Canada at Gibraltar.

A PICNIC FLEET.

Mr Churchill's latest deliverance on the Navy question may well lead Mr Borden to say, 'Save me from my friends.' With considerable gusto last week Mr Churchill announced that the three Dreadnoughts proposed to be contributed by Canada should form the basis of an Imperial Squadron the rest of it being the Drea-nought contributed by New Zealand and another to be contributed by the Malay States.

This cool proposition of a Picnic Fleet effectually disposes of the emergency which was the potent lever Hon. Mr Borden used to pry or push through parliament the gift of thirty-five million dollars. It has been getting plainer all the time that the German bogey was merely a bogey. Kindly expressions by both British and German Statesmen did not betoken war, declarations by Churchill, Asquith and others, showed that the British fleet was in the pink of condition and needing no buttressing and now comes the proposition to form a squadron and give it a roving commission to sail the seven seas.

We believe many to whom the virile spectacle of Canadian ships in the theatre of supposed war would have been pleasing, will not take kindly to this ignoble flotilla moving to the side of the Malayan gulf. This disposition of Canada's gift seems on a par with the treatment of the Canadian contingents in Africa when first sent out. They were not put to coveted positions but set to making sidings and doing chores of a similar kind. Later, their ability to rank with the best was freely acknowledged.

This latest proposition makes it more than ever desirable that our contribution to the Navy should be along the lines of the unanimous resolution of parliament on which Mr Borden has now turned his back. As the Globe points out Vancouver and Gibraltar should be considered. The danger in the Pacific is more real than in the Atlantic and we think it will be a flower in the cap of the statesman who first brings about a Pacific fleet composed of local units built and manned as far as may be by the British communities at Canada, New Zealand, Australia and Hong Kong.

The profits on an outlay of $35,000,000 are said to be $3,500,000. Instead of this going to British ship-builders as Churchill desires, it is beginning to be made on Canadian shores and the profits divided among Canadians. Loyalty to Canada is not disloyalty to Britain and there may come a day when the Empire will be glad that there are shipbuilding stations outside of the British Isles.

Of Course The Policy Is Popular In England.

When the Borden proposal to grant $35,000,000 to the British Admiralty was first announced a cable from England stated that the grant was being received with joy by English shipbuilding firms—BECAUSE it would mean a profit of $3,500,000 for these firms.

A similar statement was made in the interview with W. D. Gregory, published in last week's Sun. Mr Gregory, in that interview, said while in England he was told that the most popular feature in the Borden policy is that which involves spending in England the money to be under it for Dreadnought building.

The importance of these frank admissions should not be lost on Canadian readers. They help to make clear why it is that Hon. Mr Churchill has insisted so strongly on the contention that it would be much better for Canada to send $35,000,000 to England for the construction of warships than to spend the money here. He is naturally anxious that the lords, dukes, admirals, parsons and journalists in English shipbuilding firms shall not be deprived of their promised share of the $3,500,000 contract. Incidentally, as a rather astute British politician, he is not blind to the political advantage that comes from workmen in British shipyards being kept fully employed; and a contract of $35,000,000 will go quite a long way in that direction.

Appeal to the People.

Under the above heading the Sun has the following trenchant article in its last issue. The Sun is not partisan, hence its utterance comes with great force against the attempt to introduce closure on a question for which the people have given no mandate.

The article says: 'Sir Wilfrid Laurier has issued a manifesto since the House rose in which he announces that there are only two methods of solving the present deadlock. One is, he says, the use of brute force and the other is in appeal to the people.'

Whatever might be the outcome of the exertion of brute force, it would be madness of Mr Borden to make the proposal. He is morally embarrassed by the fact that he has no mandate from the people of Canada to pass his naval bill, which involves, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier says, a principle of the highest importance. It involves a change in the spirit and aims of the Canadian people, who at most, have had under consideration, not constitutional change, but only the giving of help to Britain on the plea of an emergency, which is now completely discredited. He is morally embarrassed by the obvious aversion of British opinion to admit the principle of colonial participation in British affairs involved, however feebly, in the acceptance of the proposed gift. He is also morally embarrassed by the growing public belief that the demand for aid to Britain in an emergency is only a make believe under cover of which a constitutional change is attempted to which the people of this country at least have given no serious attention. Having proposed Imperial Federation, to enact it under such embarrassments by brute force, would be an act of tyranny probably not paralleled in the history of popular governments in English countries.

Liberal Club Federation.

The aggressive, attractive policy of development and expansion is to be the rule for the new Liberal Club Federation of Ontario formed in Toronto with great success on March 24th. The Executive Committee of the new organization met in Toronto on March 29th and immediately began to put into effect suggestions made at the Federation meeting for the extension and improvement of Liberal Clubs.

The Federation meeting itself was an unqualified success. Delegates were present from all parts of Ontario and there was apparently an enthusiastic determination to make the new movement count for much. It was expressed that through it the young men of the province would become more interested in political questions in the province. Hon. MacKenzie King was present to give his best wishes to the new organization. In the evening the delegates were entertained at dinner in the palatial new Ontario Club. Mr. W. Rowell, K. C., M. P. P., was toast-master and a number of splendid speeches were given by young men from various Clubs.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Disgracing the Town.

