al advan-

to the health

Toronto

Her Great Love;

Or, A Struggle For a Heart

CHAPTER XII .- (Cont'd).

dinner; and when it was over, and she had listened to her father's usual mono-logue a monologue which had lately grown more extravagant and sanguineshe stole out into the garden, and, lean-ing on the gate, thought of Bobby's speech. Would he not come, after all? Had he been deceiving them? She opened the gate and walked down the fir scented road until she came to the that its owner was, probably, many hundred miles away, and would not see all that ves, she had done, saddened her. She was roused from her reverie by the sound of a horse's hoofs. Though at some distance, it rang pleasantly on the smooth Bobby, laughing. road; and as she listened, it came nearer, Instinctively she drew back under the ly. Then with a sudden brightening up of shadow of the trees. The rhythmical beat his faculties, he went on eagerly: came nearer and nearer, and presently have some wonderful trees at your place. in the moonlight she saw a man riding Lord Gaunt. Wonderful! I don't know a big black horse. It was coming along that, cut of Scotland, I have ever seen at a swinging pace, and it was almost more magnificent firs. Now, did it ever abreast of her before she saw that the occur to you that great things might be foot. He sat his horse perfectly; man and Deane turned to him with a kind of behorse indeed seemed ore. A sudden gladness shot up like a tiny flame in her breast; but she drew further to explain to Lord Gaunt that he has an back. She saw that he looked pale, and enormous fortune an enormous fortune that he was lost in thought; and she half within his reach. Terebene is one of the hoped—though why she did not know—that he would pass by without seeing her.

But the man who watches for big game in Africa, with a kecuness upon which life depends, acquires abnormal quickness and appealingly, and Gaunt, with admirable tact, said:

Thank you, Mr. Deane. Perhaps you will come up to Leafmore and tell me to the slim figure in its soft gray dress. to the slim figure in its soft gray dress, more about it? I'm afraid I must be and looked at her, not absent-minded shuffled out of the room. His eyes fixed themselves on her.

Yes: I have come back. And you are glad?" he said, with some surprise in his for Mr. Bright's sake-and the people's," she said, with the innocent frankness of a child. He nodded.

"Ah, yes." he said; "for Bright's sake-"He would have been so disappointed," said Decima. "He has been so dreadfully anxious-about you! If you had seen him this morning!" she laughed softly, and he smiled gravely.

came back this afternoon. I should have him. been here before; but I have been degetting all her recent doubts and fears. a test one; but presently ne brought him principle revolutionizing the caval- ready to use. Serve with a green

Her heart was beating with a sharp sense gray, or blue, or violet? of pleasure, her lovely face was softly radiant. He looked at her with the intent the court-yard, and with an impatient "Do you admire horses? He is an old to the groom, and went into the house. year, and in strange places; in places looked curiously at his master as Lord change in cavalry tactics. He pro- whites of eggs. Beat yolks until where he and I have been sole compan- Gaunt entered the dressing-room. The his nose with her soft, warm hand. "You are not afraid of him?" Gaunt the fact side by side; but Hobson had sked.

"Oh, no!" said Decima. "I love animals never stepped out of his place, and had hopens conceinly. What is his name?" horses especially. What is his name?" and respectful servant, who sticketh clos-"Nero," he said. "Rather like a dog's er than a brother. There was an expresname, isn't it? He will not hurt you." sion in his master's face which Hobson

For the horse, encouraged by the caress, had not seen for years. It was almost thrust his nose against her, and breathed cheerful heavily and quickly, as a horse will do when it takes a sudden fancy; and horses "I am not afraid," she said; and she relied upon?" put her arm round the sleek neck and pressed the handsome head against her Gaunt watched the pair in silence for a "Thanks! I thought you would. But, "I am glad I have seen you so soon, quick. To thank me?" said Decima, absorbed Hobsen glanced at him swiftly. He had in the horse.

