LESSON II,-OCTOBER 10, 1909. Paul a Prisoner-The Plot.-Acts 22: 30-23: 35. Acts 23: 11-24.

Commentary.-I. Paul before the council (22:30-23:10). The day following Paul's arrest the chief captain took him before the Sanhedrin in order to ascertain the nature of the charge against him. The scenes enacted here were very exciting. "The sight of the prisoner created such an uproar that he had to hurry him away lest he should be torn in pieces. Strange city and strange peo-ple! There was never a nation which produced sons more richly dowered with gifts to make her name immortal; there was never a city whose children clung to her with a more passionate affection; yet, like a mad mother, she tore the very goodliest of them in pieces and dashed them mangled from her breast. Jerusalem was now within a few years of her destruction; here was the last of her inspired and prophetic sons come visit her for the last time, with boundless love to her in his heart; but she would have murdered him, and only the shields of the Gentiles saved him from her fury."-Stalker.

II. The conspiracy against Paul (vs. 11. Lord stood by him-Probably appearing in a vision as at Corinth (chap. 18:9). Paul must have been exhausted by the strain and excitement of the last two days. He was alone in the desolate barracks and knew not what the future had in store for him. But just at the right time the Lord appeared to him and said, "Be of good cheer," at the same time informing him that he must preach the gospel at Rome. 12. banded together -Made an agreeemnt. under a curse-Literally, placed themselves under an vengeance upon themselves, if they failed to do the work which they undertook. earlier than hate. "It had authority to interpret the divine law, to de cide on the qualifications of priests, and to try those accused of idolatry and false prophets and heretics." The apthority to pronounce the death sentence was taken from it by the Romans, about three years before the crucifixion o Christ, Bring, etc.-Lysias was to be asked to bring Paul down from the tower of Antonia to the place where the Sanhedrin held its meetings. It is possible that Paul might have a sister residing there; though, as Paul himself had been sent there formerly for his education, it seems more probable that this young man was sent there for the same purpose.-Barnes. Heard -"The secret of the plot had too many keepers to be well kept." Into the castle -Thus it appears that Paul's friends had free access to him.

17. Paul called-He had received Christ's own promise of protection (v. 11), but he did not on that account negleet to avail himself of the ordinary means of protecting himself. God' promise encouraged him to put forth his own exertions for his security. Young man-We do not know whether this youth was a Christian or a Jew, nor do we know the means by which he discovered the plot, it is enough for us that God was pleased, on this occasion, to employ a lad as the guardian angel of the apostle.-Lange, 18.
