PRICEVILLE FAIR CHANGED.—The dates of the Artemesia Fall Fair held at Priceville have been changed from October 7 and 8 to Thursday, Sept. 30, and Friday, October 1, so as not to conflict with other fairs. All will kindly keep these in mind.

BUSINESS EXPANDING.—Congratulations to Mr. F. W. Keely on the step he has taken in purchasing the photo galleries at Teeswater and Gornie. His Durham business will still go on, largely under his own supervision as hitherto. Mr. Keely is an artist of no mean ability, and members of his family are also experts at the business.

Flesherton Fair was held last week and in point of attendance was not we believe up to previous years. Inside and outside the exhibits were very creditable, though the fruit for a district touching on the famous cuckoo valley, was not as good as expected. Roots and vegetables were good considering the dry season. The horse was king here however and most of the afternoon was spent in judging as fine a lot of horses as usually appears at a fair.

The merchants of Kincardine purpose adopting a protective system which has proved very satisfactory in other towns whereby all accounts are collected by one man appointed for the purpose and who will also class the debtors as dead beats, slow payers, or good, and will place lists so classified in the merchants' hands for their guidance in giving credit. The collectors will have access to all the books and will thereby be able to know the standing of all debtors.—Harriston Tribune.

WINNING 'EM ALL.—Our local runners, the Vickers and D. Henry, are capturing all the laurels at the races at our neighboring fall fairs. Had they been privileged to meet Tommy Longboat in Walkerton, he might have been forced to step some to prevent his colors being lowered. After their great five mile race at our own fair last Wednesday in 27.55, Henry and Ted Vickers, along with Roy Vickers, went to Aytion next day, where the three captured first money in the relay race, Ted 1st in the 5 mile and Roy 2nd besides other events. Henry refrained from entering other than the relay so as to give his injured ribs a longer rest, but intends competing in the 5 mile event at Hanover Fair on Oct. 6th. Again on Friday the day following Aytion fair, Ted Vickers appeared at Flesherton fair, where his sprinting abilities were but little known. Here he enlightened the natives in that respect by coming in front in both races, 100 yds, and a third of a mile, though he was closely pressed in the latter. It would be an interesting contest and a great drawing card to have a test of speed against some one of the famous city runners.

Good Show at Holstein

Another great success for Egremont Agricultural Society was scored on Tuesday—some say the greatest ever,—and President J. C. Adams, Secy-Treas Sharp and the band of active Directors and officials associated with them must have been deeply gratified at the result of the day. Fine weather was a factor, but as usual the chief factor was the wide spread and enthusiastic support of the township, wisely directed by the officials. In the opinion of the horse judge it was the best managed fair he had seen.

Ticket sellers estimate that about 1900 adult admissions were paid for so that there must have been over 2000 people on the ground. And it looked it between four and five p.m. The day was chilly, but everybody seemed happy. There was "old friends to meet, new ones to greet," a couple of blood thirsty shows gave a Midway appearance to the grounds, there was the sheep and swine building, every pen occupied and some outside, their being 42 pigs and 68 sheep. About 80 animals in the cattle classes, and horses, horses, everywhere, no fewer than 106 entries to be judged giving the judge a busy afternoon.

Experts say that the quality is as marked as the quantity; there were stately teams, dandy drivers, brood mare beauties, comely colts and fine fillies. Of the broad backed bulls, of the cows, and the heaves of all kinds, much could be said. The sheep classes upheld Egremont's reputation and there seems to be an increasing interest in the swine breeds.

In the hall there were constant exclamations of delight. The tiers of flowers were fresh and beautifully arranged, the exhibitors were sure finding their chief reward in the gratification they give; the fruit was weaker than we have seen it, as was roots and vegetables, there was a keen competition in grain, and we heard a lady say that the tenth commandment was broken by hundreds who looked at the abundant, the chaste and tempting array of high class edibles and she was sure only the wire and the watchman prevented the eighth commandment from being ridden over rough shod.

The mats, the cushions, the quilts, the walters of the needle work, must be imagined if not seen. There were a few more creditable specimens of painting which gave not a little trouble to the judges.

Perhaps the most unique exhibit was the display of weeds, 6 entries, all classified and beautifully arranged in some cases, representing a great amount of research and skill in mounting, and making for teachers and pupils a very fine asset of useful knowledge. It should be possible to have them placed better so that visitors could read names. &c.

NOTES

A film of a moving picture machine took fire and in two minutes, the tent was ablaze, furnishing a show not advertised.

Mr. H. H. Miller, M. P., and his late opponent Mr. R. J. Ball, gave the glad hand to friends.

We were pleased to meet on the grounds, Mr. and Mrs. James Main, who formerly resided on the Hopkins farm in Glenelg, but now in Hagersville, Ont. Mrs. Main is a niece of Mrs. Wm Lawrence and Mr. George Moore, Durham.

Durham Regimental Band was engaged for the day and gave good satisfaction. Many compliments were received for their liberality with their music, as well as for quality and variety.

Concert tickets were all sold by 7.30 p.m., the receipts being about $135.

The village looks progressive and its people are proud of their big day. Certainly visitors feel a welcome.

The hotel was more than crowded and gave good service. The Presbyterian church also supplied good meals.

Could the Directors not manage to have names entered on prize tickets? Prize List on page 8.

It will pay you to buy your Fall and Winter Clothing at the Big Store. Big reductions. Get our prices.

Neil Wilson of Dornoch, recently completed a bridge known as Craig's bridge at 5th con., Sullyan, with which the council is highly pleased. The bridge is a 40 ft. span and the spiles used for the abutments are the longest ever used in the Tp.—Enterprise.