"Yes," he went on, "for all you have done for me. When I got home to the house, which I expected to find grim and deserted, I found that it had been made a Honse Beautiful. And every one-not village, and the village stared at and only Bright, but the workmen themselves watched him from its front door, or from watched him from its front door, or from was Mr. Bright and the men from Lon-don."

"Not at all!" he said, quickly. "Yours "Not at all!" has been the guiding hand, your taste the guiding spirit. They told me. But the guiding spirit. They told me. But work woman's hand, some woman's exclaimed with the sword woman's hand, some woman's exclaimed with the sword woman's hand, some woman's hand, some woman's exclaimed with the sword woman's hand, some woman's exclaimed with the sword woman's exclaimed for the some woman's exclaimed with the sword woman's exclaimed for the stock. Simmer till tender.

Cook one hour in a moderate oven in the sword for the spend water. The stock woman's exclaimed with the sword woman's exclaimed for the stock. Simmer till tender.

To clean alabaster there is nothed in the sword for the spend water. The stock woman's exclaimed for the stock. Simmer till tender.

Cook one hour in a moderate oven in the sword for the spend water. The stock woman's exclaimed with the sword for the spend water. Stains may be removed by first sults of injuries received through that cavalry would not be used to spend water. Stains may be removed by first swashing them with soap and water washing them with soap and water. Stains may be removed by first sults of injuries received through that cavalry would not be used to spend water. Stains may be removed by first swashing them with soap and water. Stains may be removed by first sults of injuries received through that cavalry would not be used to spend water. Stains may be removed by first swashing them with white- the sword with the sword of fifteen minutes in a hot work. The stain washing them with some and their juice and half a cupful of them.

Cook one hour in a moderate oven in the sword of fifteen minutes in a hot work. The stain washing them with some them wit has been the guiding hand, your taste "You can't tell how nervous, and for such as I. And I am filled with sname when I think of all you have done for His voice vibrated with a suppressed

"Oh; but it was nothing. Indeed, I enjoyed it. Bobby said it was because I was spending some one else's money; but it wasn't that only. I was thinking of the house—the poor, neglected, deserted house—and the people here."

"Ah, yes yes," he said, rather grimly.

"And," she went on, frankly, "I wanted to make it nice and comfortable, so that you should be tempted to stay."
"I see," he said. "Well, you have succeeded. It is so nice and comfortable that Decima looked up at him with a glad smile as she patted and caressed Nero. "I am so glad!" she said. "And Mr.
Bright will be very glad. And Bobby!
Will you not come in and see him? He is reading—cfamming, as he calls it—for his Will you not come in? Our house, as I dare say you know, is only just up He hesitated a moment, a moment only then he said, simply:

Thank you yes; I will come in for a He walked beside her with the bridle over his arm, and when they reached the gate, slung it over the post. "Will he stay quiet?" asked Decima. He spoke a word in the horse's ear. Till morning, if necessary," he said.

She led the way through the dimly lighted hall into the faded drawing-room.

Bobby was seated at the table in his favorite attitude; his head in his hands, his eyes glued to his books, a cigarette be-

At sight of Lord Gaunt, he sprung to his feet with an exclamation of welcome. Gaunt just glanced round the room, and hen at the slim, girlish figure. It was like a flower, the one solitary flower in a

"Ah. Deane!" he said in a tone which wine a young man's heart. "Back again, you see! Cramming, eh? Lucky fellow! They wanted me to go into the army, but I hadn't the capacity or the industry." "Glad to see you. Lord Gaunt," said Bobby, heartily. "My father's in his workshop, laboratory. I'll bring him."

He hurried out, and Lord Gaunt and Decima were left alone.

"Have you had your dinner?" she said. He did not tell her that his dinner had been waiting for him for the last hour.

Thanks, yes. At least "lor even the

ASK YOUR DEALER.

conventional fib was difficult under the powdered with duet, his gray hair thrust Lord Gaunt shook hands with him, and scanned him with a quick glance. 'How do you do?" said Mr. Deane.

