A pleasant evening was given by the Epworth League of the Methodist Ch. on Monday night to about one hundred people at their "Penny Social." Games, program and a social chat were indulged in and around $18 was made.

Mount Forest Junior hockey team played an exhibition here last Wednesday night and proved easy pickings for the locals winning 12-4. The match was devoid of any spectacular features and rather tame as the home boys were always safely in the lead. The first city league games proved more interesting and exciting from the spectator's viewpoint. The proceeds were $26.

JUNE BUGS WILL BE SCARCE.—An expert farmer, who has made a close study of entomology, says that owing to the ground having been covered so scantily with snow this winter, there will be few June bugs in the spring. "The frost will easily reach the larvae with such a light covering of snow," he said, "and as they cannot stand the cold they will die. Last spring there were swarms of June bugs, and many farmers were so much inconvenienced by them that even if a few million are missing this spring, no one will regret it."

MORE NEW AUTOS.—The impending arrival of spring has again started the motor bee buzzing and three new cars will soon arrive. Through agent Hunter, Mr. A. W. H. Lauder has bought a Ford touring car and Dr. Jameson a Ford runabout for use in his practice, using his large new Russell car for pleasure and other purposes. Banker Kelly, having recently disposed of his two former cars, purchased a handsome $5 horse power Studebaker through agent M. F. Dyer.

Two or three others of our citizens will be loaned also to "be in the running" before long.

The regular meeting of the Glenelg Centre Farmer's Club was held on Feb. 25 in the Township Hall. Very few were out to hear the address of Mr. Jno. Weir on the dual purpose animal. The speaker showed in detail the difference between the dual purpose cow and the cow of the beef type. Commenting on the value of the dual purpose cow for the farmer, Pres. Binnie said it was the best but the great drawback was to secure properties that would help to rebuild the land along the lines of both milk and beef. He also spoke on the value and meaning of the term "Heredity" to the breeder. The meeting was enlivened by songs and stories.

The Roll Call

MRS. JAS. VOLLETT.

The passing of this lady on February 25th, which was briefly noted last week, calls for further comment. Deceased was a Miss Belcher, of the same family as Col. Belcher of Southampton and she was also related to the Graftons of Dundas and to the well-known philanthropist, W. J. Gage, the latter being a nephew. She was a native of Ontario, having been born at Dixie near Toronto in the far gone year of 1822 and thus on 1st of December last, completed her 90th year. She was married to Mr. James Vollett in the neighborhood of her birth over 70 years ago and she has outlived him by 13 years. A family of three sons and two daughters blessed the union, of whom only two sons now survive, Wm. B., the well-known clerk of Durham and John of Sarnia.

They came to Durham in 1855 where other Vollets had preceded them eight or nine years before. Later a move was made to Guelph and some other points, ultimately pulling up at Stratford, where they lived some 15 years. 17 years ago they moved to Durham and took up residence with their son and daughter in their old age.

Deceased was an interesting old lady. She kept her intelligence to the last, and took interest in current events, reading for herself in the papers without aid of spectacles and writing her own letters to friends. She was buoyed up by a cheerful, optimistic spirit, had a dash of humor in her make-up and thus left memories which will long be cherished by her friends.

The remains were interred on Thursday last in Trinity church cemetery, Rev. Mr. Hartley officiating at house and grave.

ISAIAH MELOSH.

It is our sad duty this week to chronicle the passing away of one of the old and respected pioneers of this community in the person of Mr. Isaiah Melosh, whose demise occurred last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Martin Coffield, of Glenelg. Deceased had been in his usual state of good health until a few weeks ago, when he contracted a severe cold, which later on developed in pneumonia, that treacherous disease so often fatal, especially to aged people. Physicians and a loving family did all possible to alleviate his condition, but the insidious malady gradually sapped his vitality and the harbinger of Death came in the early hours of Wednesday morning and his departure was as calm and peaceful as the ushering in of the dawn.

Mr. Melosh was born near Oakville, on July 16, 1835, and thus at his death he was considerably beyond the allotted span of man's existence, three score years and ten. In 1854 at the age of nineteen he came to Durham, where he lived for a year or more, moving from thence to the farm on the second concession of Glenelg, whence he spent the remaining years of his life. On Jan. 11, 1858, he was united in marriage to Miss Johanna Haley, who proved an affectionate wife and loving helpmeet and who predeceased her husband by some eight or ten years.