EDITOR REVIEW:

Dear Sir,—There are some people who are always growing because life on the farm is not as bright as the title in the cities and towns. The townsmen have their clubs and dinners and talk their business worries over with each other. They try to find the best way out of the difficulties. Of late there has been a similar movement amongst the farmers and in the township of Glenelg has been organized the Glenelg Centre Farmers' Club.

The first year of this club's life there were 105 members and nine meetings were held. Besides this, seed corn and grass seeds were purchased in bulk. Wire fencing and commercial fertilizers can be had by the members at wholesale prices. This year so far there are 50 members and already 50 bushels of seed corn have been ordered.

Now, when the farmers are trying to help themselves and trying to make life more cheerful in Glenelg, along come a few fellows from the town of Durham. These fellows come for a good time and to help them to have a good time they get a little too much of the intoxicating beverage known as whiskey. The result is that they spoil their own fun and try to spoil the fun of all those who are in attendance at the meeting. At the meeting of the Glenelg Centre Club held on March 28th last these fellows had to be "called" from the platform. There will be no more "calling," the next offender will be put through the courts. The Provincial Government is at the back of the Farmers' Club movement and will give the individual clubs all the backing they need.

This statement is made on behalf of the officers and members of the Glenelg Centre Farmers' Club by their President,

THOS. H. BINNIE.

Dornoch

The weather is quite Spring like these last few days. We hope it will continue.

Messrs Wm. Bell, Archie McDonald and J. Riddell left last week for the West. The boys will be missed around the bar. There will soon be no young people around—all going West. We wish them success.

Quite a number of the young folks around took in the party at Mr. Hugh Vaughan's and report a good time.

Misses L. Moher, E. Freuk and B. Reid returned to their schools on Monday.

Some of the Popular Valley people are beginning to come to Dornoch Church now. There must be some attraction.

Hope you enjoyed your drive Sunday eye Jack.

A social evening will be given by the Bible Class, in the church next Monday evening. A program will be provided. All who are interested are invited to attend.

Priceville

The changeable weather makes us think that we didn't write anything last week and now we hardly know what to say, but the winter is past and now we will have April by tomorrow morning and in a month the first of May and then we hope to sing the old song of olden times, 'It is May, it is May and all the earth is gay, for old winter is past and gone away.' In reflecting on the past few months, we find many changes in different forms, changes in many instances for prosperity and as many the reverse, but the most prosperous were only sent to the world for a time and when disaster shall befall them, they are put on a level with the poorest of the land and we have seen instances of this fact during the last couple of weeks in our own and far away cottages. But still we have reason to be thankful, although some in our immediate vicinity have suffered from the late gales of Good Friday. As far as we know there was no loss of life or of cattle although a large number of barns and stables were unroofed, leaving in many instances granaries exposed to the elements of nature, but as in general we are a liberal class of people in this part as well as other parts that suffer, the one helps the other to repair the loss as much as possible.

Personally we experienced the swiftness of Good Friday's high wind coming up the Durham Road from near Durham. We were driven at a higher rate of speed than we appreciated and were it not that fences were on the north side of the highway, we would be landed on the farms along the old Durham Road, giving us more opportunity than we would desire to see the quality of land on the back end of the farms.

The sleighing was fine for a few days during the past week, the icy nature of the elements caused a great bottom for sleighing with a couple of inches of snow on top, but it was dangerous to travel on account of being so slippery, but Saturday and Sunday's mildness made ice and snow disappear faster than they came. Sunday night was windy and rainy.

The Sacrament held in the Presby. terian church here on Sunday the 30th March, was largely attended, considering the bad state of roads. The pastor gave a good sermon from a passage in the 58th chap. of Isaiah, 'We are sorry that Mr. and Mrs. Norman McIntyre, south line, Glenelg, lost their baby a few days old. Mrs McIntyre is getting along well, although she will feel keenly the loss of this, their second boy by death.'

Mr James McDougall, of this town, met with an accident on Saturday evening, the 29th March, by the bug, by upsetting while turning in at his brother Norman's place at Top Cliff. He was thrown under the horse and had some ribs broken and other injuries. Dr. Hutton, of Durham, was telephoned for from Mr McDougall's and was in attendance setting the broken ribs. We hope the patient will get along as well as possible although he may be laid up for some time.

Mrs Duncan McDonald is away to Bruce County to attend her sister-in-law's funeral, a Miss McArthur of that place.

The marriage of Malcolm McLean and of a Miss Smith, of Markdale, took place on Wednesday last week by the Rev. Mr Matheson. Mr and Mrs McLean gave a number of the young people in the neighborhood quite an entertainment one evening last week, where all enjoyed themselves greatly, all wishing the young couple much happiness on their future career.

'Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I consulted several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I continued to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy and I did so. He had taken treatment from them himself and knew the METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers know of your valuable treatment. HENRY C. LOUSET'