He looked at Bobby inquiringly. "Lord Gaunt of Leafmore," said Bobby in an under-tone. "Of course, of course!" said Mr. Deane. great house. The sight of it, the thought "I am glad to see you, Lord Gaunt. Are you going to make a long stay at at-"Of course! Leafmore! You will remain and dine with us? We've had our dinner hours ago," said "Leafmore," said Mr. Deane, abstracted-

She did not recognize him for a mo- the fir? At any rate, it has occurred to while he shows Lord Gaunt a new fly he ment, for Gaunt was one of those men me. Terebene is the active ingredient who look younger in the saddle than on Bobby touched him on the arm, and Mr. wildered impatience. "What is it, Robert? I am endeavoring

Bobby, heartily. "Eh, Decima?"

What a beautiful horse!" said Decima. words, "I am glad you have come," range tary mounted operations—has pro-He roused himself as Nero bore him into start and shake, he handed the horse over man-Hobson by name-had been with him The horse stretched out his arched neck for years, and was deeply attached to and smelled at her, and Decima stroked him. They had undergone perils and privations together, had looked death in "I'm late, Hobson," he said: "a bad beginning. But I suppose you told them in the servante hall that I was never to be "Yee, my lord," said Habson, simply. Lord Gaunt smiled, and, as he took off his coat, said: Hobson, we must reform-reform. Now be

CHAPTER XIII.

The next morning Gaunt went down the told me that it was you who had so behind its windows, with the deepest in-"Oh, no-no!" said Decima. "Not I! It terest and a lively curiosity, which whip in his hand, and half a dozen dogs bounding round him or trotting demurely at his beels, looked a very different per-yes, frightened I was. Oh, very often!

The remembered her, and stopped at once and the salutation. He spoke to the respectful, almost awed by most miliprosuch as I. And I am filled with shame her I think of all you have done for the salutation of the salutation. He spoke to the respectful, almost awed by most miliprosuch as I. And I am filled with shame he locked round him with an evident interval. he looked round him with an evident in-terest, which flattered those who were so tary authorities when Colonel Den- butter, one-half cupful sugar, one

"Ah, Bright, I'm taking my first visit of inspection," he said. He glanced at the tumble-down cottage. "It is not altotumble-down cottage. "It is not altotumble-down cottage. "It is not altotumble down cottage. Now, then, won the day. The British went into er and cook until thick. Add butare away! I see you are charged to the away, Lord Gaunt, he said.

Miss Deane. Now, she knows exactly fire action. friends of the people ever since she came, you know, and— Ah, Miss Deane, if you would be so kind as to come with us for e little while! But perhaps you are busy."
"No," said Decima: "I am only going to ment my brother later on. What is it?" with an affectation of dismay.

"Mr. Bright has got me in his clutches already. Miss Deane; and as if he were not more than a match for me, he has called in an auxiliary force. Well, so be in the last it. But, as you are strong, be merciful."

Gaunt looked into one room of the cottage. It was about ten feet square, and was occupied by a woman and five childwhy.

Ten. It was badly lighted, close, and un-"It is not fit, is it?" she said.

"It's bad, yes." he assented. "It certainly is not fit for you to go into."

"I' Why, they live here!" said Decima,

************ and Gaunt looked round amidst the dense "All right," he said. "I see the thing has to be done on a big scale. We'd better get an architect from London, Bright. You-and Miss Deane can worry through the plane with him. Have what you like, ma was too moved to thank him They passed out and came to the h; and Gaunt, glancing at Decima, caught the appealing expression in her lovely eyes. He smiled. whether that tower is quite safe."

"It isn't," said Decima, eagerly. "We heard the men say that they are almost afraid to ring the bells. Is is that to be You want a new roof? And I doubt

"Why not?" he said, quietly. "In for a penny in for several thousand pounds."

"Nothing but good," he returned. "Don't think about the money. I haven't any better use for it that I know of. You had until the whole mass is of a creamy better send for he named a famous ecclesiastical architect—"Eright, and let him work his sweet will on the old place. It's preity enough to deserve restoring. hot platter.

