'The Kingdom Vision'

Continued from page 1

The Minister, the Superintendent and the teacher are not responsible for bringing the children to School or Bible Class. There was needed an organization comparable to political ones; the idea of Adult Bible Classes was only 8 years old, but already there was 7600 enrolled. The secret of success was in "going after folks" and the conditions of success were, it must be in connection with the S. S., must have a set of officers and the related success of certain schools by intelligent co-operative method.

Brief testimony from delegates from many parts of the district followed. Rev. Yaeger had a class of 65 and commended the movement. John Taylor, Hanover, had a class of 60 and also succeeded, they pushed the social side at first. Elmwood delegate told of a class of 8 or 9 developing to 45. Alex McDonald, Mulock, said classes there were well attended, even though at present without a pastor. And. Derby spoke of success in S. Bentinck-Wm. Allan reported a fine spirit of co-operation in Egremont. John Cooper, Hampden, had an average attendance of 40 or 50 and they see that literature and lessons are made use of in the homes during winter, though school is closed. Mr. Main, Holstein, said their school was doing good work and had sent out good men. Rev. M. James passed in regrets from Rev. Mr. Marsh for his unavoidable absence and spoke of the value of the Cradle Roll, and the aim should be to get the whole church interested in Bible Study. R. T. Edwards and staff were strong on temperance work and tried to have every scholar a pledged abstainer. W. J. Young, No. 9, Glenelg, spoke of neglect of parents while teachers were aiming to have every child led to God.

The report of the nominating committee was presented here: a model constitution was adopted and officers appointed as follows: President—John Taylor, Hanover. Vice-President—W. R. Watson, Priceville; Jno. A. Graham, Durham. Rec. Secy.—Miss F. Meredith. Cor. Secy.—Rev. W. W. Prudham; Representatives on Provincial Executive—Alex C. McDonald, Mulock; John Taylor and Rev. W. Prudham. The following Superintendents take charge of the seven divisions of the work as follows: Elementary Grades—Miss M. E. Philip, Holstein; Secondary—David Gilmour, Neustadt, R. R. No 1; Adult Dept.—Norman Pepler, Hanover; Teacher Training—Insp. N. W. Campbell, Durham; Home Dept.—Miss Fannie Friendt, Elmwood; Temperance Dept.—William Allan, Varney; Missionary Dept.—Miss M. Wenger, Aytou.

Officers for Townships: Normanby and Neustadt—Pres., Jno. Cooper, Hanover; Vice Pres., Val. Damm, Aytou; Sec., Jno. Kerr, Varney, Bentinck and Hanover—Pres., Geo. Lorenz, Hanover; Vice Pres., N. Wilding, Elmwood; Sec., Rev. W. J. Yaeger, Hanover. Glenelg and Durham—Pres., R. T. Edwards, Eborale; Vice Pres., Dr. A. C. Wolfe, Durham; Sec., Thos. Allan, Durham.

Rev. Mr. Geiger, Elmwood, on "What a Superintendent should do," gave some most pertinent remarks. He must work and get others to work must use his brains, must be a student of God's word, must study the successes and failures of his school, must see that sound doctrine is taught must avoid monotony, give words of encouragement, and above all work with his heart. It was an eloquent address, forcibly delivered.

Rev. Mr. McLean, Hanover and Hampden, followed on "What a teacher should be and do" and his address was marked by deep earnestness and many wholesome lessons. His ultimate aim should be to bring souls to the King. The honest teacher will find attractions and companionships militate against him, he must know his pupils, their surroundings and view points, be comrade and friend, must come prepared with his lesson, must never be absent from his class unannounced, must be prompt and regular.

The teacher may in a few moments destroy the usefulness of years if his work and conversation is not consistent with his teaching. "It is the life you live that wins, the personal touch that tells." There followed some profitable discussions and the day sessions ended with a growing feeling of brotherly unity and singleness of purpose to be greatly increased during the interval before evening session.

For over two hours in the basement there was a flow of soul and a feast of good things that made making acquaintance easy. The hours were well used, denominationalism was banished from the thoughts and each be-ribboned delegate saw in the others only fellow workers in the same field and servants of the same great Master.

Many citizens were out in the evening and there was an audience enough to furnish inspiration for the best. Rev. J. C. Eddy, D. D., gave a thoughtful address, He brought and extended good wishes from Wellington, already organized, and nothing had done more than these S. School unions to bring the churches together. The S. School stood for inter-denominational friendship, for deeper Bible study, for Evangelism, for a pure Christian nationhood, for Christian warfare against alcohol, impurity etc., and for service for it had been well said that "The S. School is the church at work." It was the real

'enlarger of empire' the great empire of Christ.

Rev. Mr. Halpenny in his closing address paid a compliment to the generous response made that day to the call for union. Lack of "The Kingdom Vision" had been crippling the work of the schools. There were two doors cut of the Sunday School, one leading to the church, the other to the world, the latter catching 8 to 1.

The Kingdom Vision meant that Christ died for Gray South, of all denominations, and he did some plain talking to the churches and those present about selfishly looking to their own growth. The hymn beginning "Like a mighty army moves the church of God" had, in the past, been anything but true. The forming of these unions was the greatest thing ever done to bring the evangelical churches together.

"Are we gaining?" should frequently be asked. Hitherto no one could tell, now with the organizations formed this day it would be known. He paid great tribute to the usefulness of the Cradle Roll and Home Department of the Sunday School and closed a fine address having his auditors warmed up and drinking in his pregnant words with avidity. Seldom has any Convention closed with a finer flavor for the future than did this and seldom has the "God be with you" been sung with deeper feeling.

Next meeting will likely be held in Hanover, which will be fitting for the west of the Riding came out strong.
