Pays to Advertise. The following paragraph from an article by Andrew Lang may prove interestingly suggestive to those who have wares to sell and are shy about advertising them: "When a goose lays an egg," said Mr. Lang, "she just waddles off as if she was ashamed of it—because she is a goose. When a hen lays an egg she calls heaven and earth to witness it! The hen is a natural-born advertiser. Hence the demand for hens' eggs exceeds the demand for goose eggs, and the hen has all the business she can attend to."

Miss Gibson was very rich and Mr. Hanna was very poor. She liked him, but that was all, and he was well aware of the fact. One evening he grew somewhat tender, and at last he said, "You are very beautiful, aren't you, Helen?" "Yes," replied the girl frankly, "I am."

SEVENTY-TWO MET DEATHS Awful Catastrophe at Calumet, Michigan, at a Christmas Tree Celebration

A despatch from Calumet, Michigan, says: On the day which throughout all Christendom is set aside as a day of rejoicing over the birth of the Saviour, Calumet, stricken to the heart by an almost unbelievable catastrophe, stands mourning by the side of its dead, the 72 victims (most of whom were children) of the frightful panic on Christmas eve in the Italian hall. This panic followed a false alarm of fire during the progress of a Christmas tree entertainment arranged for families of the copper strikers. To-day the people of Calumet see their neighbors, their brothers, their sisters and their little children staggering under an almost unbearable burden of distress and grief.

The authorities have so far been unable to trace a man who is said to have gone up the stairs of the Italian hall and raised the cry of fire, which is supposed to have started the panic which led to the fearful crash in the stairway and caused the death of the nearly four score men, women and children. There seems to be little hope he will be apprehended. The other theory that the cry of fire originated within the hall was substantiated on Thursday by Matt Sart, a striker, who lost his son in the disaster. He declared the cry came from a group of men and women toward the front of the hall.

A fourteen-year-old girl who died on Christmas eve was identified. 72. All have now been identified. Five all have now been identified. Three little girls in the Calumet and Hecla hospitals were able on Thursday to be up and about, and they romped around the Christmas tree set up for the patients unaware of the fate which had overtaken some of their brothers and sisters and the father of one of them.

A boy of seven or eight years of age who was taken to one of the morgues showed signs of life soon after, but no restoratives and no physician were immediately available and death ensued. One couple entered the town hall where all the bodies had been gathered to look for their missing child. Their

Where Mayfair Gets Its Name. Most Londoners are probably ignorant of the derivation of the name Mayfair. The special interest attaches to the designation at the moment in view of the forthcoming demolition of Shepherd's Market, whose block of flats is to be erected.

The Longest Straight Railway. Nowhere else in the world is there so long a stretch of railway without a curve as in New Zealand. There a road runs in a perfectly straight line for 135 miles—a fact all the more remarkable because the country is so mountainous that the railways in general have sharp curves and heavy grades.

Through Trains Will Be Running in 1915, Says Vice-President. A despatch from Vancouver says: "We expect to have steel laid into Prince George by January 10, and the track linked up right across the continent before the end of next May," announced Mr. Morley Donaldson, vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway system, who arrived on Tuesday morning en route to the north to conduct an inspection of the line from the Prince Rupert end. "We believe that the new Transcontinental will be ready for operation of through trains early in 1915," said Mr. Donaldson.