And bow, thank Heaven, here's your brother!" he broke off, as Bobby vaulted Almond M over the church-yard stile. "You'll never guess how glad I am to see you. Deane. Come and rescue me from the hands of these Goths and Vandals!" There was a lightness in his tone which almost startled Bobby. They've got at you already, have they, Lord Gaunt?" he said. "I meant to tip you a warning against them. Bright's bad enough, but my sister is far worse. If you let her have her way, she'll pull the place about your care. You take my my child, just you let things you underetand alone, run away home, girl, and play with your dolls; better sill

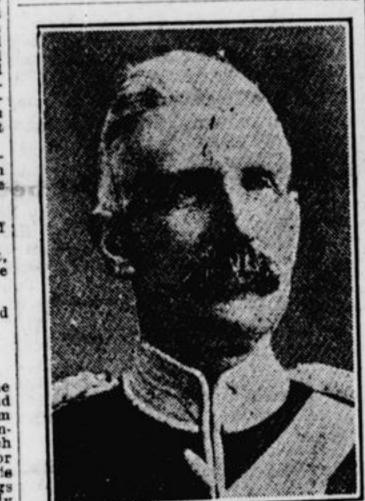

(To be continued.)

COL. GEORGE T. DENISON.

Tacties Back in 1877. Colonel George T. Denison every Canadian knows as Toronto's Pol-She did not answer. They both went to There were three prizes, and Col- til brown on top. the world, won the first prize- spoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon grated white potato over them, to death by his own bull. the gate, and Gaunt got on his horse, onel Denison, in competition with French Dressing.—One-half tea-"Good-night, and—thank you," he said.

His voice had a deep ring in it, which below the never had paprika, three tablespoons olive p been before and there never has oil, one tablespoon vinegar. Mix Decima had not heard until now.

"Good-night!" she said, smiling up at been before and there never has only the seasonings and oil in a bottle. Gaunt rode on at a bound, and let the on the subject. And, furthermore, Add the vinegar and shake vigor-"I knew you would come," she said, foretting all her recent doubts and fears "Yes: I promised. Otherwise-" the horse silently and with an abstracted look. ry service-and which he claimed salad. Lemon juice may be used fidgeted, and he drew the bridle over his The beautiful face haunted him; her would be the basis of future mili- instead of the vinegar. Many cooks door.

He remembered her, and stopped at once beat down an enemy by shock, but made and more digestible if pre-bim, and he turned to him with a smile. been proven sound by modern war. ana, one cupful whipped cream. Mix the Boer War with 3,000 steel- ter. Add banana, which has been Bright looked at him with a mixture armed cavalry of the old type, and mashed through a sieve. Cool unof eagerness and apology.

of eagerness and apology.

"I don't like to begin to worry you right at the end of the war had 100,000 til the mixture coats a silver spoon. mounted men in the field. That was Fold in cream when ready to use. "Oh. I'm in the humor this morning, and the only way they could fight the Add to cut fruit for salad. Do not you'd better seize the opportunity. You so, 365 Boers who took the field— use bananas in the salad. Pinewant me to rebuild these, I suppose?"

"That's it, Lord Gaunt," said Bright.

Missed It.

"Atkins," said the Sergeant, anthis morning?"

in apparent surprise. "No, you're not," insisted the Sergeant, "and I want to know

"Well, you see, Sergeant," replied the soldier, "there was a dozen of us using the same mirror, and I must have shaved some other

"Let us go to the schools by all means." ful! I had three jobs offered me in Steam three-quarters of an hour. but which may be having an injurtion? I guess I'm as hard up as Choice Recipes.

French Omelet .- Four eggs, four eighth teaspoon pepper. Beat the eggs slightly. Add milk and sea-"Oh, do you think so?" said Decima; direct gase of those truthful, trusting eyes and she gased before her with rather a disappointed look in her eyes.

"I have gone without any too often."

"Why not?" he said, quietly.

"Oh, forgive me!" she said, penitently.

