e St., Toronto.

ept whole

et baking.

MALL COMPANY

hand from the wrist the middle finger is proportions. GGIST WILL TELL YOU Write for Book of the Eye

e live for if not to ss difficult for each ent used by Physicians.

- Are you aware, e, that your dog has v little Williel" Mrs. What, your little Wiljust got over the searh, Mrs. Sausly, if anyhappen to Fido I'd best remedy for sunduru,

eczema

A skin food!

ruggists and Stores.-60g.

Foolish Young Man;

Or, the Belle of the Season.

CHAPTER XIV .- (Continued). Her lips quivered, but she did not iid not leave her face. He waited, his eves seeking hers, seeking them that thrilled with the tempest of emotion which raged under his forced calm:

a strange look from so young a girl. looked at it, and set his teeth. Heaven It was as if she were fighting against and earth, how strange it was! This the subtle spell of his words, the degirl had taken possession of him body mand for her love which shone in his and soul; every fibre of his being clam-"No. I am not angry," she said at last; able to see her, hear her, meant happi-

He made a movement towards her, but she shrank back, only a little, but "And this is love!" he said, between perceptibly, and he checked the move- his teeth. "Yes-and it's the only love ment, the desire to take her in his arms, of my life. God help me if you say "You are not angry? Then—Ida—I 'no,' dearest! But you must not—you may call you so?-you don't mind my must not!" loving you? Dearest, will you love me just a little in return? Wait!" for she I know that I have startled you. that I ought not to have spoken so soon, started to meet Ida, Miss Falconer made her. At last, with a singular gesture, as first, so graceful that it made him long still more intensely to take her in his arms, she said in a low voice:

"I do not know— No! I do not want you to touch me, please!" His hand you to touch me, please!" His hand fell to his side. "I can't answer you. It is so—so sudden! No one has ever is so is so the first one for the first in the long of the fruit. Boil the law in the Indian territory.

I do not know to take her is the stairs—said to himself, "like a sum the lindian territory.

Usually the scout becomes a very in the stairs—said to himself, "like a the first in the fir He laughed from mere excess of joy, for her pure innocense, her unlikeness, her eyes resting languidly on his eyniin her ignorance of love and all per- cally smiling face.

He made a gesture, repudiating the dawn.

not been—I mean it is not because you coner!" exclaimed one of the young men, whose only name appeared to be Bertle, the sweetest -- But even if you had ure that I don't know by heart as if I'd there seemed to be a confirmed and genlearnt it. When I am away from you cities, and Lady Plaistow says she doesclusters in soft little curls at your fore- of the mant to be drowned before the end clusters in soft little curls at your forehead, the long lashes sweeping your cheek, the—the trick your eyes have of turning from grey to violent—oh, I know your face by heart, and I love it for its book," she replied, promptly but slowly.

There was a shout of laughter for its beauty; but if you were to lose There was a shout of laughter.

There was a shout of laughter.

That is just what Mr. Howard reit all, if you were not the loveliest ereature God had ever made, it would blied," said Bertie, complainingly, "Oh, Mr. Howard! Everyone knows make no difference. You would still be you: and it is you I want. Ida—give world." remarked Lady Claraford her quiescence did not mean yielding. and a chorus of "No's."

It is true that I do not know. And I am—afraid." A wan little smile that was more piteous than tears curved her lips: for "afraid" seemed strange coming from her, the fearless child of the She shook her head as she helped herhills and dales. "If—if I said 'yes'— self to a couple of strawberries Ah. but I do not!" she broke off as he made to draw her to him, and she shrank back. "I do not! I said "if," it would you drift into the middle of the lake not be true; it would not be fair. For or the river, the wind drops, and you not be true; it would not be fair. For or the river, the wind drops, and you is it in a scorching sun and get a head-ter—after you had gone. And it would ache. Please leave me out. I shall tates is won; something in her girlish Howard smiled at her with frank a magazine come addressed to himremember that the woman who hesi- ble of so exhausting an emotion." innocence, in her exquisitely sweet can- admiration. "Dearest!" he said, in so low a voice drag that chair up here—it's out of the subscription he pays for it. them sounded loud and shrill by con- cushions so, and put up the end for your me!-I will not press you. I will be er?"

content to wait. God knows you are "Thanks." she murmured, sinking inight to hesitate! Your love is too to the soft nest he had made. great, to precious a thing to be given "Do you object to my cigar? Say so, to me without thought. I'm not worthy if you do, and-walt. You shall think of all I have said; she put in. "No, I like it." and, let your answer be what it may, I His eye shone with keen apprecia-

You are good to me," she said, in a feel like sleeping—which I generally faintly troubled voice. "Yes. I know, I do. do, how can I win your love?"

you let me go—alone?"

