PERSONAL MENTION

Dr. Dixon of Priceville, was a visitor in town Tuesday. Mr. R. A. Kelly, Toronto, is spending his holidays at home. Mr. Arch. Davidson, of Owen Sound, is spending holidays at home. Mr. Robt. Hughes, of Owen Sound, is holidaying at his home here.

VETERANS OF LAST OWEN SOUND CAMP

Some old boys who remember the Regimental Camp of 1878. The cut above is of more than passing interest, not merely to military enthusiasts but to those with leanings towards history, for it recalls events of over thirty years ago. In September, 1878, the 31st Regiment performed its annual "twelve days" training in Owen Sound. The camp was pitched at the north of the pleasure ground, and the soldiers did their musketry training on the old ranges on the East Hill, just above the Imperial cement works. Lt.-Col. Brodie was the commanding officer. Considering the many changes since that time, one would scarcely expect to find anyone in the regiment that could remember that camp; so it was quite a surprise to find that there were three members of the camp but not only remembered it, but had been there. The three veterans are Col. Sgt. Robt. Torry, of Durham; Sgt. Wm. Govey, Meaford; and Pte. Geo. Haines, Meaford. All three recall distinctly the camp of '78, and can relate many interesting incidents of it. All look good for many years yet, despite their length of service.

Continued from page 1. from crossing admitted to Mr. Lucas, he had signed a statement in presence of C. P. R. representative, you have given a written statement to C. P. R. representative and you can't go back on it." It was one of Lucas's questions, admitted he had been drinking but not to the extent of being slow. He said he did not exceed 20 miles an hour, to reduce from 18 or 20 to 8 or 10 miles an hour would take about 85 feet. Mr. Patterson had no particular job on the engine and admitted he rang the bell, could give no idea of rate per hour but "thought we were going pretty fast, stopped about car length past the crossing fence, train began to slow down about time it whistled for Durham road crossing, in answer to Mr. Scarf said he did not consider Hutton Hill crossing a safe one. Mr. John Medcalf was coming up Hutton Hill towards Durham at the time, heard the bell thought, it was running pretty fast, saw Mr. Dunsmoor turning corner ahead of him, but at a distance that he did not know him, but at moment of seeing him could not see the engine or any part of it, though, thought it was a uniform speed. Mr. Chris. Sherman was sitting on fireman's seat and the whistle and the brakes was the first he knew of something wrong. He turned to Mr. Patterson and said "William we have killed a man," he felt no jar. Mr. E. A. Hay, C. P. R. station agent explained the system of orders given on the type writer, the Railway Commission had been here and subsequently the "Slow" boards were put up. He knew they had to run slow here by time card, and no charge to lights but they were every night by section men, he thought. Mr. David Donnelly sees every train passing except at night, this one was going so fast it drew his attention, though it was going twice as fast as an ordinary passenger train, was sure bell was not rung when passing him, he was crossing from gate to gate across the tracks, observed that he saw train three quarters of a mile away, usually he could have crossed easily, this time he had to hustle and yell to his wife to get to the road and he remarked to her that he thought they were all full. Mr. Jas. Morris was sitting on back of tender and first he knew Hillis was thrown across tracks, he thought it stopped 10 rods from crossing, was running at a fair rate, but hadn't noticed speed until Hillis was thrown against him. Mr. Whitechurch recalled said he was about one car length from track when he saw horses' noses, knew then an accident was unavoidable, horses probably 8 or 9 feet from the rail when he saw them. Mr. Thos. C. Murton was riding on the tender part of the way, on flat car at time of accident, couldn't tell the speed, he felt the brakes go on, noticed it slow down and he thought there was no better place to go than to Walkerton Business College, Yours Truly (Adv.) Testimonials