"I—I am forgetting that it will cost so often."

"I—I am forgetting that it will cost so much money. What must you think of mixture. As it cooks draw the edges toward the center with a knife consistency; then let it brown quickly underneath. Fold and turn on > Almond Meal Gems .- Add to the well-beaten whites of two eggs one teaspoonful of lemon juice and ten tablespoonfuls of almond meat. Beat together thoroughly; drop into slightly heated gem irons and bake ten to fifteen minutes.

Sponge Cake .- Yolks of six eggs, one cup sugar, one teaspoon lemon advice, and make a stand at once. Decle, juice, grated rind of half a lemon, whites of six eggs, one cup flour. Beat the yolks until thick and lemon colored, add sugar gradually and continue to heat. Add lemon juice, rind and whites of eggs beaten until stiff. When whites are partly mixed with yolks carefully cut and fold in the flour, mixed and Saw Coming Change in Cavalry sifted with salt. Bake in an unbuttered pan in a slow oven for one bour. Put can of water in the oven to add moisture.

Hot Deviled Eggs .- Cook six eggs hard. Remove shell, cut in halves aunt glanced at her.

"Miss Deane!" he said, raising his hat.

"Yes, yes. Good-night," said Mr. Deane:
Decima held out her hand, and he took and shaking Gaunt's hand absently, he ple know Colonel Denison to be a lengthwise, take out yolk and seaNew housewives reprophet and an author of note. son it highly by blending with salt, now, but with a strange directness.

Gaunt moved toward the door; but as he Such is the case, however. Thirty-paprika, mustard and vinegar. Redd."

Such is the case, however. Thirty-paprika, mustard and vinegar. Redd." rested on the lovely face so dimly seen by six years ago he wrote a book, "A place in white, set in baking dish, the light of the one shaded lamp.

"At any rate, you will come up to Leaf. History of Cavalry," and entered it and pour over all a white souce in more, Deane?" he said. Then he looked in a competition inaugurated by the which chopped hard eggs have been Deane? I want to show you how comfort. Russian War Department, by au- mixed, in the proportion of two ble you have made me."

Oh, we'll come right enough!" said for the best history of cavalry. with buttered crumbs and bake un-

Almond Omelet, Caramel Sauce. -Six eggs, six tablespoons caramel With the perfection of firearms, sauce, one-half teaspoon vanilla, Col. Denison marked a coming few grains salt. Separate yolks and phesied that cavalry would be arm- thick and lemon colored, add six the eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Put two tablespoons butter in a hot omelet pan, cover bottom of pan with blanched shredded almonds, turn in egg mixture and cook and fold same as plain omelet. Serve with caramel sauce.

Caramel Sauce .- One cup granulated sugar, one cup boiling water. Melt one cup granulated sugar by stirring over the fire until it becomes a light brown in color. Add no water to melt the sugar; the heat of the fire will do that. When melted add one cup boiling water slowly and cook until the hardened sugar is dissolved. This can be bottled and kept tightly corked to be used for coloring and flavoring custards, cakes and confections.

Popovers .- One cup milk, one unbeaten egg, one cup flour, few ison's book first appeared-has cupful milk, one egg yolk, one ban-

"Well, they want it," said Gaunt, curtly, was not a single charge against one-half cupfuls white flour, two Occulists Dental Treatment Often one-half cupfuls white flour, two Occulists Dental Treatment Often one-half cupfuls white flour, two Occulists Dental Treatment Often one-half cupfuls white flour, two Occulists Dental Treatment Often one-half cupfuls white flour, two Occulists Dental Treatment Often one-half cupfuls white flour, two Occulists Dental Treatment Often one-half cupfuls believe to the occupance of the occupance occupance of the occupance occu rickety gate of one of the cottages. As lance were nowhere. The rifle was he did so, a girlish figure emerged from the door-way like a gleam of sunlight. It the door-way like a gleam of sunlight. It supreme, inspiring the only effectively the control of the cottages. As lance were nowhere. The rifle was half cupful sugar, one-half teature of the cottages. As lance were nowhere the control of the cottages. As lance were nowhere the control of the cottages. As lance were nowhere the cottages and the cottages of the cottages. As lance were nowhere the cottages of the cottages of the cottages of the cottages. As lance were nowhere the cottages of the the door-way like a gleam of sunlight. It was Decima. She was looking over her tive action for cavalry as well as shoulder and saying something, in her tive action for cavalry as well as proof of the county. shoulder and saying something. In her sweet, clear voice, to the woman inside: infantry. Few as the achievements then she turned her head and saw the two men, and stopped.

