Baby Beef Competition

A Baby Beef Competition, to be held in every county of the province, has been arranged by the Ontario Department of Agriculture for the purpose of stimulating the interest of young men in more and better live stock. The Grey County competition will be conducted by District Representative Duff of Markdale under the following rules :

1. This Competition will be open to all farmers' sons under 25 years of age.

2. There must be at least 5 entries before the competition can be conducted.

3. Calves must be fed and cared for by contestant and a careful estimate of the kind and amount of feed consumed.

4. Each contestant has the privilege of selecting one or more calves at the time of entering the competition and discarding the less promising ones as they develop.

5. Calves used for this Competition must be born on or after Sept. 1, 1914, heifers will not be eligible.

6. This competition will close in November or December, 1915, the exact date so be decided later.

7. Each animal entered in the competition will be carefully judged, and the young man producing the best steer in each County will be sent to Guelph to take the Course in Live Stock and Seed Judging in January, 1916, all travelling and living expenses to be paid by the Dept. of Agriculture.

8. After the winners in each county have been selected, the first prize steer in each county, and the second prize if thought advisable, will be sent to some central point and shown against similar winners in other counties. Liberal prizes will be awarded

9. After the prize at the Fair is awarded, the steers in the competition will be sold to the highest bidder, the cost of transportation, etc., deducted, and the balance returned to the exhibitor.

A Business for a Dry Town

To the married man who cannot get along without his drinks the following is being suggested as a means to freedom from the bondage to the saloons ;

Start a saloon in your own house. Be the only customer. You will have no license to pay. Go to your wife and give her two dollars to buy a gallon of whiskey and remember there are 69 drinks in one gallon.

Buy your drinks from no one but your wife and by the time the first gallon is gone she will have $8 to put in the bank and $2 to start business again. Should you live 10 years and continue to buy booze from her and then die with snakes in your boots, she will have money enough to bury you decently, educate your children, buy a house and lot, marry a decent man and quit thinking about you.

Night Made Beautiful

By the Electrical Decoration of the Canadian National Exhibition.

Electricity as an ornament will be a striking feature of this year's Toronto Exhibition. You'll remember a year ago those little electric bulbs flickering like fireflies among the leaves of the trees. That was only a starter for a series of electric novelties that will this year make the grounds a vision of loveliness by night.

Above the entrance will be the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes entwined, with the dove of peace floating over them, while at the sides of the entrance will be two electric panels, one emblematic of Canada and the other of the United States.

The Grand Plaza has been strung with a network of wires and will be canopied with twinkling electric stars.

These with other decorations will make it Electric Year as well as Peace Year at the Canadian National.

THE WHITE CANOE.

By Alan Sullivan.

There's a whisper of life in the gray dead trees,
And a murmuring wash on the shore,
And a breath of the south in the loitering breeze,
To tell that a winter is o'er.
While, free at last from its fetters of ice,
The river is clear and blue,
And cries with a tremulous, quivering voice
For the launch of the White Canoe.

Oh, gently the ripples will kiss her side,
And tenderly bear her on;
For she is the wandering phantom bride
Of the river she rests upon;
She is loved with a love than cannot forget,
A passion so strong and true
That never a billow has risen yet
To peril the White Canoe.

So come when the moon is enthroned in the sky,
And the echoes are sweet and low,
And Nature is full of the mystery
That none but her children know.
Come, taste of the rest that the weary crave,
But is only revealed to a few:
When there's trouble on shore, there's peace on the wave,
Afloat in the White Canoe.

Miss Mary O'Harra, of Mount Forest, visited at Mr C. O'Hara's and Mr D. Farrell's lately.

We congratulate Erie Sharp and Fred Rawn on successfully passing the entrance examinations to the High School,

Mrs P. Harper, of Mount Forest, visited friends here some time ago.

Oh for a good day's rain Water is getting very scarce, autos speeding through our main street raising clouds of dust, frost nipping the corn.

One hundred years of peace between The two great English speaking nations.

Long as the sparkling waters
Extend from shore to shore,
May peace and good will reign supreme
And discord nevermore.

We read in a late issue of the Toronto Daily Star a sad case. A veteran who won five hero medals was arrested for drunkenness several times and died homeless and friendless on a street. It reminded us of a similar case nearer home some years ago, about which wrote

A soldier served his country long,
To her foes he would not yield,
But he sank 'neath his country's licensed curse
And was laid in the potter's field.

MUNROE--MCINNES

A quiet, but very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr Charles McInnes, Egremont, when his only daughter, Miss Isabella Miller, was united in marriage to Mr Alex L. Munroe, of Hamilton. The bride's cousin, Mrs Murdoch, of Mt. Forest, sang very sweetly "The Voice that breathed o'er Eden," while the bridal party took their places in the drawing room which was beautifully decorated with cut flowers for the occasion. Rev. Dr. Marsh, of Holstein, performed the ceremony. After congratulations were over, all sat down to a bountifully spread table, to which all present did ample justice. The bride will be much missed in the home and also in the neighborhood and church circle, where she was a particular favorite. All join in wishing the young couple happiness and success in their new home, Mountain Brow, Hamilton.

BORN

BROWN.—In Egremont, on Tuesday, July 14th, 1914, to Mr and Mrs James Brown, a daughter.

RSSS.—In Egremont, on Friday, July 10th, to Mr and Mrs Fred Ross, a daughter, Laura Evelyn.

His son Cliff was riding the horserake, which accidentally struck the fence, whereupon the horses ran away. Mr Rogers secured the lines, but one broke at the bridle and he was knocked down under the rake. The boy had slipped off about the same time, but when Mr Rogers emerged from the scene, he had sustained a gash in the head and a cut eye-lid, in addition to being shaken up. He is around again this week however, and thankful he escaped as lightly as he did.

Gleneden football team visited Holstein Monday evening, but our boys were again too much for them, taking the long end of a 1—0 score. It was supposed to be an intermediate game, but neither team could number sufficient strength in this class, and seniors and intermediates were about evenly divided in the line-ups.

Monday was Council meeting day. Next session was fixed for Thursday, August 20.

A despatch appearing in the dailies of Wednesday of last week, announced a serious accident which befell Robt. Caulfield, recently of Egremont, who left to work his brother-in-law's farm near Arkell. He was mowing in one of his fields Tuesday, when something went wrong with the mowing machine, and the horses ran away. Caulfield was thrown off the seat and his arm caught on a bar under the seat. He was dragged the full length of the field until his arm slipped out of the place and he was released. A man who was driving along the road observed the injured man lying in the field. A doctor was summoned, who found his injuries to be very severe, but hopes are entertained that he will recover.