He rose and went towards the horses. His own raised its head and seemed inclined to start, but stood uncertain and eventually remained quiet beside the chestnut. Stafford brought them to where Ida stood, her eyes downcast.

The rose and went towards the horses. They are doubtless engaging to introduce to a wider public. The titles of some of the new color-blended materials for men that the principal London for men that the principal London out the objectionable sputtering tailors are trying to introduce to a wider public. The titles of some of the new color-blended materials for men that the principal London for men that the principal London tailors are trying to introduce to a wider public. The titles of some of the new color-blended materials for men that the principal London to the objectionable sputtering wider public. The titles of some of the new color-blended materials for men that the principal London for men that the principal London to the objectionable sputtering wider public. The titles of some of the new color-blended materials for men that the principal London for men that the principal London tailors are trying to introduce to a wider public. The titles of some of the new color-blended materials for men that the principal London for men tha to where Ida stood, her eyes downcast, which the word 'shares.' 'stocks,' 'diaher face pale. With his own bridie over his arm he put her into the saddle. rehis ar she slowly put on her left gauntlet. He drew the other from her, and as she one of them?" she asked, with elabor- chestnut, purple and brown. coat, over his heart. The color flooded her face, but the blush was followed by the former look of trouble and doubt. She held out her ungloved right hand and he took it and held it for a moment, then raised it to his lips; but he did not kiss it.

"No!" he said, with stern repression. "Stafford! No: all that he knows about that he doesn't know about that shout money is the art of spending it; about money is the art of spending it; shades would not be particularly noticeable in a crowd if you did not his fingers like water through a sleve; has not been rinsed out.

"Stafford! No: all that he knows about that he doesn't know about the comb after shampooing, it is noticeable in a crowd if you did not his fingers like water through a sleve; has not been rinsed out.

"No!" he said, with stern repression. "Stafford! No: all that he knows about the doesn't know about looked at him questioningly, he put it ate indifference. to his lips and thrust it under his waist-coat, over his heart. The color flooded "Stafford! No; all that he knows drinks, but quite 50 per cent. of the good coffee and tea.

world. Passion's marvellous spell still held him, he was still throbbing with a half-painful ecstasy of her nearness, of the touch of her hand, the magic of her voice. For the first time he was in love. In love with the most exquisite, the most wonderful of God's divine treatures. He knew, as he had said, that her answer meant life or death to him, the life of infinite, nameless joy, the death of life in death.

"He is," he assented, with an air of profound melancholy. "Stafford has bridge unpleasant knack of getting what he wants. It's very disgusting, but it's true That is why he is so general a favorite Why, if you walked into any drawing room and asked who was the most popular man in London, the immediate and unanimous reply would be 'Stafford Orme.'"

She settled the cushions a little more comfortably.

"He is," he assented, with an air of profound melancholy. "Stafford has of their freshness and are render-ed much juicier and more tooth-some by slight cooking. Here are some receipts that make use of them:

Cherry Tapioca.—To make a delicity would be 'Stafford Orme.'"

She settled the cushions a little more comfortably. the death of life in death.

Was he going to lose her? The very question set him trembling ored for her. To be near her, just to be and her voice, though very low, was ness; to be torn from her-

CHAPTER XV.