In the second state of the stantes of the Russian cavalry were, whatmen, and stopped.
"Oh, what luck!" said Bright. "Here's ever they did achieve was through cupful milk. Sift dry material three other hand, specialists in eye troubmilk. Combine two mixtures. Bake trouble with their patients' eyes to one hour in loaf in rather a slow come from decaying teeth.

Cream Puffs.—One cupful water, tient's eye trouble was due to bad one-quarter cupful butter, one cup- teeth and made a careful examingrily, "why heven't you shaved ful flour, four eggs, a few grains ation of the mouth. So far as could of salt. Melt the butter in the boil- be found there were no bad teeth; "Ain't I shaved?" asked Atkins, ing water and add the flour while still, the eye specialist was not satsmooth paste; cook; add the un- photographed by the X-ray. The better start him in at about $100 a life would be one big bubble, it boils. Blend the mixture into a isfied and had his patient's mouth beaten eggs one at a time and beat. result of this proved the correctness Drop by spoonfuls on buttered tins. of the specialist's diagnosis, for be-Bake in a hot oven until a delicate neath what appeared to be solid brown (about thirty minutes).

Queen's Toast .- Six slices of ered some abscesses. toast, one cup fruit juice, one and They were not of a nature to make Lost Hopes.

Lost one-half tablespoons cornstarch. the patient suspect he had them, sauce. Dip each slice of toast in sight. Eye specialists are getting that's what the man said when he realize that you couldn't improve." and around the toast. A bit of evil effects bad teeth have on the buttle."

Bate Cake .- Here is a recipe for a delicious date cake. It is easily made and does not cost much. Take one-half cup cup of butter, one and one-half cups of sugar, two eggs, one cup of sour milk, one cup of dates cut up fine, one cup of nuts chopped fine, two and one-quarter cups of flour, one teaspoon of vanilla and a pinch of salt. Bake in a long and narrow pan, and when finished cover with chocolate frosting.

Worth Knowing.

Linens are best bleached on thick clean glass. A rush runner is an excellent hing for the verandah. Soften hard water for toilet use by a pinch of borax. If paint sticks to glass remove it with hot vinegar. Vegetable floss makes an excellent filling for pillows. Ink stains on garments can be soaked out with salt and milk. After washing black silk or cotton stockings, rinse in salt water. Clothes should always be dried in the sun and air to look their best. Tablescoths and sheets should not be looped on the line, but hung

Every spare room should have a waste basket, a chair, and a good To polish zinc, rub hard with kerosene cloth and rub off with boil-Never wash aluminum kitchen utensils with soda. Use simply soap

Iodine acts as a healing remedy

New housewives realize the effect death of Mr. Samuel Lowther, a cover 2,000 acres, and the land they tiveness of kerosene as a disinfec- leading shipowner, at his County occupy represent a capital of $100,tant. Put it down the drain pipe Carlow residence.

and it will kill all germs. showing below your dress skirt, been seized at Coleraine Harbor, the northwest wards of Deptford place a hand mirror on the floor Londonderry. and turn slowly around before it. A well-known farmer, Mr. Pat- The King received in audience at one's hands into soda water is to dence of Dr. Fleming, Omagh. ton fat. This counteracts the bad seized at Greenore. They were effects of soda.

drinking of water copiously during house. little or no fresh air. plunge first into a solution contain- done.

