FRANK LENAHAN. BRANCHING OUT. The new hardware and furniture firm, Messrs Lenahan & McKechnie, as will be noticed by their advt. on page 4, are adding a new line, that of plumbing and tin-smithing. A first-class man is being engaged and full supplies will be kept in stock. The firm is to be congratulated on this enterprise, as it fits a local requirement.

There passed on Feb. 2 a boat 6 o'clock of the town's oldest residents, Mrs. Jas. Vollet, mother of our town clerk and one of the early pioneers, coming here in 1855 to live. She was 90 years old the 1st of December. We extend our sympathy to the family in their bereavement and next week we hope to have a fuller account of her life.

On Friday night, 21st February, the members of Zion church, Traverston, met at the home of Mr. E. W. Hunt, executive of Glenelg, and presented Mr. Hunt and family with a robe and a pair of blankets, before they leave for their home in the West, which they intend doing in a couple of weeks. They will be missed in Zion church where they were all faithful workers and in every movement which was for the uplifting of mankind they helped.

VETERANS REWARDED.—There are a number of the veterans of the Fenian Raid of 1866 residing in Durham and vicinity and these were gratified a few days ago to receive from the Government a grant of $100 each in appreciation of their services at that time. Some years ago each received a section of land in New Ontario and many years ago a medal. Those remembered are Messrs Adam Robson, Matthew Davis, Geo. Ryan, Sr., Sam McCracken, C. L. Grant, Thos. McGirr, Jas. McGirr, Elias Edge, Adam Weir, Sam Scott, Robt. Allan.

Mr. Duff, Grey County Representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, is now in Scotland securing farm laborers for Grey County farmers. This is a purely county scheme and adopted to try and help the farmer to his greatest problem, the procuring of not only sufficient labor but also efficient labor. It is his duty to help the farmer wherever and whenever possible. Make use of him. Mr. Duff has sent back word that he is able to fill more applications than he is capable of, so if any more farmers require help, it is not too late to send in application for more men. Applications to be addressed to the Department of Agriculture, Markdale and will be forwarded to Mr. Duff in Scotland.

DEATH IN THE WEST.—A well known young man in Durham and vicinity died last Friday in Russell, Man., in the person of W. E. Theobald. "Wes" as he was familiarly known, for a number of years conducted a gent's furnishing store in town, until 6 or 7 years ago he went West and has recently been travelling for the Ashdown Co. of Winnipeg. He succumbed to pneumonia. Deceased was a native of Mt. Forest and was extremely popular in athletic sports, figuring in many hard fought lacrosse battles for Durham and his home town. In baseball and hockey also he starred, but in every branch of athletics he was ever a true sport. Many who recall his genial disposition will regret his passing in the prime of life.

A much larger crowd than usual attended the Horse Fair last week and the town wore an exceedingly brisk appearance, much good business being done even outside of horse flesh. A goodly number of buyers were present and 32 horses changed hands. It was unfortunate that rain fell all morning, as otherwise it would probably have been the biggest fair yet. Many good horses were thus not brought in, which disappointed buyers from Montreal, Simcoe and nearer places, who were ready to pay good prices for a number in first class condition. It behooves all who have animals to dispose of to get them in the best possible condition for March fair and make it a bumper. Mayor Black would be pleased to receive contributions from merchant and others benighted to assist in defraying expenses.

All accounts due the firm of F. L. Lenahan & Co. must be settled by cash or note.

Men's Negligee Shirts, white and black striped, Men's 85c and Boys 50c, at Grant's.

A challenge hockey game between the Cement and Clerks team will be played in the rink Wednesday evening of next week.

The Varsity L. O. L., No. 089, will hold a Box Social on Tuesday, March 4th. A good program will be given. Admission 15c. Ladies bringing boxes, free; if not, 25c.

LAND FOR SALE.—33 acres good, no buildings situated inside Durham Town limits. Spring creek runs through property. Good chance for quick purchaser.

Apply to C. C. ELVIDGE.