Quite an hour after Stafford had ingly near his own; but she drew it which would have done credit to a hot-a little catch in her voice. "I want to the maid who had gone to wake her think—to understand." She paused for with her early cup of tea had been althink—to understand. She paused for most startled by the statuesqueness of a moment, her eyes still seeking the distant hills, as if in their mysterious her beauty, as she lay with her head and smooth and smoo tant hills, as if in their mysterious her beauty, as she lay with her head able to understand and speak Enghels she might find something that pillowed on her snow-white arm and helpful she might find something that pillowed on her snow-white arm and delicious confection, wash, stem to an appreciable extent, and the of those of the prairie and Pacific many in the number of her ships, should explain this great mystery, this her wonderful hair streaming over the lish, for he is the medium between wonderful thing that had happened to pillow-had suffered herself to be dressher. At last, with a singular gesture, ed with imperial patience, and looked— the Red Man and the officer of the taining to it, to the women he knew, "Good heavens, no!" he responded. made the charm of her well-nigh maddening. To think that he should be the gic palace. Whenever you 'arrive' you will find things-'things' in the most "I am not angry—ought I to be? Yes, comprehensive sense—ready for you, I suppose so. We are almost strangers Breakfast at Brae Wood is the most movable of feasts. I've proved that, for They say that love, all true love, I'm a late bird myself; and to my joy I comes at first sight," he said. "I used have learned that this is the only house to laugh at the idea; but now I know with which I am acquainted that you I loved you the first time can get red-hot bacon and kidneys at any hour from eight to twelve; that Her lip quivered and her brows lunch runs plenteously from one to three, and that you can get tea and "It seems so wonderful," she said, toast-my great and only weakness, musingly. "I do not understand it. The first time! We scarcely spoke—and I was almost angry with you for fishing in the Heron. And I did—did not think letters and I did—did not think letters and I did—did not think letters and I did—did not think letters."

I toast—my great and only weakness, Miss Falconer—whenever you like to ring for it. You will find Lady Clansford presiding at the breakfast-table: I believe she has been sitting there—ami-

"Is it likely? Why should you?" he proval, as if he were some paid jester, was just an ordinary man, and went into the breakfast-room. There crossing your path for the first and were others there beside Lady Clansperhaps the only time. Good heavens! ford-most of them young people-it is, there was no reason why you should alas! only the young people who can give a thought to me, why I should sleep through the bright hours of a inger in your mind for half a moment summer's morn-and a discussion on after I was out of your sight. But for the programme of the day was being he Haven't I told you how beauti- carried on with a babel of voices and ful you are, Ida! You are the loveliest, much laughter "You shall decide for us, Miss Fal-looked at him with a puzzled, for he was always addressed as and spoken of by it. "It's a toss-up between I can't explain. See, now, a drive and a turn on the Lake in the there's not a look of yours, not a feat- electric launch. I proposed a sail, but you: and it is you I want. Ida—give yourself to me—trust me! Oh, dearest, you don't know what love it! Let me to do? Where is he? Does anyone

There was a general shaking of heads "I had a swim with him this morning, tie. "It's no use waiting for Orme; he mightn't turn up till dinner time. Miss "No, thanks," she said, with her musical drawl. "I know what that means, to be alone to think of all-all you have showed that she knew what the effort up, and still kneeling, took both her care whether you hate me or not, I he does not read the literature, yet ter and a little lemon juice. hands in his. It did not occur to him to shouldn't like putting you to the trou- they believe the pleasure of having "Dearest!-for you are that to feet so, and-how is that. Miss Falcon- for a photographer. The accom- salt.

"You'll go off to find some other nook." won't complain. But-Ida-you must- tion: this girl was not only a beautyn't forget that I love you with all my which is almost commonplace nowadays heart and soul!"

She looked down at his handsome face, the face over which her lips had hoverthe face over which her lips had hoverDon't fiesitate if you would; I'm not London Tailors Introduce Over ed only a short time since, and her lips reading it: I never do. I keep it there feel that. Perhaps I ought to say She declined the paper with a gesture Wait! Let me see you again—you that you are to talk and I'm to listen. even if he suggests you would look Stained flour boards can be cleando, how can I win your love?"

She drew her hands from his with a left a party in the breakfast room left a party in the breakfast room green."

well in a "dull blue and willow ed by scrubbing with chloride of lime, using a tablespoon to a pail green." 1-I will go now." she said. "Will time: but where are the others? My fa- These are two of the 115 shades of water.

sisting even in that supreme moment having joined them, is a member of the having joined them, is a member of the almost irresistible desire to take all-powerful sect of money-worship-

"No?" he said, with stern repression. It is a good idea to rinse musling the said must be said must be said musingly:

"Is he so generous, then?" she asked. With a delicate yawn behind her hand. Howard nodded, and was silent for a grateful: then letting her eyes rest on his with an inscrutable look, she spoke softly to the horse and rode away, with Donald and Bess clamering joyously after the reast of the year flower of the said of th tion of alarm. "Stafford would be in-expressibly annoyed. He hates a fuss even more than most Englishmen, and would take it very unkindly if you did-n't let a little thing like that pass unnoticed. Oh, yes, I am his greatest friend. I don't think"—slowly and contemplatively—"that there is anything he wouldn't do for me, or anything I wouldn't do for him—excepting to get "A martyr on the altar of friendship, the said. "Mr. Orme must be very in

"You mean amongst men?" she said

'Well-I didn't." he replied drily.