Continued from page 1. you I found the work most thorough. The teachers were careful and painstaking. I am sure your schools are superior to many others in Ontario and I will always be glad to say a good word for you, and wherever I may be located in future I will do what I can to advance your interests in every way, than most of them. I wish you success, I am, Yours truly, (Miss) A. BODDY. Dear Sir: I was a student at your school after I had given up Public School teaching, through the northern part of the course of instruction I have received, I have seen many graduates of other schools, and from what I have observed, am certain that your graduates are more competent in every way, than most of them. Trusting that the good work may continue and that you may do for me many others what you have done for me, I remain, Yours truly, CORA MCKAY. Dear Sir: Allow me to say a few words in regard to your schools. I am able to say that with the instruction received in your school I have been qualified as a competent bookkeeper and expert stenographer. As soon as I completed my course at Walkerton Business College I obtained a position in Toronto at a good salary, and I may say that I am now at the rate of seventy five words per minute in one hour continuous writing. There must be a reason for this and I would advise any young person who is thinking of entering a Commercial School to investigate Walkerton Business College, Yours Sincerely, WILL PENNELL. Dear Sir: I desire to express my thorough appreciation of your course of instruction in Shorthand and Commercial work which I received at your school. When I graduated and was placed in a position I found that I had been well drilled and had no difficulty in qualifying for the work. The little time spent in your school will always be a green spot in my memory, for the work was pleasant and interesting, and I formed many happy friendships with my fellow students, that I trust will continue for many years to come. Wishing you and your school the splendid success you deserve, I remain, Yours Very Truly, CLARA CHATREAU. Dear Sir: It is great pleasure to me to be able to recommend your course of instruction in Shorthand and Commercial education. Before entering your College I worked on the farm and since I have completed my commercial course was assisted to my present position in the Express Office of the C. P. R. at Walkerton. I can assure anyone contemplating getting a business education that there is no better place to go than to Walkerton Business College, Yours Truly (Adv.) JAS. FERRIS

HAIL STORM AT LESTWELL.—Mrs Jno. Graham returned Monday from visiting her brother at Sarnia. She had the unusual sight at Listowel of seeing a severe hail storm, which badly beat down the corn and grain crops. Handfuls of hail could be gathered on the platform. LET THERE BE LIGHT.—Throughout the present season the band, on condition of receiving its town grant, is faithfully furnishing a musical program each Thursday evening at MacFarlane's corner. Last Thursday evening however, with their own lamp torches not in connection with the band was a disadvantage in having to render their program on the sidewalk with what store light was available. It would be a small matter for the Council to arrange to have the large arc light lowered for the hour, thus furnishing excellent light, and assisting the band in the better rendering of the music.

MORE LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGNS.—In addition to three of our neighboring townships, Bentinck, Glenora and Holland, the incorporated villages of Dundalk and Shelburne have decided to fall in line and inaugurate local option campaigns. In Orangeville a petition with the signature of 318 rate-payers has been presented to the council, asking that body to take the necessary steps to submit a by-law.

The Unity Courier, "Vol. 1, No. 8," has reached this office, sent me think by Mr J. W. Crawford, who is in that neighborhood. Many thanks. Though the paper is but two months old and the place little older, the advertisements, the locals and other features, all speak of civic pride and progress. They had had but suffered little damage therefrom. We notice the name of "Sirs Bros," in general Blacksmithing work.

Everybody took advantage of the bumper raspberry crop this season. Hundreds of pounds were disposed off to the merchants in the village and the average family has enough "preserves" in the cellar to start a jam-jam factory. The vast number of sticky kids this winter will no doubt cause a fluctuation in the same market.

A goodly number from this vicinity contemplate taking in the Excursion to the West on Thursday of this week. This is an A. I. opportunity for our young Canucks to see the glorious heritage which our fair country possesses west of the Great Lakes.

It is reported that after the Local Option meeting a fortnight ago, some of the enthusiastic supporters sampled Mine Host O'Mara's famous club whiskey. We think, however, that the rumor has no authenticity.