HAS FORD AGENCY.—As will be noticed by advt. on this page, A. S. Hunter & Son have taken the agency for Durham and district for the famous "Ford" cars. They purpose this spring erecting a garage to the rear of the hardware store with entrance from Lambton St., and will keep a full supply of parts of every kind for repairs on hand.

A SERIOUS FALL.—While walking down grade on the path in his yard to empty a pan of ashes, Mr. Geo. Ryan Sr. slipped on the ice last Saturday night and suffered serious injury. Finding himself unable to rise he turned over on his hands with great pain and called to Sam McCracken who was passing. With the assistance also of some factory men, who were going home at 6 p.m., he was carried into the house, Mrs. Ryan being absent and no one else at home at the time. Here his right hip bone was found broken and the leg was set in splints. He is forced to lie on his back for a few months, not being able to sit up. It was a severe injury to one well up years and we trust he may pull through and the bone knit neatly.

The Roll Call.

WM. IRVINE

As will be seen elsewhere the death occurred last Wednesday of Wm. Irvine, of Habermehl, one of the best known and respected men of Bentinck. For many years he acted as Township Treasurer, his integrity and ability being everywhere recognized. He served his township in other respects also. He became known to South Grey in 1888 when he received the Liberal nomination for the Legislature, but was defeated by the late John Blyth. He took his defeat with a good spirit and mingled with Liberals in Convention and otherwise ever with hearty good will as long as strength was given him. An affection of his eyes compelled him to give up much public work for some years. He was a splendid type of citizen and his passing will be regretted by many besides his mourning family, who have the sympathy of a wide circle.

Annual Meeting of South Grey Liberals

Hugh Guthrie, M. P., makes a stirring address.

It was hardly expected that a large meeting would be secured at the Convention of Friday last. It was not a Nominating Convention, (which always arouses interest) and the state of the roads might well be expected to hinder many from coming and it did, yet the Town Hall was filled with a representative gathering and it is safe to say they did not go home disappointed.

Hugh Guthrie, K. C., M. P., is one of the rising parliamentarians on the Liberal side, a clear, convincing speaker, abounding in energy, there can be doubt that he will yet be heard from as "higher up." Pres. Mearns, wisely gave him the whole time as he had to leave by 4 p.m. train and he filled every minute of it with fact and argument, receiving at times generous applause.

He enjoys being reckoned among "the fighting bunch" at Ottawa, "we are in a minority of 46, giving the Nationalists to the Conservatives, where they belong." The proposal to give a money grant of $35,000,000, practically $5 for every man, woman and child in Canada, he characterized as "so novel and radical in its effect that no government should force it through without a mandate from the people." It needed careful consideration and it is the duty of Liberals to enlighten the country on the two methods.

He dealt with Mr. Hazen's boast that the sum could be taken from the surplus, but if this were done the necessities of capital account would require still more borrowing, for there is actually a shortage now. He referred to the unity of action in Parliament in 1909 when every Conservative lined up with every Liberal in voting for a Canadian built Navy the only objection Mr. Borden made was that the word "speedy" should be put in, and it was put in. Now they went back on their record, to give this gift, or loan, as it was being called now for there have been half a dozen changes since the measure was introduced on 5th Dec. last.

He showed that there was a greater score or emergency in 1909 than now, yet Conservative speeches rang with objections to a money grant, it was tripping Canada's autonomy would be in danger, etc. Liberals thought so too, thinks so yet, but their opponents had thrown consistency to the winds. The Laurier proposal was to have two fleet units, one on each seaboard, and this plan was endorsed by the British Admiralty as the true policy. Mr. Borden, pondering to the ignorant habitant of Quebec to whom a money contribution is less objectionable than a local navy, began to talk Dreadnoughts, anything to win, and the coalition of the Nationalists and Conservatives was plainly seen in the Drummond election. Mr. Guthrie stated that a written agreement existed between them and it had not been challenged. Mr. Borden and 10 of his now Ministers voted that no contribution be given to Britain until the people were consulted. Now they proposed doing just that thing, to please the voters who spoke of hauling the British flag in the dust and of shooting holes through it.