Linen or corded material gar- lost his life. ments should be ironed over an or- Heavy showers of hail fell in the Borough police.

bias will put them out of shape. especially apples. A preserve closet should be cool Mistaking a box of rat poison for King for over $130. and dark. If it has a glass door a powder he was in the habit of A serious attempt by suffragettes in paper to exclude the light. If you desire to obtain a beauti- Land and Burns lines have come to John William Griffith, said to be ful lustre on cut glass, try washing an agreement with the companies the oldest living authority on Chedit in two quarts of fairly hot water about their wages and therefore dar cheese, has just celebrated the to which one tablespoonful of tur- will not go on strike. pentine has been added, and you An English company is contem- at Shepton Mallet.

made in this way: Wash, halve and Point with Newcastle.

and then covering them with white- horses ran away near the Vale of ninety-four. He was the pioneer of wash, washing the whitewash off Avoca. after some hours and polishing the place that had been stained by rub-their stems, put them in a bowl and cover them with boiling water, letting them remain in it for two minutes. Then pour off the water and open the raisins, and the seeds can be removed quickly and easily and without the usual stickiness.

BAD TEETH CAUSE BAD EYES.

One specialist suspected his pagold fillings and crowns he discovsage or savory to taste; salt and bothers them while their teeth seem by. "I do indeed," said his moth-The children are starved for want of an and ventilation in the summer, and must be frozen in the winter. If you will town?' Tramp No. 1: "Is this a good ents; roll in wet cloth; tie. Do not there are decaying spots at the roots why can't I keep that penny you gimme for the Sunday School collection in the summer, and must town?' Tramp No. 2: "No, aw- leave too much room to swell. of the teeth which are not visible, gimme for the Sunday School collection in the winter. If you will

OR THE PROTECTION OF THE CON-PLAINLY PRINTED ON THE LABEL. IT S THE ONLY WELL-KNOWN MEDIUM-PRICED BAKING POWDER MADE IN CANADA THAT DOES NOT CONTAIN ALUM AND WHICH HAS ALL THE INGREDIENTS PLAINLY STATED OF

READ THE LABEL

MAGIC BAKING POWDER CONTAINS NO ALUM ALUM IS SOMETIMES REFERRED TO AS SUL-PHATE OF ALUMINA OR SODIC ALUMINIC SULPHATE. THE PUBLIC SHOULD NOT BE

E. W. GILLETT COMPANY LIMITED TORONTO, ONT. MONTREAL

GREEN ISLE FROM MERRY OLD ENGLAND

LAND'S SHORES.

Interest to Irish-

Mrs. Burke, of Clonmel, died recently at the age of 108.

ed for the last thirty years. The stores and stables of W. as well as a disinfectant and is es- Irvine on Loganview Street, Belpecially helpful for wounds caused fast, have been destroyed by fire.

To discover if your petticoat is Newcastle to County Down have there are 10,000 people residing in

To clean fine carpets and freshen rick Naughton, residing at Fien- Windsor, Field-Marshal Sir John their colors without injury, scatter shinmore, Kinvara, has been gored French, and handed him his field

An excellent plan before putting bird's nest in a beehive at the resi- Godalming, to Jack Phillips, the rub them well with a piece of mut- Five cases of arms have been tanic.

meals are both harmful, so, too, is Rain in the lower Shannon dis- dor express. sleeping in a room in which there is trict has fallen lately to such an extent that the roads and rivers are announced that increased pay for ing 20 per cent. soap and afterward As a result of a peat slide in Kil- the Union Castle. in another solution having the same golagh Bog, in the Finea district, a Unmarried men who will underilla. Cut and fold in the whites of dinary ironing board, taking care Newry, accompanied by thunder Prince Christian's pigs, including to iron lengthwise or directly cross- and lightning and great damage has some noted prize-winners, have wise. Ironing even a little on the been done to the fruit crops, more been sold at Slough. A sow named ries, raspberries and strawberries effects of the poison. The dockers employed by the Wood, near Birmingham.