Their earlier years in common with other pioneers of this district, were spent in hewing out a home for themselves and family, amid the crude conditions of those historic bygone days. One by one these grand old pioneers are being called away and their departure removes from our midst a race of men and women that for sterling integrity, true, genuine worth and all the characteristics that go to make the ideal man and perfect woman have had no superiors and few equals in the history of the race.

In addition to being a successful farmer, Mr. Melosh was a competent cabinet-maker and carpenter and there are in the surrounding community many evidences of his skill along this line of endeavor.

Deceased was a man of exemplary character, pleasing personality and lively, pious, virtuous life. He leaves to mourn his loss a family of four—one daughter, Mrs. Martin Coffield and three sons, Thomas, Nicholas and Joseph, all of whom were near when the fatal summons came. The remains were interred in the Dornoch R. C. cemetery on Saturday morning at the unusually large concourse of sorrowing friends which followed the remains to their last resting place. How sincere was the regard which the departed was held with the sorrowing family here the sincere condolence of the entire community. Why weep ye then for him, who having lived the bound of man's appointed years, at last, Life's blessings all enjoyed, life's labor done, Sincerely to his final rest has passed, Cheerful he gave his being up and went To share the holy rest that waits a life well spent. —A. E. M.

Town Council.

Met in regular meeting on Monday night. The usual batch of accounts were presented and checks ordered to be issued. Amongst these was the account of the Solicitor, held over from last meeting, a reduction of the amount having been secured.

The chief interest of the meeting centred round the request of the 1041 room proprietors to have the license reduced from $400 to $200. They presented their case well were making it pay but were not getting as much out of it as their outlay warranted. To a question by Reeve Calder as to whether they kept books they answered in the negative, to a further question from the same source they objected to revealing what they did make.

They quoted license fees paid in many towns comparable to Durham, claiming in every instance a less amount was paid than here. They were paying $18 a month rent, paid $32 yearly for light and $40 on top of this was too much. They claimed they were observing the law as to minors, and intimated that if the council did not grant their petition they would have recourse to a government license which would be cheaper and easily renewable.

Mr. Calder went into the history of the question showing that when the license was placed at $400 it was meant to be prohibitive, but if public sentiment was in favor of it at all, he thought the license too high, others present seemed to think so too and a motion was passed to rescind the old by-law and prepare a new one at an amount to be agreed upon when presented to Council.

It may be remembered that at the February meeting of Council a surprise met them in the shape of being faced with the necessity of providing a salary of $75 to the Medical Officer of Health, Dr. Flutton. The matter was left over and at this meeting the doctor withdrew his former offer and in view of having learned more closely the duties of the office made a claim for salary of $150. After discussion and some plain talk the matter was again held over.

At a special meeting of Council called for Tuesday night, a new pool room by-law was drawn up, reducing the fee to $250, payable quarterly in advance.

A Talk on Health Subjects.

By District Health Officer McNally.

Friday evening last the District Health Officer was in town and was anxious to meet with Council, Bd. of Health and School Boards to talk over the new Health Act which came into force last July. The announcements must have been defective for only Messrs Grant and Koch of the Continuation School Board were present. The Public School Board not at all and the Council was represented by the Mayor and Clerk and four of the council.

By the new act the province is divided into seven districts, Mr. McNally having charge of one. He deals with all subjects nearly or remotely connected with the public health and is possessed with powers that has more than once already set communities in a ferment.

As to Water Supply he reported favorably on the flowing well and on the springs, but said that the private wells were a source of danger unless cleaned carefully at least once a year. In almost every instance on dirty platform finding their way into the well again. He advocated having the pump to one side of the well, putting the curved connection below the frost line.

MILK SUPPLY

On the question of Foods he placed the utmost importance on the Milk Supply, as to purity and cleanliness. Milk was the one place outside of the human body, in which disease germs develop. He made the startling statement that two out of every five cows were tuberculous and followed this

The crucial fight is on at Ottawa, all day and all night sessions rather than see $35000000 of the people's money given with the idea of strengthening the British navy. The Liberals contend that another better way to help Britain is to set about building two fleet units on our own coasts spending the money in Canada, giving employment to Canadians and having the fleets available in any time of stress to help Britain.

The issue between the parties is now well defined that an election just now would almost be a plebiscite on the question.
