Clothes That 'Make Good'

YOU YOUNG FELLOWS ARE RIGHT ABOUT YOUR CLOTHES

Some men may smile a little at the importance you put upon small differences in style and design, but don't let that bother you. Your business just now is to "Make Good" and you're wise to the fact that good looking clothes are an asset; that while they don't make the man, they're a help in his job of making himself.

Be critical about style and no less critical about workmanship. In other words get all that's coming to you. When you find a style that satisfies you and a fit that's right and our name back of it, buy it, then you'll have it all—not only style but quality. Without quality style does not last.

Let us show you the new Progress Brand models. We know you'll like them.

A meeting of the Shareholders of the National Portland Cement Co. will be held in Calder's Hall, Durham, on Saturday, Feb. 22, 1913, at 2.30 p. m., to discuss the business of the year in view of the approaching Annual Meeting. All wish to reach kindly at hand.

FARMS CHANGING HANDS.—The winter is witnessing many changes in farm property, the owners in most cases going west. Mr. David McCrie has sold the property so long associated with his name to Mr. T. Grasby, and goes west in March. The Jack and farm in the Glen has been sold to Mr. M. Ewen, Don McCormack's farm near by has been bought by Mr. Walter Ewan. Adam Pettigrew, down Orchard way has also sold and takes with him to the west the last of the Pettigrew name around here. We wish them all well in their ventures.

AT HANOVER CARNIVAL—Quite a number of young people from town took advantage of the fine evening, Monday by driving over to Hanover Carnival. It was a big success and one of the big "hits" of the night, was the presence in grotesque costume of the "whole Dunn family" of Durham. The members of the family were Misses Hazel Caldwell, Luella Lander, Edna Limin, May Young, Gladys Whitmore, Messrs D. C. Town, Jack Davidson, C. Darling and C. Marshall. They carried off the comic prize, but arrived too late to compete for other prizes.

FRERE TRIP TO GUELPH.—The Ontario Department of Agriculture has decided to conduct a competition among those who have taken the four to eight weeks' Course in Agriculture. To the young man in each County showing the largest net returns from an acre of land the Department will provide free transportation and living expenses to attend the two weeks' Course in Live Stock and Seed Judging at Guelph in January, 1914. The Department's reasons for conducting this competition are first, to demonstrate the possibilities of an acre of land, and secondly, to further increase the interest in the four to eight weeks' Courses in Agriculture. Further particulars may be obtained from the Department of Agriculture, Markdale.

COLLINGWOOD NEWS.—That the old historic county of Simcoe should pay tribute to the county of Grey in educational affairs is anomalous if not pitiful. Yet it is a fact that annually the Collegiate Institute of Owen Sound draws pupils from this county whose proportionate expenses have to be paid by our county council. This year the amount was $110.77. Simcoe has three large towns while Grey has only one; Simcoe should have three schools each as good as Grey's one, but in public estimation they are not so. Time was when the Collingwood institute drew scores of students from the county of Grey and even from the town of Owen Sound. Among these are many prominent men of the county of Grey such as Inspectors Huff, Burgess and Campbell, ex-warden Bell, and the present Warden, Dr. Mearns, and the member for North Grey, Mr. McGillivray, and by the way, ex-warden Bell is now member of the House of Commons for his riding. Simcoe Collegiate might wake up.

The Varney L. O. L., No. 880, will hold a Box Social on Tuesday, March 4th. A good program will be given. Admission 15c. Ladies bringing boxes, free; if not, 25c.

BOUQUETS FOR YE EDITOR.—"Who says farming does not pay in North Dakota?" writes Mr. Malcolm Cameron, of Westhope, formerly of Ben-tuck, after realizing $1500 for his half share of the crop on his farm, and he is living comfortably in the town. "We are having fairly good winter weather with just enough snow for good sleighing. So far we have escaped the storms and blizzards that usually come to N. Dakota in the winter season. In Dec. and Jan. we got ideal weather. Feb. has come in rather cold with thermometer 35 below zero. He throws us some bouquets which furnish a spice to ye editor's life, like this: "Mr. Ramage, I am sure all your readers are indebted to you for your very spicy, clean conducted paper. The REVIEW has been a steady friend for year party and the people in general and is always a welcome visitor to our home."

The local hockey race has tightened up and become more interesting since the Factory tied and the Cement team last Wednesday night trimmed the Clerks. It was the latter's first loss but the Clerks had no easy task, they were reinforced by A. Saunders one of the best of the factory line-up, and with Cam, McLachlan of the Clerk's line-up through indignation, the cement team flung a hard game one goal ahead 3-2. The marl team took the first two goals in 10 min., but the Clerk had evened it by half time and in the last half Jim McLachlan went thru his opponents the length of the ice and shot the winning goal. The game was perhaps the best yet, and at times some neat 2 and 3 men team play was shown. During the final ten minutes the Clerks buzzed around the opposing nets but could not even the score. Mulvey Cowan refereed.

Liberal Convention.

Hugh Guthrie, K. C., M. P., in Durham Town Hall, 21st Feb.

A letter received by us from Mr. Guthrie states that he will be on hand on Friday of this week as announced. Many there are who have not heard the brilliant young parliamentarian will seize this opportunity to hear him. Every Liberal in the district should be present to receive at first hand a breath of the political atmosphere that prevails at Ottawa.

Mr. Guthrie is a clear, convincing speaker, regarded as fair as he is clear and all Liberals at any rate should make it a point to be present.

The Union Depot.

