

Flour is essential but— it is not your work!

Flour varies from time to time in baking quality. This is because wheat continually varies according to soil conditions, etc.

Therefore, if baking results are to be constantly high, baking tests are essential. It is unreasonable to expect you to make these tests at your expense.

PURITY

So from each shipment of wheat delivered at our mills we take a ten pound sample. This is ground into flour. Bread is baked from the flour. If this bread is high in quality and large in quantity, we use the shipment. Otherwise we sell it.

By simply asking for FLOUR bearing this name you can always be sure of more bread and better bread.

IN THE TWIN CITIES

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

humanity. It is an agreeable change for the last 200 miles before reaching Port Arthur to nestle close to Lake Superior's shores following its many indentations through tunnels and lofty rocks, often right in the water's edge.

Most picturesquely situated, rising in a gradual slope from the lake westwards lies the city of Port Arthur. In full view, and a mile or so south, quite level, Fort William is seen, a somewhat larger city, but lacking the "set off" of its neighbor. Both rare very much alive, boast a population of 50,000 and gradually growing together over the dividing line of rapidly clearing waste land, bids fair, in a few years to be another Canadian metropolis, and Ontario's second city. Twin city folk are all boosters, talk is high, living is high, real estate is high, wages are high, buildings are mounting high, almost everything is away "up in G."

Municipal ownership is an important factor in twin city development. They possess their own street railway running the entire length of the main street of each to Westfort, a suburb, their own telephone system, and their own lighting plant. The streets are quite brilliantly illuminated, and offices and residences supplied either by flat rate or meter. The power plant is located at the beautiful Katakabeka Falls on the Kaministiquia river, some 20 miles out. The falls we learn are 160 feet high, equal to Niagara, though not nearly the volume, and some 20,000 horse power is developed.

The money stringency has not seriously affected the cities, and though real estate is quieter it has not dropped. All is subdivided between the cities, and far out. Enormous prices are demanded for central property, a corner lot on Cumberland, Port Arthur's main street, was noticed offered at $1000 per foot. On same street part of a block purchased by a syndicate at $107 per foot is now held for $300 per foot. Our old townswoman Chas. McKinnon not long ago sold part of a corner lot bought five years ago for over four times the original price. Any good house brings from $25 to 50 per month rent, and one small two-roomed cottage we learn brought $10.

The well-paved principal streets are a delight and in splendid buildings and beautiful residences the cities are also abreast of the times. Space forbids any individual mention of the former.

It is said that in the last ten years the cost of living has increased in Canada to a greater extent than in any other country in the world. In South Grey we don't question it, but here it is more strongly emphasized. At the present time butter sells at 35c, eggs at 40c, just double home prices, while clothing is 25 to 35 per cent higher. However where they make more, they can afford to spend more and one sign of the prosperity of the twin cities is that there are now about 300 autos, in place of 50 a year ago.

On our arrival we were met and most hospitably entertained by Mr and Mrs David McIntyre, who have seen wonderful expansion in their adopted city since leaving Egremont six years ago. "Dave" appears to be as genial and popular as of yore and has a good position with the Northern Navigation Co. Just around the corner we found the well-known old local residents, Chas. McKinnon and family. Here we also received a warm welcome as is open to all old Durham friends and were treated to a spin around the Fort and the Port in their fine Hudson touring car. With his son Everard, Mr McKinnon conducts a large, modern sales stable, with a capacity for 48 horses. Miss Flora operates the car with the dexterity of any chauffeur and took our party out to the northern outskirts to inspect the mammoth plant of the Western Dry Dock Co. where 900 men are engaged. Here we inspected the Nor. Navigation Co's new steamship the "Noronic" in course of construction, which when completed next summer, will be the largest fresh water vessel in the world. The top deck is about 80 feet above water level. Fittings and furnishings are of the best, and when finished, it will be a veritable floating palace. The contract price is $750,000 though total cost will be estimated reach the million. In the works we were pleased to run across Thos McDougall, who since leaving Durham has secured lucrative employment there and who kindly conducted us through the boat and plant.

While viewing the present largest boat of the N. N. Co. the previous day,—the Hammonic, another luxurious one—we ran across Geo. McMurray, who has been chauffeur here for the summer, but leaving by that boat for Toronto. Peter Troy, from below Orchard, was also on the wharf, en route to teach school near Port Frances. Over in Fort William, we visited Will Harris, now manager of the Times Journal, who took us through their newspaper and job plants, and Chas. Farquharson, who is on the night reporters' staff of the same paper. The many enquiries we have had since leaving as to Dr. Farquharson's health, show the widespread interest and desire that our pastor may resume his activities.

But we must bring our letter, already too long, to a close. Let Fort William last evening and after following a rocky ridge and river beds for some miles, came upon a good farming country along the Rainy River district, and crossed at Rainy River into Northern Minnesota, all in the night. On arising, we are re-crossing the boundary into south eastern Manitoba and after a thickly wooded region, the prairies are looming upon us. In a couple hours we reach Winnipeg.
