Says the Miller:
 "Mr. and Mrs. Grocer" were down to my place for Sunday dinner while back—and what do you think! We had a wishing contest—to see who could wish for the most delicious and wholesome eatable. We all closed our eyes and wished. And behold, if we didn't all four of us wish for the same thing. Buns and Bread made of 'Cream of the West' Flour
 So we had 'em—my wife always has 'em ready, because they're in great demand at our house." A "Model Mill" product.

S. S. Entertainment at Dromore

Russell Hall on Thursday evening last was packed to the door by a fine mixture of young and old on the occasion of Knox Church S. S. Anniversary. This is the first time it has been held in the fine new hall and it was generally admitted it was an appropriate place to hold it.
 Rev. Mr Kendall was in the chair, Santa Claus himself was on the platform most of the time, evergreens and other decorations and a fine expectant spirit all bespoke Christmas. The chairman was in one of his happiest moods and played upon the delightful fiction to the amusement of the children. He had a long program which was faithfully carried out, a large number of the pupils having individual recitations, while choruses were excellently rendered by a full platform of healthy looking boys and girls. Great praise must be given them also for the precision with which they marched to and from their places on the platform, showing careful training. The credit for this and other features was largely due to the painstaking efforts of two public-spirited young ladies Misses Eliza Wilson and Agnes Benwick, who, assisted by Mrs Kendall had given great time and pains to the preparation.
 Superintendent John Adams gave the financial and other statistics, showing an enrollment of 99 pupils with an attendance at Sabbath School and church that was highly flattering. Mr C. Ramage, a teacher in the Sunday School in the early days, was present from Durham and gave a talk on "Look Up," with special reference to the lessons to be learned from a study of the heavens. Mr Robt. Renwick, for over 30 years connected continuously with the school as teacher or Superintendent gave an address expressive of his pleasure at the great success of the entertainment and at the welfare of the school, and concluded by giving a pathetic rendering from Talmage of the life of a family clock which witnessed the joys, the lives and the leaving of the passing generations.
 A feature of the evening which gave great pleasure was the violin music by Mr Eakitt, of Keovil, accompanied by his daughter on the organ. They were heartily enjoyed. The singing by the four children of Mr and Mrs David Long was also a delightful number, as it was unexpected, and the little ones did credit to their mother's training. An elaborate Indian drill by six young maidens in Indian costume was splendidly rendered as was also a Star drill, a snow song, and some other.

Swinton Park

The St. Andrew's church Sunday School entertainment and Christmas tree last Tuesday evening proved a great success and with an ideal evening the church was crowded to the doors. The program consisted of choruses by the school, songs, recitations and drills, all of an entertaining nature, after which Rev Matheson who occupied the chair called on a large number of scholars and presented them with seals and diplomas from the General Assembly for the correct recitation of Shorter Catechism and passages of scripture. Then came the distributing of presents from three which ended a very pleasant evening for all. The proceeds amounted to $26.
 A couple of sleighloads of young people attended the Workman's Concert at Priceville on Wednesday evening and report a good time.
 Although the bachelor's club have been doing all that is in their power to guard against and stamp out the epidemic of matrimony which played so much havoc in the ranks of the brigade during the past summer, the merry chime of wedding bells is now telling them that their efforts are in vain as another valued and much respected member has been snitten by the charms of one of our most estimable young ladies.
