GRAPHIC DESPATCHES.—Mr. A. B. Lester of the Toronto Star was in town last week pushing the interests of the big big paper. He is the editor of the Star's reading Mr. Joseph T. Clark to England to write up the English election will give it a great boom, for Mr. Clark is one of the best writers and keenest observers in Canada. Already his despatches give a "view point" different, as never before. Canadians will be able to follow the momentous struggle in the old land.

GOOD POSITIONS.—Young men, young women, if you are seeking a good position, get a copy of the Business College's Jan. 3, 1910, and you will not be disappointed. There you will find the most up-to-date equipment, including New Underwood Typewriters, Gregg and Pitman Short-hand, Filing Cabinets, Loose Leaf Ledgers and Card Ledgers. As this school gives you the right to qualify as a stenographer, a secretary, or a judge of its merits. Good board may be had at $2.50 a week up.

John Brown and Fred Johnson attend last winter, John receives $75 per month in Wilcox, Sask., and Fred $8 per month, as auditor in Eaton's store, Winnipeg.

WILL DRAW UP NEW SCHEDULE.—The hockey grouping, dates, double schedule, etc., arranged for this district and printed in last week's issue, was knocked in the head last week, when information was received from the officers of the Northern League that the schedule must be drawn with Paisley included in this district. This, at the initial meeting in Hanover was not in accordance with the desires of the Durham and Hanover clubs especially, owing chiefly to the long 10 mile drive from Walkerton to Paisley and return, through lack of suitable railway connection. Accordingly the four club double schedule was then arranged. However, there is nothing for it but submit to the powers that be, so tonight, Wednesday, convener F. Irwin and Manager P. Gagnon go to Hanover again, this time to draw up a five club single schedule, comprising Durham, Hanover, Walkerton, Chesley and Paisley.

Clearing prices in Millinery at S. F. Morlock's. MacFarlane's China Sale offers some rare snags to china addicts.

Extra Special inducements in Men's Suits and Overcoats at Alex. Russell's Closing Sale.

Lost—A Ladies' charlaine, containing a small purse, some silver, a stick pin, house keys, &c. Reward at this office.

Bibles, Prayer Books and Hymn Books for all denominations. Nothing nicer for a Christmas present.

Lost—Between C. P. R. Station and Furniture factory, a gold watch. Name engraved inside. Return to Miss Ethel B. Rice, office.

The Baptist Sunday School Christmas Tree will be held in the church next Thursday evening, Dec. 23. A good program is being provided. Admission only 10 cents.

Special Christmas services next Sunday in the Methodist church. Miss M. W. Wright at the evening service will sing "But the Lord is mindful of His own," from Mendelssohn's Oratorio of St. Paul.

ALMOST ALL GONE.—Two or three weeks ago, Agnes McDermott, pianist of the Doherty Organ and Pianos which at the present time are almost all disposed of. They have been highly appreciated everywhere.

Last Thursday evening was the first night of the season for skating on the new rink, and a large number of our young people took full advantage of it. This week with the fine crisp Christmas weather and consequently good ice, both skating and hockey are booming, this Thursday being the first evening with the band in attendance.

THE OYSTERS.—At the close of the last meeting of the year Mayor Laidlaw entertained the council and town officials at an oyster supper at his residence. The work of the year was marked by the most cordial relations among members of the Council. The Mayor has made a record for promptness in opening and in closing, and in the number of meetings, only 15 having been held. These are good features, worthy of incision, and has given rise to a suggestion to elect them at the next meeting. However, this suggestion is not likely to be acted upon as far as Reeve and councilmen are concerned.

BURNED OUT.—Sunday last the home of Mr. Ronald Merritt, of the 6th Con, Glenelg, caught fire from a defective gas burner and was burned to the ground. By heroic efforts Mr. Merritt and his sister saved their aged mother and her property. Some of the loss and suffering at this ineluctable season is very severe. Fortunately they have been provided with a temporary home, through the kindness of Mr. Mal. Black, who recently moved to Durham. There was a small insurance but we have not heard the amount.

ANOTHER GOOD RECORD.—For the second year the Provincial A. L. M. succeeded in passing the entire Model class writing, and the result of this fall term shows more excellent work, for with 50 students, about double the number last fall, only one young lady has not secured the required 60 per cent, and she has been at an advantage through previous failures. There are four groups of subjects requiring a 60 per cent total and 40 on each, and in one of these groups, only two students, another student failed to reach the requisite 60. However she will be permitted to re-appear in writing this next year. Only a few of the students had secured a B. C. through previous failures. It is hoped that by New Year's to fill the growing demand. We heartily congratulate Principal Allen and the students on their continuing the school's proud record.

The McGowan By-Law

As the days go by ratepayers are gradually coming to the conclusion that the situation calls for a cordial support of the By-Law guaranteeing the Debutenures of the McGowan Milling Co.

