Is Widows Suburb.

Charlottenburg, the fashionable western suburb of Berlin, Germany, is known as the "widows" town." At the last census no fewer than 14,543 widows were registered as residing within its boundaries. This is very nearly half of the total surplus of women over men that is to be found in the town-29,240. In no other town in Germany can such a proportionate surplus of the female sex be found. The mamber of widowers is extraordinary chiall in proportion, being only 2,358.7.

Trade in human hair is a big industry abroad, exports sometimes was to get out and the other was reaching a total of $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 a year. Italian merchants lead in the trade, and obtain a large part of their stock from the peasant women of Italy, Switzerland and Dalmatia. A peculiar method is in vogue among the women of these countries in order to produce a supply of hair regularly and yet not appear to have been "shorn" at all. They cut off half of the hair at the back of the head and then twist the remaining half over the exposed part and dress it in such a manner that the agents of the human hair merchants come around for the semi-annual