She laughed a little scornfully.

love with every woman he meets.

Eddie Spring-in-the-Crowd Is Strange Character.

Eddie Spring-in-the-Crowd.

self more than offsets the small vested in a new pair of boots.

COLORS IN MEN'S CLOTHES.

One Hundred Shades.

cynical enjoyment.
(To be continued.)

Howard leant back and laughed wi

Cherry Dishes.

up early—go out in the rain— Oh, it isn't true! I'm only bragging," he broke off, with a groan. "I've done both and shall do them whenever he wants me to. I'm a poor creature, Miss Falconer." Cherries are among the summer fruits that are much improved by cooking. Somehow they lose none

She settled the cushions a little more cious cherry pudding soak one small ples. If a bit of butter is placed on cupful of tapioca in water over night. In the morning add a pinch Howard smiled and eyed her quesof salt and cook until clear. Then add butter the size of an egg and "Oh. I know the sort of man he is." one cupful of stoned cherries (the she said. "I've read and heard about them. The sort of man who falls in sour cherries are preferable). Add sour cherries are preferable). Add to this a half cupful of cherry wine bake until bubbles appear on the had used four tomatoes. top. Serve very cold with whipped A NOTED BLACKFOOT SCOUT.

with rich pastry. Stone the cher- off the bottom of the stalks and should be held abroad that the half the vessels affoat are British. ries and fill the pie dish. Then pour stand them in water about two countrie's energies are devoted al- According to the latest issue of Wherever a North-West Mounted over them four tablespoonfuls of inches deep, they will freshen and most entirely to farming, and that Lloyd's Register the United States you'd naturally say 'no,' and send me the stairs in the daintiest of morning away. But if you think you can like frocks, with her auburn hair shining dian Reserve be must have an Inway. But if you think you can like frocks, with her auburn hair shining blespoonful of flour. Put on an uplearn to love me—
learn to love me—
like gold in the sunlight, and an exlike gold in the sunlight, and an exlike gold in the sunlight, and an exlike gold in the sunlight, and an exlearn to love me—
learn to love me—
lear cer is employed by the Mounted a moderate oven. When cool dust material by artificial light to wear yearly produces forty per cent. of than 3,500 ships. Then comes Gerdon't touch me!" she said, with She had slept the sleep of the just— Police, lives at the barracks, and the top with a generous sprinkling a light-colored apron, and spread the total field products of Canada's many within 500,000 of the United > and pit one pound of large, firm strain on the eyes will not be so provinces. This Western country but her boats are small in size. cherries, putting a pound of sugar great. the Medicine Man and chief of the out of the carry and put them in She smiled languidly. That means that I am late," she said, averse to police control, yet they them away in the syrup until the out of the syrup and put them in a deep dish. Let the syrup boil up once and pour over the cherries. This operation should be repeated for three mornings. On the fourth morning, boil the syrup almost to the thickness of candy, dip the cherries in it and let them get thoroughly coated, then place them separately on flat dishes and dry.

dark place until ready to use.

cherry pie, as usual, but omit the milk from slot machines on halfupper crust. When almost done, holidays. beat one egg until very light and The new battleship "Marlbor- Manufactured goods. $1,600,000,000 add to it one scant half cupful of ough" has been commissioned at Farm products (grain, rich cream. Pour the mixture over Devenport as the flagship of the live stock, dairy, the top of the pie. Put the pie back | First Battle Squadron. in the oven and bake until the cus- Nottingham corporation voted products) ...... tard is set. This makes a very at- $355,000 in relief of the local rates Forests ...... tractive as well as an appetizing from the profits of gas, tramways, Mines ......

ful dish that calls for fresh cher- was caused by a fire that broke out ries. For a course in a warm- in the New Era Joinery Company's breaking the fruit and in the place In an amateur bands contest at agriculture; that industrialism is metropolitan police the finest hody of each stone is placed a nut meat. Hayward's Heath the silver chal- the largest force in the wellbeing of men in the world and this real Hazel nuts are the easiest to use, lenge shield in the first section was and prosperity of the country. stewed with sugar, water and a lit- ed to ladies, as damage to the very pansion demanded by the growing sion.

too late then."