Mr. Borden hesitated in 1912 about going to Britain till McBride (who favors local fleet units) came back, then he was going, and took with him significantly, Pelletier to watch for the Nationalists. Borden's speeches were now ringing against a Canadian policy, Australia has now what all here at one time wanted, a local navy and is commended by Churchill, whose policy is "to leave to the outlying colonies the establishing of naval units."

He quoted authentic figures from British experts to show that Britain's superiority in Dreadnoughts over Germany was sufficient to ally all fears and the preponderance in Cruisers, Destroyers, etc. was even greater than Dreadnoughts. He quoted Asquith's famous words: "There is not now and never was a moment when the power of the British Empire was not overwhelmingly supreme against any possible combination." Churchill, Balfour, Bessford all expressed the same sentiment in the hearing of Borden and Pelletier, yet he comes home and sets aside all this. One of the best parts of the speech was his declaration that Germany was not a warlike nation, her activity in naval building was for her own needs and protection of her own trade route. The reign of the Kaiser was now a long one and it had been a reign of peace: "Where was the emergency?"

He appealed to the audience if one of them ever heard of Mr. Borden's policy in 1911, as Mr. B. had stated it was before the people then. A storm of "no's" was the response. It was talked of in Quebec only where national orators drew harrowing pictures of disembowelled sons fighting in Britain's wars.

"If they have 35 millions to spend as a gift, why not give it to home markets, when they were so keen to protect the home market" was a statement loudly cheered. The House is at present illegally constituted. "The census results are known, redistribution should take place and 80 busy fellows will prove to the government that they have struck a snag."

He referred scathingly to the notorious Rogers and the election in Macdonald, Man., and later to the unscrupulous conduct of revealing public grants to influence elections in Nova Scotia.

To build our own navy, to protect our own shores, our own trade routes was Imperial as well as Canadian policy. It was an insult to Canadians to say we can't man them. Local naval units was a fair division of responsibility. Mr. Borden's attitude in desiring representatives was putting the clock of progress back. The proposal of Sir John Ward of New Zealand that the colonies be represented on the Board to determine peace or war, was supported only by himself. Mr. Borden got a neat rebuke when told that his proposed member would not be a link between the governments. The parliament of Great Britain is not the tie that binds and it is stronger now than ever before. The more freedom, the stronger the tie. "Do we want any more links?" He (Guthrie) thought it an injury. He pointed out the absurdity of Asquith in a real emergency consulting with representatives from S. Africa, New Zealand, Canada or Australia.

Don't tell me Canada cannot build a navy. We can do anything any other white nation can" was a statement loudly applauded. "If Spain, Portugal

Golden Wedding.

A very interesting event took place at the home of Mr and Mrs Wm. Lawrence on Friday, Feb. 21, when their children and grandchildren gathered together to celebrate the golden wedding of the esteemed couple.

Fifty years have passed since William Lawrence and Eleanor Moore were proclaimed man and wife by the Rev. Alex. Stewart. The newly wedded couple went to live on Lot 6, concession 21, Egremont and resided there for 44 years till they moved to Durham six years ago.

The marital union resulted in an issue of four sons and four daughters: John and Joe in Egremont, Will on the homestead, Tom in Welland, Mrs. Con. Ector, Areola, Sask., Mrs. W. J. McFadden, Glenelg, Mrs. W. Ector, Welland, Mrs. W. A. McDonald, Durham. The family (except Tom, Mrs. W. Ector and Mrs. C. Ector) together with grandchildren were present at the function which consisted of an address and presentation followed by a sumptuous dinner, the address being read by Nina McFadden and presentation made by Gerlie and Elva Lawrence.

Following is the address:

To our Father and Mother, Grandfather and Grandmother: We have gathered here to-day to mark an incident of importance in your life and ours, which occurred fifty years ago. During these years you have spent life together amid great trials and much happiness. At times surrounded by your children, only to see them one by one drift off to make their way in the world. It must be a pleasure to you as it is to us to see this reunion which will mark a period in the history of your family, which will be remembered by all. We have gathered here in order to show our great love for you and to endeavor to convince you of our appreciation of all you have done for us. We ask you to accept this purse of gold as a token of our love for you and sincerely wish you may be spared to us for many years to come. Your children and grandchildren.
