EPIDEMIC OF SMALLPOX.

On the occasion of a recent visit to London, I was one day sitting in a room in that mecca of all Canadians in London, the Canadian High Commissioner's office, when, suddenly, without formality, the door was thrown open and an old gentleman bounced in with all the vigor of a youth of 25. From photographs I immediately recognized him as Sir Charles Tupper, himself formerly Canadian High Commissioner, a fact which explained his privileged entrance. On introduction he gripped my hand with a force that ceradian with a mental alertness that proved that his mind retained vigor at least corresponding to that of his body.