Sir Edward Carson has endorsed Mayor of Coventry in 1865-7.

emblem is prepared. An alarming dynamite explosion town. took place recently in the townland | So many bats had made their of Drumconlester, near Kelleshan- home in the belfry of Holbeach Parjured and three others sustained was decided to take some steps to severe injuries trying to save lives. destroy them. Sulphur was burnt The Tipperary Guardians have and 33 bats were killed in one evendecided to ask the guardians of the ing. cation of all children in the eight

Starting at the Bottom.

"I'm going to have my boy begin at the bottom and work up," said the millionaire. "I presume you intend to start him in as an office boy, then."

"Shall I put him on the pay-roll at the regular office boy's salary ?" "No, I wouldn't do that. You'd This sure would be a dandy world, week. The boy's simply got to have If money could be borrowed just as a little pocket money.'

Giving unsolicited advice is one way of borrowing trouble.

"I came near doing what I set three daughters musical educa-

NEWS BY MAIL PROM IRE. NEWS BY MAIL ABOUT JOHN

Happenings in the Emerald Isle of Occurrences in the Land That Reigns Supreme in the Com-

The largest dock in the world is at Cardiff, Wales. This year the Shannon salmon For every thousand people in fishing has been the best remember- England and Wales, fifteen die an-Birmingham is the great jewellery manufacturing centre of the United Kingdom.

Two cases of rifles consigned from A medical officer reports that without a bath in their homes.

chief wireless operator of the Ti-

As between meal nibbling and the ties and placed in the customs imprisonment at Carlisle for picking pockets at a West Coast corri-

Saucy Vexen was bought for the ninetieth anniversary of his birth civil war in 1644 have been desigseed the peppers, then run through When the fire brigade were called nated as public recreation grounds. grains of salt. Beat ingredients a food chopper. Put a little butter to a fire on the Newbridge Road, Eighteen thousand cotton operathoroughly three minutes with a in a frying pan. Add the peppers Naas, they started looking for the tives of Nelson, Lancashire, are large Dover or rotary egg-beater. and their juice and half a cupful of hydrants, and it took them about making preparations for their an-

the cycle trade in England, and was dra, when one man was fatally in- ish Church, Lincolnshire, that it

The Way Of It.

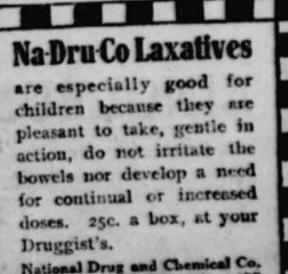

Well Begun.

Officer (to recruit who has missed every shot): "Good heavens, man, where are your shots going?"

know, sir; they left here all right."

Evidently Preferred Noise. "Is he fond of peace and quiet?" "I guess not. He's giving his

ONTARIO ARCHIVES TORONTO

brought to Newry by the authori-will find the results very satisfac- plating the construction of an elec- Two acres of earthworks con-

To stone raisins, free them from

THE LABEL. MISLED BY THESE TECHNICAL NAMES.

BULL AND HIS PEOPLE.

mercial World.

News has reached Belfast of the The cemeteries around London marshal's baton.

Three men were sentenced to six months and one to three months'

To make awnings waterproof, flooded and much damage has been captains and officers have been granted by various lines, including the Swansea Watch Committee for hang a black curtain over it. It is taking, a farmer named J. O'Con- to destroy crops over a large area, a good plan to wrap jars of cher- nell of Ballyquin has died from the and also to cause a heavy loss of life has been discovered at Yardley tric train scheme round the County structed by the Royalists when A delicious dish of peppers is Down coast, connecting Warren Newark was besieged during the the suggestion that an Ulster em- Mr. Henry S. Boyton, of Dover, blem be worn by loyalists through- has completed his fiftieth year as a out the country, and he has prom- choirman of St. Mary's, Dover, and ised that he will see that some such was previously for thirteen years in the choir of another church in the

Some men make fools of themselves for a pretty girl and a lot of others don't even have that excuse, Recruit (nervously): "I don't easily as trouble.

