED, But can never be SHAMED

Mrs C. McArthur

Tragic Drowning.

Hanover was stirred to its depths last week over the death of Miss Alice Wright by drowning. She was a niece of Mr. John Wright of this town. We copy the following from last week's Post:

Shortly after 7 o'clock on Monday 28th June a gay and light hearted party of four young Hanoverians, Miss Alice Wright and Laura Whitaker and Messrs. Laura Woodward and Paul Bretz, canoed down the Saugenee river to bathe. They got out of the canoes at the swimming point off Mr. McCreagh's property where the beach is fine and the water deep. It is situated near the spot where local camping parties have bivouacked in recent years. The late Miss Wright possessed the feat of swimming which few girls delight in, and in company with Mr. Woodward attempted to swim across the river. They had got little beyond the centre of the river, when he heard a moan and on turning around saw that his companion was in distress. He quickly swam to her assistance, and Miss Wright now thoroughly exhausted was unable to help herself further. Laund put up a plucky fight to rescue her, and the young couple went pitifully under the water and to the surface again some six times. In the meantime Mr. Bretz had come up in his canoe and as Laund clutched the boat with one hand, the young girl's form slipped from his grasp, sank and never rose again. Laund tried to swim to her, but was rescued by Mr. Bretz with great difficulty. It might very easily have been a double or even a triple drowning. All this time—it was only a few minutes actually but to the solitary figure, Miss Whitaker, on shore it seemed an eternity. She could not swim a stroke and to stand there a helpless eye witness of the whole tragedy must have been awful.

Mr. Bretz and Miss Whitaker canoed to town and gave the alarm and very soon the river was full of craft and divers looking for the poor girl's remains, while a couple of hundred or more townsfolk stood on the bank watching the gruesome proceeding. The accident took place about 7.45, and it was nearly 10 o'clock before the corpse was recovered in deep water about 30 feet from the shore.

Miss Wright was in her 25th year, a professional nurse of high standing and was engaged to be married shortly. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wright.
