With each recurring distribution honors there is some speculation as to why knighthood is not conferred on Mr. why knighthood is not conferred on Mr. Borden. To some persons it seems strange that the first citizen of Canada should not have at least a knighthood when so many others have received the honor. These persons forget that at the first opportunity after his election to the Premiership, Mr. Borden had conferred upon him the rank of Privy Councillor, and this rank is a very high one, several degrees higher than that of G. C. B. or Knight of the Grand Cross of the Bath. It ranks immediately after that of Knight of the Garter, a degree which is very rarely con-Garter, a degree which is very rarely con-ferred on any but members of the Royal family, Sir Edward Grey being a notable exception. The President of the Privy Council is the third officer of State. After a man has been sworn in as a Privy Councillor, it is very rarely indeed that he is offered even the Order of the Bath. Men like Bright, Gladstone, James Bryce and John Burns, all Privy Councillors, were never knighted.

A somewhat startling suggestion has been made by Mr. John S. Ewart, K.C., of Ottawa, to the effect that there should be organized throughout the Dominion a series of what he proposes to christen as "Kingdom Clubs." Mr. Ewart for many years has been a leading advocate of complete autonomy for Canada within the British Empire. He likes to talk of "the Kingdom of Canada"; in fact, he gave to the first and in many respects the most important address he has delivered on the subject, that title. His theory is outlined in a clause which he suggests as a statement of the object of Kingdom Clubs. In it he says, "Recognizing that after a long period of po-litical evolution, Canada has at length attained to the position of a self-govern-ing state; that her legislative and fiscal ndependence is undisputed; that her right to make arrangements with foreign countries is undoubted; that exclusive control of her forces, both land and sea, is admitted; and that, therefore, abandoning the title and appearance of a colony she ought to assume the status of a nation, this Club has for its object the elevation of our country to the international rank to which her acknowledged maturity most justly entitles her.