To defeat the By-Law at the present juncture in the town's history would, we believe, seriously injure the town's progressive business centre. Should it go on record that Durham so lightly regarded enterprise by its citizens that they refused to give such a guarantee as is asked for, on such good security, it would not only deaden local enterprise but it would cause outsiders to look askance where Durham interests were concerned.

The erection of the big mill, store-house and dam were entered upon in good faith and the unexpected difficulties they met with are such that might be in the path of any progressive citizen.

We intend to vote for the by-law and we hope our readers will, on considering the situation, do likewise. Not to do so will be to blow to enterprise that the town can, at present, ill afford.

Address and Presentation

Warm Words to Rev. and Mrs. Bice.

The coming removal of Rev. A. A. Bice from the Rectory of Trinity led his congregation on Thursday evening of last week to give him a piece of their mind and a few other things before the separation took place.

As we intimated some weeks ago the relations between Rev. Mr. Bice and his people have been of the warmest description, and while they naturally regret his removal, they rejoice at the promotion which shows appreciation of his character and ability.

A goodly number of the congregation, then, as we have hinted determined to invade the Rectory, taking with them refreshments, music and a program. They were warmly welcomed of course, and at an appropriate time an address was read breathing sentiments of warm affection to the occupants of the Rectory. Mr. J. Kelly read the address while Messrs Robert Adams and Joe Atkinson presented the articles which were a valuable and handsome leather grip and a purse containing gold, while to Mr. Bice was also given a purse containing more of the precious metal.

Mr. Bice though embarrassed by the kindly words and the surprise of the gifts made an appropriate reply. He thanked the congregation for the gift of their during the over four years he had ministered to them and was sure he nor Mrs. Bice ever forgot the kindness that had come their way.

He hoped that under the new conditions with a new Rector in charge they would still make progress in Christian life and fellowship.

A very pleasant social evening was spent at the close thereof being many hearty good wishes. Following is the address:

To Rev. A. A. Bice, Rector Trinity Church, Durham Rev. and Dear Sir:—

It was with feelings of profound regret that we learned a few weeks ago that you decided to sever your connection with the congregation here. During the years we have mingled together the kindness, sympathy and wise counsel that always characterized your life have intensified the love, respect and esteem in which we hold you as our pastor and spiritual guide. We have always found you fearless in the expression of your own convictions, but of members of all other denominations, with whom you have always stood in the most friendly relationship during the years you have been here.

The magnificent edifice in the Township of Egrement will stand as a monument of your energy, and though your personal guidance and influence may be removed, we hope and trust and pray that you may ever be kindly remembered by those you leave behind to worship God in the true beauty of holiness.

Though we regret to say good-bye, it rejoices us to know that you have been recognized by the Bishop, and that he, in his wisdom, has seen fit to assign you to a position of greater usefulness, where the vitalizing influence of the Holy Spirit has endowed you may be spent with better results as a worker in his vineyard.

In regretting your departure, we regret also the departure of Mrs. Bice, whom we also regard as one of the highest esteem. We hope you may both be long spared, and that the new field of labor on which you are entering, may cause the Bishop to regard you as a pleasant and profitable to you both, and to regard them, not as a mere moment of the pleasant relationship in which you and your congregation stood during the years you were in Durham.

Signed on behalf of the congregation: John Kelly, Robert Adams, Joseph Atkinson

Two weeks ago St. Paul's Congregation in Egrement had a similar function, and the address following shows the same kindly spirit.

St Paul's Church Egrement To Rev. A. A. AND MRS. BICE, Dear Friends

It is with feelings mingled of sorrow and pleasure that we learn of your removal from this place, sorry to part with friends who have led us to higher planes in social and spiritual life as well as our christian duties pertaining to such, yet pleased to know that you have been called to a higher position which you have proved yourself worthy of, where you may be a still greater power for good in the advancement of christianity.

While we feel that it is a bright sunshine of success that attend all your labors in building a church in this place and filling its pews as well as placing the Parish on sound financial footing has been a factor in leading you to a position of greater activity, yet we realize that the cloud of sickness and sorrow that visited you for a time may also have been given you to prepare you for the ups and downs which you must meet with in the many different places to which your duties will call you, and that together they may prove a strength to you in the Master's work to which you are called. We take this opportunity on the eve of your departure to spend another social evening with you and ask you to accept these two chairs, not for their intrinsic value but as something by which you may ever give as a piece in your memories and when resting from your labors in the new field to which you are called, you can look back to the friends with whom you labored so harmoniously for five years.

The Spirit of Christmas.

It is a beautiful spirit: it is a spirit of peace, joy, love and kindness. It is a spirit which enters the hearts of the most sacred sentiments of the soul, it seeks self and considers the poor, the lonely and the forsaken. It gives and forgives and forgets. It projects itself before and behind the great day; it will be well for the world when the spirit of the Christmas Spirit comes after another year.
