TOWN TOPICS

Best Baltimore Oysters for Thanksgiving at B. A. Rowe's.

Robt. Ewen has disposed of his implement business to Mr. J. Damm.

Owing to a blunder of our supply house in issuing page 12, the issue was left blank and not discovered in time to remedy it.

Two weddings have taken place on Wednesday of this week. At 6 o'clock, at the home of the bride's father in Glenelg, Miss Bella Binnie was married to Mr. Wm. Beer. At 5 o'clock in the Baptist Church, Miss Jean Fallaise was united to Rev. D. Pink.

Ever since the disastrous fire which burned Black's Hardware store to the ground occurred, steady rebuilding work has been going on and the framework of the new structure is now about completed. An almost entirely new brick wall between McFarlane & Co. and the new building was finished and 2nd story front of the Drug Store is also being renovated by new brickwork.

Mayor Wm. Black informs us that there will be no October Horse Fair. This event is scheduled for to-day, Thursday and the Mayor states that if the merchants and business men do not come along with the necessary funds, horse fairs in Durham are a matter of history as far as he is concerned. He has figured the cost of each fair to be as low as 1-3 cents, per contributor, but deplores the fact that some cannot see their way clear to even give this amount in spite of extra business done.

Rather a singular mistake occurred in Prizeville Prize List last week. In the Durham Cattle class the name of H. J. Milliner appears four times where A and J Sealey should have been, so Mr. Arthur Sealey informs us. On looking up copy we find the printer is not to blame and as the Chronicle and Standard have the same error the mistake must have originated in the Judges' books. A. Sealey, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, for calf, 1st for milk cow, Dr. Jamieson's prize, 1st, and 2nd for 1 yr heifer, 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, for heifer calf.

Traffic on the main street is at a standstill this week, owing to the moving of the town hall. The building is now safely on its way northward, but its width blocks the street, preventing driving through the business district. For the same reason several electric lines have had to be lowered, plunging the town into darkness save for the light shed from the moon and coal oil lamps.

ATTENDANCE REWARDS

Whether the children of the members of the Methodist church are regular church attenders or not is not known, but a unique way has been adopted to keep the youngsters going steadily and is said to be successful. Each child is given a packet of tickets, specially numbered, and drops one in a box at the door at the close of every service. When the tickets are done, the child is given a hymn book or testament as a reward.

WON ATHLETIC MEDAL

Wilfred Hunt, a graduate of Durham High School has distinguished himself as an athlete of merit at the O. Sound Collegiate where he is now attending. At the recent field day of sports, he was successful in clearing up several events and won the senior championship medal. The victor is a son of Ex-Reeve Hunt of Glenelg and grandson of Mr. John Hunt of town.

Ebenezer Methodist Church at Vicars

held successful anniversary services on Sunday. The church was crowded to the doors at both services and the preaching of Rev. Geo. Kendall, of Drumore, was very acceptable. A tea-meeting was held on Monday evening and once more the building was packed to overflowing. After the tea, a lengthy program of music, song and dialogue was given. In fact the program was so long that it could not be finished at one session. Addresses were also given by R. J. Ball, M. P., Revs. Kendall and Ward, R. Brigham and others.

A LADY IN THE PULPIT

Mrs. Rev. Prudham took her husband's place in the pulpit of the Methodist Church on Sunday evening and proved an able substitute. For 40 minutes she told in an entertaining narrative style, experiences which occurred during her seven years of missionary work in Japan. One interesting point was the statement that English is a compulsory subject on the High School curriculum in Japan, but that they in their sphere of missions, even refused this unless an hour was spent with the Bible every day. She also stated that one of the saddest sights she witnessed in Japan was the return of the soldiers from the Russo-Japanese war, the army ranks being depleted of many brave husbands and fathers of her Japanese friends.

WELLS WENT DRY

The continued dry spell of weather last week was responsible in completely draining several wells in different parts of the town and caused many residents to walk half a block or so to borrow some of the precious fluid from their neighbors. To show that Providence is no respecter of persons in distress, the wells at the rectory and the manse were also drained and it was necessary for the ministers to look elsewhere. This fact made room for alleged jokers, who should be "sat on" hard. One cracked an outrageous pun, when he said "oh well, the preshears always vote "dry" any way.

