In the list of beneficiaries from the late J. P. Morgan's will, we notice the name of Captain Porter, captain of the late Magnate's steam yacht, down for the sum of $15,000. It may be recalled by some that Captain Porter's wife was a sister of the late Mrs. (Rev.) Newton and visited her here on different occasions.

NEW PERSIANIZATION PASTOR.

The induction of the Rev. Archibald McVicar, B. A., as pastor of Chalmers Church, Flesherton, and an associated congregation took place on Thursday in presence of a large congregation. Rev. W. C. Mercer, moderator of Orangeville Presbytery, presided. Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Pricville, preached. Rev. Dr. McKenzie, of Shelburne, addressed the new pastor and Rev. G. W. Rose, of Carleton Place, addressed the people. After the service a reception was tendered the new pastor and his family. Mr McVicar is a brother of Mrs. (Rev.) McLean, whose husband is the pastor of the Hampden and Hanover Presbyterian churches, and of Rev. Donald McVicar, formerly of Dromore and Knox Normanby.

The Guild on Monday gave an evening on Tennyson, when a large number turned out to do the poet honor. Misses Julia Weir and Vaddie Caldwell contributed a duet, "Sweet and Low"; Mrs. Bert Stonehouse, a solo, "Crossing the Bar," while Miss Marjorie Hutton gave a piano solo and little Marjorie Pickering a pleasing recitation. The major part of the evening though fell to Miss Niven of the 3rd room classes, who gave an exhaustive and excellent paper on "Ulysses," the great warrior of ancient Greece, and in which Tennyson considers her put most of himself into. So well had this paper been prepared that a motion was made and carried to have the press insert it for the further benefit of its readers. Mrs. G. McKechnie also gave a good rendition of Locksley Hall.

LORE'S DAY ALLIANCE.

Rev. W. G. Hanna on Thursday evening last, gave an illuminating address in the Baptist church on the aims and work of the Alliance. The Alliance, as its aims were getting better understood was gaining the respect of employers as well as employees. Its aim was to promote the welfare of all, the efficiency of the people being the greatest National asset. The Alliance has secured recognition in 9 provinces and no fewer than 135,000 toilers have in recent years got the weekly rest day through its influence. Ontario was now fast becoming a manufacturing province and it was important to have the law well enforced. He showed how necessary was vigilance to prevent encroachments by Railways, boat lines, so called "Sunday Concerts, &c., pointing to the awful fact that in England 700,000 men had to work to provide amusement for Sunday. Vigilance was necessary too to control the many foreigners amongst us, if Canada was to hold her Sabbath sacred. Mr Hanna is retiring from the arduous work of the field Secretary of the Alliance. He is a convincing speaker. Rev. Mr. Bartley is president of Durham Branch.

Messrs Robt. Watt and Wm. Wiggins left Tuesday to take positions in the cement plant at St. Mary's.

NEW MARRIAGE ACT.

Henceforth issuers of Marriage Licenses and clergy-men are subject to a fine not exceeding $500 if they know or believe that either of the contracting parties is an idiot, insane or under the influence of liquor. To put a stop to border towns like Sarnia, Windsor and Niagara Falls becoming veritable Gretna Greens the new law provides that if neither of the parties has lived in the town or district where they propose to be married for 15 days before the date set for the marriage, their marriage must be published for three weeks in a local paper.

A HOUSE ON FIRE.

Nothing but a heavy rain which was falling at the time, prevented a large conflagration this Wednesday morning. The fire broke out in a house on the corner of St. Mary's and St. George's streets, and in a few minutes quite a number of citizens had gathered beside Robt. Ewen's livery barn, which was then in flames. The rain checked the rapidity of the blaze but the stable was doomed and a bucket brigade extending on to the roof saved Robt. Burnett's stable in close proximity. Mrs. Burnett first noticed the fire and had it been a dry windy morning, their residence and the Baptist Church nearby would probably have been wiped out as well. The Fire Brigade turned on the hose in 25 or 30 minutes and soon quieted the blaze. When the fire was in its incipient stage Mr. Limin had removed a stallion and another horse and vehicles were also pulled out, so the only contents destroyed are some robes, harness, and a small quantity of hay and oats. The cause is unknown, but supposedly was accidentally started by someone in the loft, as the blaze was first seen there on East side. The stable was owned by Mrs. Warner and carried an insurance of $125.

Convention Call

Beginning at 1.30 p. m. a Convention of S. Grey Temperance workers will convene as above for the purpose of planning the most effective means of still further and speedily prohibiting the legal and public sale of intoxicants.

"Law Enforcement," "Objections to Local Option," "Our Goal" are some of the topics.

Rev. Dr. W. S. McTavish, Rev. J. Mur, M. A., will be the chief speakers and there will be an interesting "Roll Call" from municipalities.

Burning begun at Cement Works

This week every operation is in full blast at the Cement works, the first cars of mail having been brought in on Monday. With prices at all fair there is a prospect of a good season ahead for our big institution. Pending the arrival of a new chemist, Mr. Robinson, of Owen Sound, chemist last year, has kindly come down for a few days to take charge of that important department, his own mill not having started yet. The new chemist comes from Jackson, Mich.