No, dear reader, this does not mean a Union Station for Durham, however much it might be desired to have the G. T. R. and C. P. R. under one roof, and the thing is perfectly feasible if the beggars weren't so stuck up on their own importance. No, the heading is the name of the play presented last Thursday evening in the Town Hall by the Presbyterian Guild, some 40 performers taking part, and furnishing an agreeable evening.

The hall was about three quarters full and when the curtain rose the platform was arranged to suggest a Union Station. There was the Ticket Agent (W. S. Hunter) looking out of his wicket, a lunch counter in charge of O. S. Hunter, railway benches, placards, excursion bills, &c., &c., all intended to be suggestive of a railway, added to greatly by the railway uniform and deep voice of the Depot Master and train announcer who called out at intervals the departing trains. (Dr. Grant.)

A very motley crowd was travelling that day and the petty little foibles and lapses and odd things one sees when abroad were fairly well reproduced. Mrs. Larkin, good woman, got acquainted with quite a few folks during her weedy wait of 6 hours—Maggie McGillivray, Mrs. Brown—May McGowan—had trouble getting her drowsy kid—Harold Ramage—wakened up as the train came in. Fussy Mrs. Snyder—Edith McKenzie—had a wealth of bundles and baskets piled on seat and floor, and land sakes! I ordered her daughter Miranda—Bessie Telford—to run to the cars for her forgotten umbrella. Careless Miranda drops a basket with eggs, wrapped for safety in her green silk waist—Alas! Uncle John—Caldwell Marshall—got them out of the difficulty. Mr. Jones—S. Ferguson—had a baby forced on him to hold, while the distracted mother, Jean McGowan, searched for an older one and Mr. Jones, on his way to be married, was in a dreadful funk and his train due in 5 minutes. In desperation he places it in the arms of Miss S. Piper.—Kathleen Grant—and this lone, nervous lady had a wracking time of it till Mr. Armstrong, a widower—Peter Ramage—came in with baby in arms and four small children following. Miss P. wanted him to take another but the real mother turns up opportunely. She then offered to help Mr. Armstrong, "oh how supporting the name sounds," and waiting for the train, the two came to a delightful understanding.

The inevitable bridal party turned up, the bride—May Young—and groom—John McIlraith—flattering themselves how slickly they had escaped their friends, but alas, they spoke too soon, for the rice throwers came, who were Mary McQueen, Zell Crawford, Alex Bell and Ray Farquharson.

One could not but be sorry for Mr. Martindale, poor man—E. McGillivray—who was kept moving by his shrewish wife—Islay Campbell. Josiah Potter—D. C. Town—got badly cheated in jewellery and was told by Nancy, his wife—Alice Ramage—that he had made a big goose of himself.

Uncle John—Caldwell Marshall—made a strapping fine porter and Frank McIlraith as a bootblack made things shine. A College quartette—Grant McComb, Allan Bell, W. McGowan, Peter Ramage, enlivened the station with harmonious songs. Three school girls—V. Crawford, Sadie McDonald, Susie Kelsey took fun out of a dude—Clarence Darling. Mrs. Hummer—May Young—sent a telegram to relatives asking to delay the funeral a day so as she could straighten up.

Russel Gun and F. Morlock were two Italian musicians. A father—Will McGowan—comes to the depot to see his two children off, Marguerite Hut-ton and Arthur McGowan.

Two colored couples, Lily—Arthur Ramage and George—Gordon Gun; Eliza—Robin Farquharson and Mr. White—Ian Campbell, were blacked for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Linton—Jack Davidson and Zetta Marshall—were in anxiety over the elopement of their daughter—Grace Hunter with a young man—S. Ferguson.

It would be impossible to give the many laughable situations. Much good dramatic talent was displayed and a few other exhibitions, with a little more seriousness in rehearsal by the younger performers would develop a lot of latent talent.

Special mention should be made of the part taken by Mrs. N. W. Campbell in overseeing the rehearsals, as prompter, &c. She had an anxious-worrying time that no one would envy but must have been gratified at the success.

A sum of $82 was realized.

Induction of Rev. R. B. Ledingham

Some short time ago the Presbytery of Swift Current, resolved to make an effort to form into an organized charge the mission points of Ravensburg, Glenbryan and Vanguard. The people solidly responded, and satisfactory representations from them resulted in giving good promise for the proposed step. Rev. R. B. Ledingham B.A., who has had charge of the Indian work at Round Lake until recently and with much credit and success was asked to come and daily become the choice of the people. The Presbytery met on the 26th December last for the induction. There was a large turnout and every indication, not only of harmony, but also a determination and confidence in measuring their responsibility in undertaking a new charge.

The moderator Rev. Mr. Campbell of Swift Current, presided and inducted the pastor-elect. Rev. Mr. Black addressed the minister and Rev. Mr. Forster exhorted the people. Thereafter the ladies provided an excellent service of tea and cake. Thus Mr. Ledingham has been settled in happy and hopeful conditions.

True, there is neither church nor manse as yet, but plans for both have been in the minds of the people for some time and will undoubtedly take material shape in early spring when climatic conditions favor operations. The field is a splendid sphere, two towns, Vanguard and Pambrun, 9 miles apart on the railway, while Ravensburg and Glenbryan form a rich and populous district to the south, and by arrangement with the Methodist church the entire field has been allotted to the Presbyterian church to occupy. Vanguard is not a yearling yet, but being a terminus—temporarily at least—it has sprung up phenomenally last, even for a western town, and serves a large territory. There is every prospect of its growing to be a town of some dimensions in the future. A manse and a church will be built there and also a church at Pambrun. Mr. Ledingham is the only minister of any denomination in the entire field, and the Presbytery is confident that under his care a strong cause will be organized there.—Presbyterian.