AN UNUSUAL ACCIDENT.—While with the Regimental Band at Holstein on Show Day, Frank Kolph, of the Standard Bank, the new snare drummer, met with a rather painful mishap. While stepping backward from the bandstand in the Park down to the step, he missed his footing, and fell backwards at the side of the steps to the ground on his face. In falling the end of one of the drumsticks ran into the corner of his right eye, which was swollen in a minute or two, and caused extreme pain. Dr. Brown was called on the grounds, and dressed the wounded member at the office. It is thought and hoped the sight will not be affected, though he will at least have a painful eye for a few days.

A LARGER LOAF.—In Hanover after the first of October, you can buy a 3 lb. loaf of bread for 10 cents.

Mr. Jno. McQueen delivered a piano-cased, Bell, pipe tuned organ to Mrs. R. Dargavel, Dornoch, recently.

SERVANT GIRL WANTED.—To go to Toronto. Good wages paid. Comfortable home. Apply to McKechnie's Store, Durham.

WANTED AN ONCE.—An Aytion, a number of good pick and shovel men. Wages $1.75 per day; board $3.50 per week. WENGER MILLING CO., Aytion.

Dr. Cash, veterinary surgeon of Holstein, is giving up his practice there to return to College this October. He has won a host of friends in the vicinity, whom he may be back among again next April.

THE LATE MRS. DUNSMOOR.—We announced briefly last week the death of Mrs. Nathan Dunsmoor of Rocky Saugeen. She died the 23rd inst and was interred in the cemetery near her late home two days later. She was a daughter of Mr. Jamieson who came here in the 40's of last century along with the Hunter's, and who lived for some time on a Glenelg farm just north of the town. She married Mr. Nathan Dunsmoor, who survives her and to them were born one son, Nathan, now in Owen Sound, and four daughters, one of whom Mrs. P. Mountain is dead. The others are Mrs. And. Ritchie, Mrs. Wm Wright and Mrs. Wm Vesic, and all will mourn the loss of the loving mother who on all sides is well spoken of for many exemplary traits of character. She was about 70 years of age and for a good while back has been a sufferer from a stomach trouble.

A SAD LADY.—Holstein and neighborhood is stirred by the case of a young man named Douglas Dickson, lately from England, who got a horse and buggy from Mr. Manary, lieryman, Holstein and so far has not returned with them. He had borrowed sums of money from at least three people, always $5.00, and these may be set down to Profit and Loss account. The wires were set to work and word came only on Show Day that he had been arrested in Toronto, and Mr. Manary is going there to-day to find trace of his goods. The young man is but 19 years old and has worked a month or two with Mr. McNally in Glenelg and with Mr. Geo. Marshall, Normalby. He is a young man with a splendid education, passed through Cambridge University, and an interview we had with him, would lead one to think he would be the last man to steal. We would wish there was some explanation of this wrong-doing that would still allow the young man to hold up his head, and not bring shame upon his family who are cultured people in England.

LONGBOAT MAY YET APPEAR.—Last week's Walkerton papers published letters from the President of the Exhibition and the local C. P. R. agent there, proving conclusively that Longboat had been definitely engaged to run at their fair and was only prevented by being on the train at the unfortunate wreck at Kleinburg. This made it impossible for him to get there in time to the race to be before four o'clock that afternoon. However the Directors are trying to retrieve the situation, and we may yet see Longboat run in Walkerton, with remarkably cheap railway fare. The Times says: "Arrangements are being made to give a free exhibition of Tom Longboat on the race track here in the immediate future. Sol Mintz, the manager of the fleet-footed Indian, has offered to bring the red-skin here for a nominal sum. And the C. P. R., rising to the occasion and knowing that the wreck on their line was responsible for Longboat's absence on Fair Day, has offered to bring passengers from all stations between Dundalk and Walkerton and return for 25c on the day of Longboat's appearance here. If nothing unforeseen happens the relay race with the famous Indian will shortly be an accomplished fact."

S. Grey Educational Association

October 7th and 8th

The Annual Educational Parliament of South Grey is to be held on above date and it behoves all interested in educational matters—and that means every good citizen—to sit up and take notice.

The meeting is to be in Durham, it has usually been in the School building but this year with an overflowing class of Modocites, who will want to attend, as they should do, the accommodation of any one room will be entirely inadequate and we suggest that the Town Hall be secured, very little adaptation being required.

A grand concert at popular prices is to be held Thursday evening at which first class talent is to appear, the stars being Miss Teskey, the well-known elocutionist and the famous tenor George Dixon, both of Toronto. Get there early.

The programme, just issued, extends a broad invitation to everybody: for teachers, attendance is imperative. The President is Mr. Jas. S. Rowe of Markdale; Secy, Thos. Allan, Durham. Women's Institute Co. Convention

Today, Thursday, a very interesting meeting is promised in the Town Hall, when the Institute Women of the County, strengthened by Miss L. Shuttlesworth, Toronto and another representative from head quarters, will discuss topics of live interest to women and to men also. The afternoon is for the ladies alone, both sexes in the evening.

Mrs. Breece, Chateworth, is the President, Mrs. W. H. Thurston, Flesherton, Secy-Treas. Music by Mrs. Newton, Miss Irwin and a male quartette. It's a breezy program.

WARM WEATHER CONTINUES.—Good weather still holds the boards in the West. There has been heavier frost in some of the New England states than Western Canada has experienced yet this year, and even late crops have had an excellent chance to ripen. Scarcely any damage has resulted this year from frost and reports of the crop are generally of the most encouraging character. Flour has fallen off somewhat in price as the result of certain knowledge that the wheat crop is a heavy one and city people are congratulating themselves upon the probability of cheaper bread soon.
