$20,000 Fox Farm

If present plans do not miscarry Holstein will soon boast a branch of Canada's latest and best growing industry, that of fox-farming. A number of citizens headed by Dr. W. P. Ellis have taken the matter in hand and intend to launch the project in the form of a joint stock company with a capital of $20,000.

Naturally the "men behind" are enthusiastic over the proposed scheme and they expect no trouble in getting started. All kinds of foxes will be kept. There will be pens for the black variety, the silver breed, the red foxes and even the common dog fox will not be forgotten.

At the court held here to-day the case of Snell v. Kellar was decided in favor of the defendant largely by the evidence of Wm. Black.

At the March Fair Mr Jas. Snell bought a horse from Mr Kellar, which in a few days went lame and on reselling it he lost some $30.

The action was that the plaintiff allowed 24 days to elapse before complaining and this and other evidence from farmers and Mr Black who knew the horse, caused the decision.

Two 100-acre farms in Egremont, one lot 24, con 12, and the other lot 24, con 13, are offered by the undersigned who wishes to make a quick sale.

The first mentioned farm has brick house, bank barn, cement stabling, drive shed and other out buildings. A windmill forces water from drilled well to house.

Second farm has comfortable dwelling house, bank barn and other buildings. A good well at house and a never failing spring. School on the farm.