GUILD EXECUTIVE

At a meeting of the Presbyterian Guild on Monday night, the following slate of officers were elected for the ensuing term: Hon. Pres., Mr. N. W. Campbell, B. A.; President, Mr. Chas. C. Ramage; 1st Vice Presidents (deyotional)—Misses E. McKenzie and Z. Black; 2nd Vice President (Literary)—Miss R. Niven; 3rd Vice Pres., Miss F. McCoskey; Recording Secretary, Miss I. Campbell; Treasurer, Mr. Thos. Lauder, Jr.; Social committee, Mr. S. Ferguson, Miss Z. Marshall; Musical com., Miss A. Ramage, Miss L. Kelsey. The next meeting will be held on Oct. 27, owing to Thanksgiving Day falling on next Monday.

Struck by the Train at Dundalk Station

Fred McClocklin, of Holstein, Seriously Injured.

By what seems to have been almost a miracle, two Holstein men, Fred McClocklin and John Manary, escaped being killed by the northbound train at the C. P. R. station in Dundalk on Friday night. Both men were struck by the engine and Mr. McClocklin has suffered the loss of several toes as a result of the accident while both received body injuries.

With scores of others they had been awaiting the night train for home after spending the day at Dundalk Fair. The excursion crowd was augmented by many from the village so that when the train was due, standing room on the station platform was almost at a premium. When the express did draw in half an hour later, Mr. McClocklin and Mr. Manary were standing at the edge of the platform and being unable to draw backward owing to the onward pressure of the crowd, the monster struck them and hurled them forward. Mr. Manary landed clear of the engine which stopped immediately after, but his friend was not so fortunate, the wheels passing over the front part of his feet as he lay half stunned on the rails. The whole affair happened so suddenly that very few were aware that an accident had happened.

First aid medical remedies were given in the baggage coach, and at Priceville Dr. D. B. Jamieson was phoned to ask him to meet the evening train. Examination revealed that his toes were badly mangled while some were already missing. Others were so badly shattered that they were later removed. On the left foot the three largest digits and a part of the foot are missing and on the right the large toe and adjoining member. His shoes of course were cut almost to ribbons. Mr. Manary suffered several bruises and is still feeling sore.

Comparison of Prices.

Much is being said and heard concerning the high cost of living to-day and below we have compiled a schedule of market quotations which prove that this is no idle dream. In some cases, the cost of a man's dinner has increased 50 per cent. The first column of figures are the quotations appearing in the Review on Oct. 16, 1884, exactly 29 years ago, the second row are produced from the reports in October 1903, exactly ten years ago. The third column is the present day price. In some cases where two prices have been mentioned the average has been taken.

A New High School Building.

A new High School building has been for years recognized as a necessity in Durham and it is gratifying to know that the council has at last taken steps to submit a by-law for the endorsement of the people providing for the purchase of site and building and equipping a new High School. This by-law will be voted on at the January elections and will no doubt receive, as it deserves the hearty endorsement of the ratepayers.

The educational atmosphere of Durham and vicinity has long been noted, but if the town is to continue to be a leader in this respect a step forward must be taken or retrogression is sure to follow. The requirements for teaching chemical and physical science as at present demanded, can not be met in the present building, and failure to meet these requirements, will inevitably detract from the standing of the school and lead to a lowering of its influence as well as a lowering of the present liberal grants. In view of the flight of the Model School we cannot afford to take chances with the much more important High School and we hope to see the By-Law overwhelmingly sustained and a new building planned for immediately after.

The amount spread over twenty or twenty-five years will not be burdensome and self respect demands that the new school be forthcoming. Inspectors and others who know of the progress being made in places similar to Durham bear testimony that Durham needs to make up or soon she will lag behind where hitherto she has been in advance.

GADD-BARBER

Wednesday last, 8th October, 1913, the home and grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Barber, Normanby, presented a scene of animation, rendered so by the presence of over 100 guests met to do honor to the nuptials of their daughter Jennie to Mr. Robt. Gadd, blacksmith of Varney.

