WORRY AND INSANITY.

People Inclined to Worry Must Brace Up and Stop It.

Everybody has heard the self-"It takes a smart man to be a crank." Support of this view comes from an expert in mental hywho become insane worry themselves into insanity, and you must have brains to worry." There is probably as much or as little foundation for the one saying as for the other. There are instances that fit each, but no more than one swallow makes a summer can one smart man who turns crank or one man with brains who worries himself into insanity establish that therefore necessarily all cranks are smart men and all lunatics have brains.

Nevertheless, stripped of its hyperbole, this expert's warning wrong one should say "I should worry" and forget all about it. while just as exaggerated, has a basis of truth.

In Montreal bricks are sold for cash, and all the brick manufacturers together are unable to supply the demand.

The demand is steadily increasing.

A Safe Investment

Contractors find the shortage a serious handicap, and would gladly buy 2,000,000 more bricks a week at present prices, which yield $4.00 net profit per thousand to the brickmakers. We already have one contract booked for 21,000,000 yearly for three years at $10 per 1,000. The Domestic Brick Plant supplying 800,000 a week will sell 32,000,000 bricks this year, with provision to increase to 75,000,000, and make $128,000 net profit, which is over eight times the Preference stock dividend. With this the company will pay 7% per annum on the $200,000 Preference Stock and could pay 30% per annum on the Common Stock and carry over $70,000 to reserve, which we guarantee will be done after the third year. You can readily see that it would pay you to invest in the
