

HALLEY'S COMET.

The Celestial Visitor of 1835 Appearing Again.

Outside the circle of astronomers, Halley's name is known because it is attached to a comet whose orbit he calculated and whose return he predicted. This was in 1682, when Halley computed its parabolic orbit, and comparing this with the imperfect observations of comets which have appeared in 1456, 1531 and 1607, concluded that each was the same body returning from the outer regions of the solar system beyond the further known planet. He wrote:

"Wherefore, if it should return according to our calculations about the year 1758, impartial posterity will not refuse to acknowledge that this was first discovered by an Englishman." This was not only a great advance in astronomy and important in its relation to the theory of gravitation, but was a forward movement in the conception of the orderliness of the universe. Comets had been portents of war, pestilence and famine. It was indeed Halley's comet which appeared in 1607 at the time of the invasion of William the Conqueror and again in 1456 when Constantine was born. By the Turks and the crescent-shaped tail, we mightomen. Halley's comet duly appeared in 1758, somewhat retarded by the attraction of Jupiter and Saturn, its perturbations having been accurately calculated by the French astronomer, Clairaut. It appeared again 1835 and is now once more rapidly approaching the earth and the sun, having passed the orbit of Jupiter in April last.—The Popular Science Monthly for November.

TONIC TREATMENT FOR INDIGESTION

Remedies That Digest the Food
Will Not Cure the Trouble—
The Stomach Must be Fitted to do Nature's Work.

The tonic treatment for indigestion, dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach and gastritis is having remarkable success in curing obstinate cases, and deserves attention from every sufferer.

It is principles that digest the food for the stomach give relief for only a short time. Ultimately they unfit the stomach to do its own proper work, because they make it already weak powers still weaker by disease, while the remedy that strengthens the stomach makes it capable of digesting the food for itself, and this benefit is lasting. A remedy that is not only a tonic for the stomach, but for the blood and nerves as well, in vigorizes the entire system and makes recovery from the painful, rapid and thorough. Every sufferer from indigestion will find in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills just the tonic needed, as they quicken the blood, tone the stomach and enable it to do the work nature intended it should do. This has been proved in thousands of cases, and it is worth the while of every sufferer from stomach trouble to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. Mr. Edward Chatterton, Campbellton, N. B., says: "I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and stomach trouble, and although I had treatment from several doctors, I did not find a cure until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I can hardly describe how much I suffered at first. Every meal brought with it more or less agony, and I seemed to have a complete distaste for food. I had almost begun to think my case incurable when I came across a pamphlet advertising Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to have them a trial. I am very thankful that I did so, for I had not taken the Pills long before I found them helping me, and in six weeks every symptom of the trouble had vanished. I can now eat heartily almost any kind of food, and no longer experience pain and discomfort after eating."

It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, rich blood that they cure such troubles as indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, headaches and backaches, St. Vitus' dance, and other diseases of nerve troubles. They cure the irregularities of girlhood and womanhood, and bring ease, comfort and health to sufferers. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Passports in Turkey.

Before visiting Turkey one gets an exaggerated impression of the strictness of the passport regulations, but in reality they are nothing more than another device for raising revenue. To explain this I must mention that before traveling to Turkey one must get a license (tekerke), costing about five shillings and sixteen, which has to be valid for three places on route, and for each visa a fee is demanded. If one proceeds without a visa a fine is sooner or later extracted from one. In order to stop people travelling without a license a police official examines and enters in the book the particulars of all passengers by train; if anyone is found without a tekerke he is removed from the train and fined, but it is only on the trains that any supervision is exercised. On the caravan roads one is never asked so that if one wanted to travel unknown to the Government it would only be necessary to go by road.—November Wide World Magazine.

THE LIVE HOG TRADE.

"Quotations 50c. lower than week ago," remarked a packer, "are due, not to lower prices in the United States, for they are now lower there. They are due to extent due to lower prices for bacon on the old country market, for we are sending little if any bacon out of the country at present when long hams are very popular at home. But it is due to a large extent to the fact that farmers are marketing such a large percentage of unfinished, immature hogs, which are poor killers, and do not handle to good advantage in any way."

Whatever other reasons there may be, it is quite probable that packers are adapting a shortening of consumption demand at the present high range of prices and are endeavoring to get into shape to meet it in time. The fall of the year, when the plenty of vegetable foods of all kinds makes economy on the part of the bill a possibility—the beginning of the game season in England, always a slack time in the old country bacon trade, is historically associated with a drop in the price of live hogs, a drop which was always such an invitation to the farmer, who has estimated his hogs at prices current all summer, to sell, until the time when he was ready to cash them.

At the present juncture, the arrival of larger receipts of light, unfinished hogs is probably accelerated by the anticipation of the customary drop. This week the range of current quotations is as follows:

Live hogs, f. o. b. at country points. 87 60

Live hogs, fed and watered at Toronto. 7 85

Live hogs, weighed off cars, Toronto. 8 10

This, unfinished hogs, $1.00.

THE HORSE TRADE.