The ceremony took place at 3 p. m. on the lawn in front of the house. A crescent of evergreens stretched across the lawn and in the centre of the crescent was the bridal bower in which the happy pair took their position side by side, Mrs. Kendall playing the wedding march. They were supported by Mr. Harold Barber, brother of the bride and Miss Ella Carson, cousin of the groom. Little Miss Ella Wilkinson was flower girl and sweetly did her part. Rev. Mr. Kendall, pastor of the bride, performed the ceremony and after the solemn vows had been taken there was a period of handshaking and congratulations that spoke respect for the happy couple, though physically a trying experience.

The fair bride was attractive in a dress of shadow lace over white satin with touches of blue. There was also the popular bridal veil and orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and carnations. Her going away suit was of cheviot navy blue with lace waist, white hat with plume.

The bridesmaid was also attractive in a white embroidered dress and sash. The flower girl wore a white lawn dress with a large sash of pale blue satin ribbon and carried a basket of ferns and flowers.

As evening drew near the large company were seated and a bounteous repast partaken of. At the close Rev. Mr. Kendall proposed a toast to the happy couple, which was also spoken to by Messrs Jas. Watson, W. L. Falkingham, Wm. Allan, Rev. Mr. Ward, Thos. A. Harris, Wm. Groat, David Leith, C. Ramage and Mrs. A. Tuck. All breathed felicitations for happiness in life to the young couple, Mr. Kendall giving in his address much good advice tending to long life, joy and true happiness.

Music, songs, quips and friendly intercourse whiled away a few pleasant hours.

Mrs. Rudolph, Walkerton, a sister of Mrs. Barber and Mrs. Gadi. Riny River, mother of the groom, were present. Mr. T. Harris came home unexpectedly and gave the party a pleasant surprise.

The Review extends hearty congratulations to the young couple and wishes them a pleasant life voyage.

Bentinck Home Burned.

Caused by a defective chimney, a destructive fire burned the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Boyce on the Bentinck baseline on Monday. The house which was the property of Mr. Robt. Twamley, burned rapidly once the blaze had a start and efforts to save it were in vain. The neighbors who formed a voluntary brigade were able to save most of the down stairs furniture but the 2nd floor effects were all consumed. There is $250 insurance on the effects.

Had the wind been coming in the opposite direction, the barn also would have been destroyed. Mrs. Boyce and two children were alone at the time, Mr. Boyce being employed in town.

In Memoriam

JOSEPH TOWNSEND

We failed to notice in Fergus and Guelph papers a few weeks ago the death of the above gentleman at the home of his brother Mr. Ralph Townsend, West Garafraxa on Sept. 13th, 1913. He was in his 72nd year. As founder of the Durham Review it is fitting that we give some prominence to the passing of this amiable gentleman, who for seven years controlled this paper.

Joseph Townsend was born in 1842 at the Peak, Derbyshire, England and came to this country to Guelph at the age of 16, having worked in England since he was 9 years of age. His parents and family came to an uncle in Guelph Township, Joseph, the eldest son, conducting the negotiations that secured the old homestead of 100 acres in Garafraxa. Six brothers and one sister survive, all near Belwood excepting Ben in Goderich.

He learned printing in the Mercury office in Guelph and from 1860 to 1867 was in Elora. A few years later he bought the Elora Express, two other papers being there also. From here he went to Orangeville and formed a partnership with one Shaw, which proved disastrous to Joe. They published the Advertiser and later took in Fisher Munro.

After ten troubled years here he moved to Dundalk in 1877 and started the "Guide" the two first issues being printed in Orangeville. One year in Dundalk tired him and his ambition led him to move his plant to Durham, Norman McLarty being one of the teamsters who hauled it. This was in February 1878 and on the 14th of that

Mount Forest Business College

Is a school where young men and women are properly trained for positions of trust. Business men are realizing this fact and consequently we are soon able to place our graduates in high class situations. They remain where they are placed because they are prepared for responsible work. When you remember that this college is connected with the Central Business College, Stratford, and the Elliott Business College, Toronto, two of the best institutions in the province, you will not be surprised why we obtain such good results. Ask our students and graduates what we have done for them and they will say "More than anyone else could have done." Graduate from this College and we will do the same for you.