You're right," he assented grimly if you don't drown anyone this time, I tribe should be the only Indian au
The housewife tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apricots are being landwho has an eye to the demands of tarines and apr he said after a pause. "Yes, I do! I'd chaperone and deputy hostess was try-son ticket photographed on post-son ticket photogr Howard with one of Sir Stephen's priceless Havannas between his lips, a "And—and I would say it if—if I were sure. But I—yes, I am all confused. It is like a dream. I want to think, to ask She put up her hand to her lips, as if to keep them from trembling. "I want to be alone to think of all—all you have showed that she knew what the effort of the showed that she knew what the she knew what the effort of the she knew what the she knew the sh

Household Hints.

Silver spoons that are stained Eddie has no aversion to sitting with egg should be rubbed with panying photograph shows him at., New patchwork designs show tired in a new serge with bright large pink tulips on a neutral brass buttons. Eddie has also in- ground. Use a funnel in filling a hot water bottle if you would save the rubber. The best way to mend linen is to stretch it smoothly over an embroidery frame. A paper basket folded over the Don't be afraid if your tailor outer edge and top of ice in the rehappens to say you would look well frigerator will save the iceman's in a "mauve and black suit," or bill.

red and grass green, Damson pur- before shampooing. She shrugged her shoulders.

She shrugged her shoulders.

The tea kettle should be washed ple, mulberry and sepia, mauve and The tea kettle should be washed clean every night and filled fresh These names read like mixed every morning, if you would have done, butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. To strain soup, pour it, while hot, through a muslin cloth which has just been wrung out of ice water. When it has all been strained, heat again and serve.

A palatable way to serve cold boiled potatoes is to put them through the sieve. Season them well with butter and salt; form into cones and brown in the oven. When pressing tucks in crepe de chine use a piece of tissue paper between the iron and the right side. The tucks can be seen and at the same time protected. A baked apple is the most easily digested of any way of serving aptop of each apple before it is put in the oven, the flavor will be much

When tomatoes are dear try buyvery thin on lettuce leaves. You will find that it gives the necessary or a little lemon juice and sugar interest and flavor of a tomato salto taste. Flavor with vanilla and ad, and is as satisfying as if you Asparagus when it comes from the market is bound to be a little ada's grain-growing prairies that it merchant ships Great Britain is far Cherry Pie. Line a pie plate wilted. If you cut about one inch is but natural the impression ahead of any other country. Nearly the purchase of the tramways.

Occurrences in The Land That Reigns Supreme in the Commercial World.

German Cherry Pic.-Make a proceed against dairymen selling Canada into prominence.

and electricity. Cherry Salad .- Here is a delight- Damage to the extent of $100,000

Dried Cherries.—The housewife Large quantities of cherries, nec-fruit is not to be had in abundance, France for the London markets. promoting the manufacturing, What, for example is like a dream. I want to think, to ask paper across his knees. He rose as she myself if—if I can do what you want. Lapproached, and checking a sigh of re-

A man named William Jeffery of Cardiff, aged seventy-three, died in a tramway car from shock on reading the news of the Empress of Ire- Will Soon Be 40,000 Merchant

Without a single exception, 1,700 blankets lent to the poor of Southbeen returned into stores in good on the seas as now. There has been afther sindin' over for yer. She in Portsmouth Dockyard, has been mated that the total number of foorst? Damage estimated at $250,000 000, and that their total tonnage self most. of espionage.

was caused by a fire in a large warehouse at Goswell road, London, E.C., occupied by Messrs. Hart and Sons, fancy goods manu-Six lives were lost on Whit Monday in a Sea Scout disaster on the water reaching to their necks. London's latest dream, a garden suburb for dockland, seems like

THE BANNER PROVINCE.

Ontario Produces 40 Per Cent. of the rest are sailing craft. The Field Products of Canada.