Without the lumber trade the horse market would be a very quiet one at the present time. City demand is quiet, although the present season should see an increased demand for all classes of city horses, especially good delivery and heavy lorry horses. With the coming of the autumn and winter season, with the heavy roads and increased local demands, and trial all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, by its healing power has earned the praise of men and women in the highest stations of life. One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly in Zam-Buk's favor is Mr. S. Sanford, of Weston, King Co., N. S. Mr. Weston is a member of the Peace for the County and a member of the Board of School Commissioners. He is also a deacon of the Baptist Church in Weston. Indeed, throughout the country it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected.

Some time back he had occasion to test Zam-Buk, and here is his opinion of this great balm. He says: "I had a patch of eczema on my ankle, which had been there for over twenty years! Sometimes it would break out on my shoulders. I had taken solutions, ointments, and trial all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, by its healing power has earned the praise of men and women in the highest stations of life. One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly in Zam-Buk's favor is Mr. S. Indeed, throughout the country it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected.

I have also used Zam-Buk for treating piles, and it has cured them completely also. I take care in helping my brother man, and if the publication of my experience with Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it, I should be glad. For the cure of piles or skin diseases, I know of nothing to equal Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk also cures burns, cuts, ulcers, hand poisoning, ringworm, scalp sores, chapped hands, cold sores, and all skin injuries and diseases. Rubbed well on to the chest in cases of colds, removes the tightness and aching. All druggists and stores sell it in 30¢ box, or post free for price, 3 boxes for $1.25.

This season has seen trade in good drivers and fancy horses of all kinds rather quiet. There have been only a very moderate number of saddleurs and carriage horses sold this season, and the trading in this line has been with rather fancy animals at attractive looking prices. The following notations are current:

Heavy draught, good to choice . . . $180 00 to $230 00

Heavy draught, fair to good 125 00 185 00

Agricultural horses, good to choice 160 00 200 00

Severely lame sound horses 15 00 60 00

PURE, NOURISHING MILK IS REQUIRED.

OUR PRESENT LAW, WHICH HAS BEEN IN FORCE FOR SOME TIME, RECOGNIZES THE STANDARD A CERTAIN TOTAL QUANTITY OF SOLIDS IN A COW'S MILK AND A CERTAIN PERCENTAGE OF FATS. FOR THE PURPOSE OF AN EXTENSION IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO GO INTO THESE FIGURES.

TO LEAVE CARS.

School Children Given Practical Pointers by Principals.

The principals in practically all the public schools in the state yesterday delivered short lectures to the pupils concerning them to the proper way to board and leave trolley cars, the dangers of stealing rides and playing on trolley tracks. These lectures were delivered in response to a circular letter addressed to the principals by President Charles O. Kruger, of the Rapid Transit Company, which was cordially endorsed by Superintendent of Schools and they were but one step in the general plan being carried out by the company in an effort to cut down the accident claim account by educating the public to look out for itself where trolley cars are concerned. His damage account has heretofore constituted one of the heavy drains on the company's gross earnings, and an earnest effort is being made to minimize it in order to achieve the longed-for point of placing the company on a sound financial basis.

MECCA FOR THE FAT.

Marienbad is a place of special interest to English people, for King Edward has now deserted Homburg, where for so many years he did his summer cure, and every August sees him installed in the Church Square at Marienbad and prepared to follow out the somewhat severe regime of the place. Twice ago this famous watering-place was scarcely known outside Germany, but now it is the greatest resort in Europe, and the size of the place is nearly a century since it was visited by such a great man as Goethe. The springs are owned by the Abbey of Tepl, a large monastery some miles away, and the good brothers evidently did not understand the art of advertisement, for the place remained practically unknown outside German-speaking countries until recent times. Then, however, the fat standard was established, and the percentages were taken up, and certain cows in the milk of Jersey cows the fat percentage is somewhat higher; other cows give milk the fat percentage of which is lower, and the requirements of the standard and is allowed to be sold unadulterated.

Now, under the present law here is what happens: Apart from the breeds referred to there are other cows whose milk, while good and nourishing, nevertheless fails to reach the standard of fats and solids as established by the law and therefore cannot be sold.

The Holstein breed of cows comes under this heading, and comes nearer to human milk than that of any other breed of cows.

The reason for this is that the emulsion of the fats in the Holstein milk is finer and more uniform than that in human milk, and therefore the fat is more easily absorbed by the body.

Therefore, to claim the law of the state in relation to milk is arbitrary and class legislation, as it bars the pure milk of certain breeds of cows in preference to that of others. It is also class legislation in that it bars certain classes of infants and children from obtaining this pure but weaker quality of milk, which is as necessary to them as the stronger milk is to the others.

The physician dealing with infants, I have many instances coming to my notice of cases where the weaker milk of the Holstein cow is the only quality the stomach of the infant will retain. The milk is pure and nourishing, and many infants thrive upon it, which could not digest any strong quality given by other brands. Yet the law will not permit the Holstein milk to be sold.—Dr. Thomas Morgan Rotch, Harvard Medical College.

CHINESE EGG EXAMINER.

The artificial incubation of duck eggs is a thriving industry in some parts of China, where a large and ready market encourages the business. The first thing to be done is to secure suitable eggs, and this is done by men who, during the summer months, go to the market to buy bacon on the old country market, for we are sending little if any bacon out of the country at present when long hams are very popular at home. But it is due to a large extent to the fact that farmers are marketing such a large percentage of unfinished, immature hogs, which are poor killers, and do not handle to good advantage in any way."
