LETTERS to the EDITOR

SUPPORT MCGOWAN BY-LAW

Mr Editor,—

Regarding the McGowan By-Law in your last issue, you tell us your columns are open to any one who wants to enlighten ratepayers or ask questions regarding said By-law. To begin with, I am one who admires pluck, energy and perseverance in a man, no matter what he is or where he comes from.

Now, Mr Editor, this is the sticking point, the one that so many of our ratepayers don't seem to understand. Let me illustrate a case a few days ago: I met a man, or rather, the man met me. He was a little raty and his first salute was "well I hear you are going McGowan's surety for $15,000."

Again the remark is made that the McGowans should not have gone into such an enterprise unless they had the money to carry it through. In going into an enterprise of this kind it is a difficult matter to count the cost and had they done so and come to the conclusion that they were far short, the result might have been that to-day we would have had no fine concrete dam, banking up the waters of the Saugueen.

There is another class who tell you that we have got the mill and why should we endorse their paper? Let them paddle their own canoe. If they can't run the mill, some one else will. Shame on you, knowing the great work they have done, that you would turn your backs upon them and leave them floundering in the mud. They say we have got the mill. Well we have got the mill and we haven't. We have got a fine building, but a fine building without the life inside of it is not a mill, and I have it from good authority if the By-Law be defented there will be no life there for how long I don't know. It may be for years or it may be forever. The grain, of which there is a pretty large amount, instead of being manufactured here, will be disposed of and sent to a foreign market. Vote against it and you strangle the industry in its infancy for a time at least. Vote for it and if carried, I am informed there are men in town who will put a few thousand into it, making it financially and other ways a strong concern. You vote for a bonus or a loan: you carry it; that money sooner or later you have to pay—you can't get out of it. This gentlemen, is a different affair of course. There is a little lottery about it—you may have to pay it. But the chances are a hundred to one that you don't. The interest upon the money amounting to $700 with a part of the principal added, to an establishment, a business such as it will be, will be but a drop in the bucket. I don't expect you will give them the medal, instead give them your vote; by so doing you will show them that you appreciate the fine work they have done. I may say here that I have no more interest in the matter than any of the rest of you. We have too many empty houses in our town and any industry having a tendency to fill up those houses it would be bad policy on our part to throw cold water upon it.

It is thought they won't employ many men, but when the establishment is in full blast, the number of men employed might astonish you. It will create a big oat market and bring farmers in that never were here before. Hoping you will all vote for the By-law, I remain, R. COCHRANE
