Freight payments on marl and cement amounted to $90,000.00, of which $6,000.00 was on elay and $28,000.00 on marl. Then there was an outlay of $90,600.00 in coal while there was a wage roll of $45,000.00.

Notwithstanding all this outlay he had the comforting news that a bank indebtedness of $200,000 three years ago, was being steadily reduced. standing at present less than $100,000, He reminded them that the price of cement had been reduced by 25 cts. a bbl. in that time. It can easily be seen by this that had the old price been in vogue with the present management, the shareholders would new be receiving dividends.

Director Doelittle said they largely had the employees to thank for the success of the company and binted that the time was coming when shareholders would be gratified by dividends and employees by increase in wages.