Memorial Service.

It does seem a consolation that he is at rest after all that he had suffered," said Rev. Norman McCausland, referring to the late Rev. W. L. Newton, in his memorial sermon to the departed pastor on Sunday morning. "His family are glad to see him at rest after the affliction. Peace came to Mr. Newton after the dark hour."

Mr McCausland stated that death was spoken of in three forms. The first form of death was spoken of in the Bible as sleep. The second was a sense of departure while the third form was death in the Lord.

The preacher contended that death to the latter of the three forms, robbed the grave of its victory and death itself lost its sting. Mr Newton's death he would classify under this head. He had been resting from his labours and waiting for the final call.

Mr McCausland paid a high tribute to the integrity, ability and character of his predecessor. He stated that he had but slightly known Mr Newton, but even in the interval that he had been with him, the qualities which had endeared and had made him beloved of his congregation, had been recognized.

The speaker averred that the church building, the sermons that had been preached and numerous kind deeds which had been performed, would be permanent monuments to Mr Newton.

Previous to his discourse, the pastor read a letter from Mr Keith L. Newton, of Toronto, thanking him for the memorial rites which were being paid to his father and regretting deeply that circumstances did not permit him to attend the services.

Liquor Cases

Mysterious Local Option Beer

Tuesday last Inspector Wm. Allan, had two cases before Police Magistrate Telford for violations of the Liquor Act.

The first was against the proprietor of the Middaugh House, Mr. J. C. Nichol. He was charged with having supplied whiskey or other intoxicating liquor to three men who were summoned as witnesses; Messrs Samuel McComb, David Allan and Wm. Ryan. Mr Cameron, one of the legal lights of Owen Sound, appeared for the prosecution and Mr Klein of Walkerton for the defendant.

The witnesses were taken over their doings and habits in regard to liquor and liquor houses. All three of them denied having got whiskey at the house, all agreed that it was the bartender who served them, though they did not all agree on the number of treats. There was general obscurity also as to what constituted local option beer, would scarcely know the difference between it and lager beer, though Mr Ryan was confident it was not like the beer he had sold years ago. Pressed if they were sure there was no whiskey in their drink, they supposed not, there "may have," but anyway they asked for and were supplied with the tender staff.

Mr Nichol swore he had no whiskey round his premises, he ordered his beer from Huetter of Neustadt, didn't know where it came from but supposed it was the stuff he ordered.

The magistrate decided the prosecution had not proved their case and dismissed it.

In the other case John Gibson was accused of being drunk and disorderly on the public street. Messrs W. J. Lawrence, Jas. Lloyd, E. J. Watson, A. D. Browning and Rev. Mr Prudham all testified with perfect unanimity that shortly after 10 p. m. on Tuesday 15th inst. they met him near Garafraux St. bridge reeling and staggering and plainly under the influence of liquor. Mr Klein took the witnesses far afield, but did not succeed in proving from them that a sober man usually staggers or that the staggering they saw proceeded from cocaine, morphine or some other drug.

In rebuttal Messrs Val. Hahn and son Oscar, Arch Black, David Ritchie John Whittaker, V. Damm, Fred Gibson, Geo. Arnett and several others supported the defendant in his declaration of sobriety that day. Some had worked with him all afternoon, some had taken supper with him, some accompanied him to a dance between 8 and 9 p. m. at Arnett's, saw him there off and on till 3 a. m., had no liquor that they knew, &c.

His honor however thought the case proved and imposed a fine of $20 and costs.

Few who listened that day to certain of the evidence given under oath after kissing God's holy book, but must have been shocked. That mental reservations, perhaps worse, were being made far from consistent with "the whole truth and nothing but the truth," seemed very evident. Some will place the blame on local option, overlooking the fact that in licensed districts, whiskey cases show the same perversity.

There is needed everywhere, and in this town, a combination of all moral elements, both of personality and influence, to form a public opinion against the degrading drink. The curse of the liquor traffic, even in local option beer, is bringing down the manhood of many to-day, as it ever has done. War, famine, pestilence, rages awhile and then stops, but this monster incessantly is on the trail of humanity.

A GOOD FAIR.

No fewer than 33 horses were sold at April fair and considering the season this was a fair record. Prices were an improvement on recent fairs too, buyers being keen.

Greatly delighted was the Presbyterian congregation here on Sunday last with the presence and preaching of Rev. R. P. McKay. The warmth of the setting he gave the 21st chapter of Revelation, which he read and commented on, will not soon be forgotten, nor the Missionary appeal of the morning service, founded on the "Great Commission." In the evening to a large congregation his text was "God is Love" and his fine apostolic presentation fell like a benediction on all hearts. He came without fee, to give a day to his friend, Rev. Dr. Farquharson, whom he regards as a power in the church, and whose temporary illness he hopes will result in richer blessings in the days to come to himself and to his people.