So much has been heard of Can- In the number and tonnage of its a white cloth on the sewing table. nine provinces. It live stock and States total. Norway outranks has built up such cities as Winni- Germany and France, however, are peg, Calgary, Edmonton, Victoria building vessels faster than the income. In Ontario are mines that, ica, a second to Australia and New third of Canada's mineral output. Indies and Southern Asia, and the

The two sources of national last of all to China and Japan. Not wealth, mining and agriculture, which reach their greatest develop- commercial Sea Lords who scan the and contributory to Toronto, are towers in London, New York, and reinforced by a third-timber. Last Hamburg, can do more than haz-Bristol City Council recommend year's cut of timber in Ontario was and guesses as to the re-arrangeone-fourth of Canada's total of ments of trade and the shifting of the fruit and mash through a col-ander, sweeten to taste and boil Large cracks have appeared in for moneymaking, the greatest years. On only one point do they for ten minutes and then strain. one of the buttresses of London power toward national prosperity, agree unanimously, that the world Boll again until perfectly clear, Bridge, and repairers are now at skimming off occasionally. To work.

Bridge, and repairers are now at and mills of Canada. The table commercial boom, and that its stimevery quart of the cherry juice add one gill of pure brandy. Seal the of the few remaining windmills in lar impression fostered by those great canal. The principal sufferer one gill of pure brandy. Seal the of the few remaining windmills in lar impression fostered by those great canal. The principal sufferer bottles tightly and keep in a cool Kent, has been destroyed by fire. Who have endeavored to bring only from the impending changes will dark place until ready to use. Willesden council has decided to the agricultural possibilities of probably be the Suez Canal.

Canada's Production, 1913.

and all other farm Fisheries .....

These figures indicate that manu-Either the large white or the red Walton-on-Thames district coun- facturing has a greater capital incherries may be used, and it is most cil has acquired a site for a public vested in it than any other form When he was questioned all the employ many more people than satisfaction a representative could effective to mix the two colors. The recreation ground, over six acres in of national energy; that it must

The railways of Canada, in which should then be spread on lettuce Owing to suffragette outrages the $2,500,000,000 has been invested, side the police station is an obserleaves and used or they may be Royal Exchange has now been clos- propose no restriction to the ex-

POPULATING THE SEAS.

Ships Afloat. Never since the world began have in shipbuilding a tremendous boom, says they'll aither kill or cure yer. Samuel Maddick, an electrical which, though declining, still con- Lubberty (who is ill)—Begorra, fitter in his fortieth year, employed tinues. By the end of 1914 it is estidid she say which they would do arrested at Portsmouth on a charge merchant ships afloat upon the oceans of the world will exceed 40,- tonnage of the latter, however, is only about one-seventh of the total.

will be more than 55,000,000. Three-fourths of these are steamers, and

The farm wealth of Canada is great but the mines of Canada stand high in the list of sources of income. In Ontario are mines that even the most astute of the great ries make the best cordial. Bruise inaugurated one cent fares on the Great as these sources of wealth sion of commerce and old markets

CRANKS ABOUND IN LONDON.

Mania of One Is Inquests, Another

Gives Nightly Salute to Police. Punctually at 10 o'clock every 853,000,000 night, as the men from one of the 195,000,000 largest metropolitan police sta-144,000,000 tions march out on night duty, a 33,000,000 mysterious-looking man stands still and erect as a statue with his hand $2,825,000,000 at the salute until the last blue-clad figure has passed. Then he goes home without speaking a word. He this love was, that it should change a contempt and wonder at their excit contempt and wonder at their excit contempt and wonder at their excit contempt and presently, murmuring the manufacturing, fruit is not to be had in abundance, will welcome this receipt for dry-lover a dozen people had a nar-lover was to force you to answer. man so!"

"I don't want to force you to answer."

"Yes, I do! I'd

"I don't want to force you to answer."

"Yes, I do! I'd

"Yes, I do! I'

vious year, the imports being $673,- English law that for which a man and still kneeling, took both her and still kneeling to the still kneeli law. His victory resulted in a modification of the by-law.-Pearson's Weekly.

Important to Know.

Mrs. Lubberty - Here's some there been so many merchant ships pills, Murty, that Mrs. Hogan was

The kicking horse injures him-

ONTARIO ARCHIVES TORONTO