REPUBLICAN LEADER,

While a member of the Cortes in 1903 Senor Leroux broke with the party because it joined with the Catalonian Solidarists, which included the Carlists, whom he opposed on the ground that they stood for maintenance of a monarchist regime and clerical reaction, Last year, after a series of bitter articles against the Government, he was condemned to two year's imprisonment, but fled to Brazil. Despite his condemnation of the Republicans he was re-elected to Parliament at the last elections, and is now on his way home again to assume leadership. The Government has issued orders that he be arrested immediately on landing on Spanish soil.

CAN THE RICH KEEP COOL IN NEW YORK

WHILE POOR ARE DYING WITH THE HEAT Many of New York's rich escape the heat by going to cooler climes during the hot spells, or to the ocean. But the rich who remain in the city don't suffer.

The homes of Carnegie, Morgan and other millionaires are fitted with cooling apparatus, and blasts from miniature icebergs sweep through their rooms. The great hotels, St. Regis, Astor, Waldorf-Astoria and many others are cooled in the same way.

The finest type of roof garden has just been opened at the Astor Hetel. No matter how much money you have, you can't get up there without a special card.

The garden covers 28 city lots. Terraces, flowers, palms, trees and fountains are bathed in breezes that are blown from out a huge ice plant, A great promenade, one-fifth of a mile in length, borders the roof Three and sometimes four orchestras play in these 28 city lots, and the gardens are so arranged that the music of one orchestra does not clash with that of another. Dining rooms fit for a king, are in the garden, and here, while the city beneath swelters, the man with the money finds absolute comfort-all the more sweet to him because it is a comfort wrested from nature for him by his money.

Although District Attorney Jerome announced at the close of yesterday's session of the sanity hearing that he was "through" with Harry K. Thaw, he recalled him to the stand this morning.
The "two or three more questions" which Jerome remarked yesterday he might still have for the relator, proved to be a long string.

The District Attorney started his examination along the lines that thus far have yielded his side the best results. He probed into Thaw's own ideas of his mental condition and contrasted his answho at various times pronounced him insane. Thaw clung to his oft-repeated phrase that he was "not medically insane," although he might have been "legally" so when he killed White. Jerome was primed with the various opinions of the experts, but Thaw seemed to have them just as accurately fixed in his mind, and once or twice corrected the prosecutor.

The court room was even warmer than yesterday and Thaw had worked with his counsel until 10.30 last night examining a bundle of Jerome's documentary evidence which he expected to have to explain to-day. Nevertheless he presented the air of a man whose task is over. His replies exhibited a calm confidence that showed he was satisfied with his previous showing and sure that he was a match for the District Attorney. He exhibited no nervousness and less anxiety to display his mental acumen than on former occasions.

"Well," began Jerome, "here were all | The individual and team money taken these trained specialists who thought by Canadians amounts to $4,398. vou were insane?" "Not all of them," interrupted Thaw.
