HARDWARE

It was the manufacture of Plymouth Binder Twine in Welland that started that town to boom and the using of Plymouth Binder Twine will create such a pleasant feeling that every farmer that uses it will start booming everything around his farm.

We are the only people in Durham that sell this excellent binder twine and you should not lose any time in placing your order for your season's supply. Every farmer that has ever used Plymouth Binder Twine knows its quality and other farmers are finding it out very fast, consequently we are supplying a great number of farmers with their Twine.

Call and see for yourself what we have to offer you.

Meaford to again have Licenses

Why are licenses to be issued in Meaford for another year? This promises to be a very interesting question, for Hon Mr Hanna and the License Branch of the Provincial Secretary's Department had issued their orders that the licenses in that town should not be renewed after May 1st. The local commissioners under their powers granted an extension of three months up to August 1st, but it was taken for granted as far as public announcements were concerned that at the latter date the licenses would not be renewed.

At the local option vote last January the temperance people were defeated by a fraction of a vote less than the required three-fifths. A suit and counter-suit were entered into and moreover a large deputation not only from Meaford but from the surrounding country waited upon the Provincial Secretary and requested that the licenses be not renewed in view of the fact that the selling of liquor in Meaford was doing away to a considerable extent with the good results of local option in Owen Sound and the absence of licenses from all the rest of North Grey. It was in answer to this deputation that the Department decided not to renew the licenses.

Now the announcement is made that the licenses are to be renewed by the Department after all. Reports as to the exact events which preceded this decision and to a reported agreement made by the temperance representatives are still rather meagre and nothing definite can be said yet as to the justice or injustice of the granting of these licenses.

A few undoubted facts, however, lend significance to the whole case and are worthy of note. During the recent bye-election in the Constituency of North Grey, of which Meaford is a part, the Conservatives made much party capital out of the action of Mr Hanna in refusing to renew the Meaford licenses, although local opinion in that town had been defeated technically. In the Government press and on the Government platform this action was loudly praised as being a definite proof of the Whitney Government's good will to temperance and of its generosity to temperance voters.

At this very same time, however, it was being whispered about the town that if the Government candidate were elected the licenses would be renewed. This underground rumor secured for the Government the support of the liquor men and of those favorable to the liquor interests. True as it gradually became known about town it alienated the temperance vote in Meaford with the result that the Liberal candidate got a majority of 29 in that town. In view of the decision of the Department to renew the licenses this question becomes important. Had the whispered rumor a basis in fact after all, and also why did the Government try to ride two horses in the bye-election?

The Montreal Daily Telegraph, the paper which has bought out and succeeded to the good old Witness declares that it will follow the policy of The Witness with regard to the liquor question. We quote from an editorial in a recent issue: "Gradually, opinion will be formed and indignation will arise and public spirit will assert itself, and the entire traffic in intoxicants will be resolutely condemned to death. To that end The Daily Telegraph proposes to wage open war. And it proposes to do its fighting with clean hands. It will preserve the consistent attitude of the 'Witness,' and decline to publish any advertisements of intoxicating drinks. Whatever else may be said of our columns, they shall not, at all events, be used to put a bottle to our neighbors' lips."

The British programme to celebrate the 103 years' peace between the British Empire and the United States has been drawn up and an appeal is made for funds to carry it out. The programme includes the erection of a Memorial of the Centenary of Peace to be erected in Westminster Abbey; the purchase of Sulgrave Manor, Northants, the ancestral home of the Washington family, and its maintenance as a place of pilgrimage for Americans in England and as a symbol of the kinship of the two peoples; the foundation of a permanent chair of Anglo-American history and the endowment of a Scheme of Annual Prizes in the Elementary and Secondary Schools for Essays on topics germane to the objects of the celebration. This programme is expected to involve an expenditure of between $50,000 and $60,000, which sum it is hoped will be raised during the present year.

PRICEVILLE—By the

This romantic little village has pointed out before a collection of houses on the reckoning from its source, fore is able from its situation down on such places as Durbin, Walkerton, &c. It is ever in no disdainful mood, viting all and sundry in the province to come to next and take part in its holiday for which a high class preparation has been made.

For many years the village has been well known to Mr. Jno. A. McDonald, and think one know better and more lovingly of its early check, red career. Mr. Bly is still to be seen and we hope active in this work for well adapted. So well has community represented in that of late civic pride has been in the veins of a young man who this week as will thispage, begin a service of setting than hitherto has tempted.

This modern "Priceville" has for the editor a unique seeing it recalls the far of 1868 when as a boy, Mr. S. L. M. Luke and two "stuck types" in the sentimental and for other reasons he is glad to offer space in the Review to the happenings and business of a village and vicinity.
