Every Woman in Interest should know the wonderful Marvel Whirling Spray Doucho

The weather gave a welcome to Priceville's third Civic Holiday on Monday and Priceville and the Celebration Committee gave a welcome to perhaps 2000 people who poured in from about 11 o'clock or earlier from all points of the compass. Some 55 or 60 went by morning train from Durham and spent the few quiet hours in inspecting the village and environs. Later they came by auto and otherwise till it was estimated 150 Durhamites were present.

A new railway bridge is in progress, cement buttments being built, to bear the immense steel structure that lies unloaded to the west of the station yard and just how they manage to transfer rails and responsibility from the present wooden structure to the new steel one, without interfering with traffic, is not apparent to the novice. It was worth seeing anyway. Then a new bridge over the Saugeen on the main highway through the village is under way, to cost some $3500, steel work alone being about $1000. This also is linking up cement, though in this respect it is equalled or exceeded by the great concrete walls of the new Presbyterian sheds, which, now up, are waiting for the roofing. The sheds are intended to stable about 100 horses, are 154 feet long and 50 broad, all roofed in with truss roof and bear eloquent testimony to the enterprise and liberality of the congregation, for when completed, there will be little if anything left of $1400.00.

But sight-seeing of still life must stop for the village is filling up and there's a mystery brewing in the west, that is solved when a procession, headed by a piper, appears and marshalled by staid constable Braithwaite goes the length of the village and return. Our reporter confesses to inability to do justice to do justice to the array of ragtag and bob tail that made up the procession or to their activities. It fulfilled its purpose, it gave a laugh, and a chance at guessing who were under the disguises. Messrs Alex McLeod and C. C. James had the serious duty of deciding which was the funniest and awarded the prizes. Wm. Meads was given first, with a elongated buggy shaft outfit, while Angus McLachlan in feminine attire pulling an express wagon containing a baby (Bobs McKinnon) was awarded second.

Splendid meals were obtainable at Joe Black's hostelry and at the Presbyterian Church and fears that the monster crowd would eat Priceville out were not realized.

Five members of the 48th Highlanders' Band were present and their music and gentlemanly bearing impressed the crowd greatly. Without them the proceedings would have lacked much of their praise was in all mouths. As they headed west playing, the crowds, automobiles, etc., that had been making Priceville's streets as busy as Broadway followed them to the grounds where a fine afternoon of healthy sport was carried out. The committee deserve the utmost credit for the efficient way they carried out their program giving everything promised, though the failure of the Toronto Football team to put in an appearance cast a shadow over them. No blame to Priceville. The team actually started, but at West Toronto missed the train.

The afternoon proceedings were opened by President Jos. Black from the platform. His address breathed welcome and thanks to the crowd for their hearty support and after hoping they would have an afternoon's enjoyment, he referred to the gloomy news of war in Europe and thought that as loyal British subjects it would be fitting at this anxious time to open with "God Save the King." This timely suggestion was heartily carried out and the pleasing incident left a fine flavor.

Dr. Lane, who is the chairman of the sports committee, outlined the coming events. The doctor is a host in himself, and to him, the McKinnon boys, Jos. Black, W. G. Watson, Hermie McLean, P. Reiley and a few others the great success is due. The whole village works together in commendable harmony and they have their reward.

First and second prizes in Highland Fling went to A. McDonald and — Graham respectively of the Pipe Band Judges—Don, McMillan, Angus McLachlan, C. Ramage. In step-dancing the prizes were equally divided among T. McGrath, David McAuliffe, Arch. McKechnie.

The caber was a log 16 ft. long, 5 inches in diameter at small end, Dan McDonald "tossed" this thing farthest, 98 feet, Ed. Sullivan, second. Dan McDonald "put" the 16 lb. stone 37 ft., Wm. Henry next at 32 ft. There was keen competition at the football kick, the farthest being 154 feet.

TUG OF WAR

The chief interest of the afternoon

clung around this exciting event, and when the 20 stalwarts of Glenelg and Proton lined up it would have gladdened the heart of that old Prussian King who wanted a regiment of big men. After elaborate conditions had been explained the event took place, Glenelg winning by a steady pull.

Proton line-up—Two Shearsons, R. Watson, W. Wiltshire, Dan McInnes, Hugh McLean, Wm. Riddell, Neil McLeod, Neil McMillan, Jno Moore, Jno. Aldcorn, Captain.

Owing to the failure of the Toronto Football team to turn up, the committee hurriedly got together a scrub team from the crowd and placed them against Midway. It must have been a shock to the renowned Midway team to find themselves "up against it" even with an untrained team. Neither side scored but the play was good and thoroughly enjoyed, all parties acting gentlemanly.

The same could not be said of the lacrosse teams, the game being marred by several unseemly "scraps" in which Durham boys appeared to be the chief aggressors. One great value of such games is the training in self restraint and a few of our boys would do well to be watchful. Chesley won by 7 to 2, largely on account of superior condition. The teams from goal out: Chesley—Green, Erdman, Patterson, Fry, Johnston, Blich, Russell, Mink, Kreuger, Fry. Durham—H. Elvidge, Kearney, Allan, Vollett, V. Elvidge, C. Rife, A. Saunders, H. Rife, R. Saunders, McGirr, Rundle of Dundalk refereed.

In the baseball game, Markdale vs. Dundalk, Markdale secured a four run lead in the first innings, largely through two wild throws, and always safely held the lead. Markdale won out by 12 runs to 6. A neat double play was the feature. S. Hughes of Durham, umpired at the plate and H. Rife on the bases.

THE CONCERT

As usual Watson's Hall was crowded to the doors and standing room could not be had. Mr Geo. Neil maintained his high reputation and whether in the tenderness of "Mary of Argyle" or the stringency of "The 100 Pipers an' a' an' a'" he was equally effective. Miss Lily Howard captured the audience in her first number while Bert Lloyd proved to be as funny as his brother and evoked roars of laughter.

Dr. Lane was chairman and was most happy in his introductions. He explained at length the cause of the failure of the Toronto team to be present: It was no fault of the committee which takes a pride in giving everything rigidly as promised.

Miss Rita Irwin was accompanist of the evening and acquitted herself in her usual brilliant manner. A satisfied and gratified audience left the hall and the whole day left a flavor of pleasure that is an earnest of success for 1914.

NOTES
The gate receipts were $365. The Presbyterian church receipts for meals were $220. The concert we did not hear.

If any man enjoyed himself more than W. E. McAllister, we would like to hear of him. His present day and old time friends are legion.

The veteran clerk of Glenelg, Mr. J. S. Black, was among the number enjoying the demonstration.

There were about 20 autos on or near the grounds, that was a wise arrangement to give them a separate entrance. In the village there were about 50.

The Agricultural Society, the school and the committee of sports should cooperate to level the grounds.

No accident marred the day.
