C. L. GRANT

The Durham Review
MAY 7, 1914
N. W. Rowell, K. C.

At the close of a somewhat strenuous session of the Local House it is fitting to give a word of praise to the Leader of the opposition for the gallant and efficient way he has led his little band of supporters. He has "kept the soul of Liberalism" not only alive but has acted on the aggressive in many instances and though voted down by the bulky majority of his opponents, he has caught the eye and ear of Ontario and will capture the heart before long with the sane and progressive measures which he advocates and which we believe Ontario desires.

He abhors anything in the way of "hole-and-corner" work which some partisans think necessary in political life. He believes in treating the people with the utmost frankness and with no mental reservations. More than once he has offered to his opponents to join them in a moral crusade outside of politics. Though having only a small following he hesitated not a moment in casting off one of them when convicted of dishonorable work. An able writer said recently: "It is much and it is well that a man known as a professional Christian and prominent in religious activities should be found willing to take on the burden of party leadership in an Assembly snatched by his presence. He had so fought and so wrought as to have secured almost general recognition as a force to be reckoned with in the political life of Ontario. Gentle as he is in manner his gentleness is not that of weakness but of strength that knows itself to be strong. He urges grappling with social evils in their beginnings. Prevention is better than cure" seems to be his message on Social reform. Hitherto so far as parliamentary action is concerned it has fallen largely upon ears that choose to be deaf.

Final Week in the Legislature.

Bowman Charges

Only a verbatim quotation of the Bowman charges in the Legislature against the Provincial Secretary could show the full seriousness of the charges and the astoundingly bad position in which the Government is put by refusing to investigate them. Government speeches and newspaper articles have endeavored to minimize the whole affair but a perusal of the charges themselves is a convincing answer.

They are so long to quote in full, but some of the most salient features are here given. They begin as follows:

"I, Charles Martin Bowman, a member of the Legislature, charge that an agreement or understanding was corruptly and improperly made between the Provincial Secretary and the organized liquor interests of the Province of Ontario, (the Provincial Secretary) and his department of the Government did co-operate with the organized liquor interests in helping to procure the defeat of the Scott Act in the counties of Welland, Huron and Peel.

I further charge that the said W.K. Snider went to the said counties upon the request and direction of the said Provincial Secretary in order to carry out the said understanding with the organized liquor interests.

The liquor interest, through the organization, had supported the Government in the bye-elections and had given the Government, or some member or members of the Government, assurance that in the next general election they would support the Government. The organized liquor interests had already raised a very large and substantial sum for such purpose.

By reason of the assistance which the organized liquor interests had given the Government candidates in the bye-elections and by reason of the assurance of support in the approaching general election given to the Government or a number of members thereof, it was agreed between the Provincial Secretary and the organized liquor interests, through their representative, that the Government or some member thereof would co-operate with the organized liquor interests to procure the defeat of the Scott Act in the said three counties.

I further charge that the Provincial Secretary illegally, wrongfully and corruptly interfered with and influenced voters of the counties of Welland, Huron and Peel in elections recently held for the purpose of preventing the passing and adoption of the said act, and for the purpose of promoting and securing the cooperation and assistance of the liquor interests of the Province in favor of the Government."

It is frankly amazing that after such serious and deliberate charges the Government should refuse enquiry. The situation in this respect is even worse than last year with the Proudfoot charges. There they did grant an enquiry which was afterwards stilled. Here they have not even granted an investigation, imperfect as it might be.

Gerrymander

In spite of the most emphatic protests not only from the Liberals in the House, but from many outside quarters, the gerrymander was put through by the Government at the close of the Session. The Liberals are practically eliminated from three of the seats at present held by them, namely, two of the Bruces, which are changed from Liberal to Conservative majorities and from Monck which is completely wiped out. Several other changes are all in the direction of strengthening materially the chances of Conservative candidates and the net result obviously unfair, has led to storms of protest.

NOTES

The Session, which closed its business on Wednesday afternoon, and was finally prorogued on Friday, May 1st, lasted ten weeks and in point of view of strenuousness, was admittedly the record session since the Gurney year of 1903.

The Workmen's Compensation Act was given its third reading and goes into effect on the 1st of January.

Hon. James Duff's Compulsory Station Enrollment Act was given its third reading. J. C. Anderson of South Bruce moved in amendment providing that the Council of any County might, by by-law, exempt their district from the provisions of the Act. The amendment was not accepted. Mr Duff pointed out that full compulsory registration and inspection would not come into force until 1918.

—The Duke of Argyll, formerly the Marquis of Lorne, died last week aged 93. He was Governor General of Canada from 1878 to 1883 and made many friends here as did his wife, who was Princess Louise, daughter of Queen Victoria and sister to our present Gov. General. He leaves no heirs and title and estates will go to his nephew.

—A state of Civil War exists in Arizona, the strife being between capital and labor. Only one concession asked by the men has been received, that of recognition of the Union, but as they feel that all other concessions are bound up in this one, they have taken up arms. It is pitiful to read that women and children have met deaths. No doubt civil authority will be restored but at what expense of bitterness! The teachings of Henry George or some modification of them will yet be necessary to bring peace on earth.

—Among members of the Legislature who have distinguished themselves during the session that closed last week in Toronto, is Mr Wm. McDonald, of Centre Bruce. He has displayed an ability and a courage that marks him for higher things. His riding has been cut up and mangled till now there is a majority of over 300 against him in the riding he lives in. If North Bruce recognizes worth it will return him again. He entered the campaign in Centre Bruce at the eleventh hour and won. We predict his success again if he enters the field in spite of the guns being loaded against him.

DORNOCH

An illustrated lecture on Life in the Orient will be given in the Presbyterian Church on the evening of Friday, May 8th, by Rev. W. H. McQueen, M. A. Mr. McQueen is also giving his lecture at the Rocky Sault on the previous evening and at Williamsford the following evening.

Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Mills have returned from Shelburne. Mr McQueen will take his three services next Sunday.

Mr Will Smith had the serious misfortune to lose one of his horses by colic on Monday.

Paring the electrical storm of last Saturday, a close charge of lightning shattered a rafter and almost burned the corner post of Mr Wm. O'Meara's barn.

Mr J. H. Park was in Eugenia this week.
