Death removed James A. Halstead, baker and ex-mayor of Mt. Forest on Sunday at his home, 5 Admiral Road, Toronto, a week ago. Mr. Halstead caught a cold from which pneumonia developed. He was 73 years of age. For many years the deceased bulked very largely in the life of Mt. Forest, both as a very successful private banker and in municipal positions, having been mayor for 8 years. His career as a business man and his character as a citizen won him the highest respect. Two sons and two daughters survive him. His wife died in 1911.

An enthusiastic meeting of the helpers in the Red Cross work for the soldiers was held in the Armory Tuesday when it was decided to buy grey wool flannel, cheesecloth and wooten yarn to make shirts, handkerchiefs, knitted wristlets, belts and scarfs, all to be ready by the 15th of September. The armory will be open every afternoon from 2 to 5 p. m. to meet for work or give out work as needed for those who wish to make at home. Mrs. S. McLaugh and Mrs. D. McLaugh were appointed vice presidents for the Baptist and Catholic churches and Mrs. Prudham, Secy.

The annual Grey County Convention of Women's Institutes was held in the Chatsworth town hall on Thursday last. A large number of delegates were present from the different parts of the County, two of whom had driven about thirty miles that day to be present. After the opening exercises conducted by Mrs. H. H. Brown, Jr., the President, Mrs. B. Long of Meaford, addressed the Convention in a few well chosen words. The three addresses of the afternoon, given by Dr. Jennie Snellie, of Toronto; Mrs. W. W. Prudham of Durham and Mrs. W. Burnstead of Owen Sound were well worth driving over 30 miles to hear, as each address was overflowing with practical suggestions, also considerable wit and humor. Mrs. W. Buchanan, Vice President, in her own unique way, conducted the Round Table Conference, when many valuable suggestions were also given. The result of the election of officers in the afternoon was as follows:—Pres. Mrs. Long, Meaford; Vice Pres. Mrs. F. Pearce, Chatsworth; Sec. Treas. Mrs. R. H. Moore, Flesherton. In the evening Mr. T. H. Collins very ably acted as Chairman. The two addresses in the evening were given by Mrs. Hackett, of Markdale and Dr. Snellie, the former on "The Twentieth Century Woman," and the latter on "The Joy of Living." The enjoyment of the afternoon and evening proceedings were enhanced by a recitation by Miss Grace Wilson, a piano duet by Misses Bernice Brees, and choruses by twelve boys in Scout uniforms. The ladies of the Women's Institute of Chatsworth and vicinity served refreshments in the basement of the Methodist church.

GILT EDGED DEBENTURES.—The town as well as seen is offering the High School Debentures for sale locally. These are to be offered in small lots to suit purchasers. As they carry 6 per cent the investment is good.

By Townships Also—Co-operating with the Dominion Feather Co. on page 8 of this issue a letter from Reeve McArthur outlines action in the near future, which if generally followed, may mean big things for the motherland. Well done Egremont.

R. R. No. 4, DURHAM, NOW.—This route, running east and southeast of the town, commenced Sept. 1st, with S. P. Saunders as courier. Postmaster Smith also made the initial trip. No. 4 embraces Lambton street formerly served by No. 1 route, which instead now commences on the Durham Road, thence to 2nd Con. Giening. The new route is much shorter than the other three, only about ten miles in all, and serves 21 farmers, as follows: Neil McCannel, C. McNab, J. G. Wilson, Jas. McNally, Jas. Ritchie, Adam Watson, Joe Hewitt, R. W. D. Lindsay, T. & J. McGirr, W. J. Andrews, And. Scott, W. & W. Nichol, Sam Patterson, W. Jacques, Jas. Lawrence, John Sharp, Mrs. Wm. Aljoe, Anthony Lawrence, Jas. McGirr, C. & A. Smith, Henry Lawrence.

METHODIST GARDEN PARTY.—The Methodists of Vickers held this annual event Friday evening last and with the proceeds of the booth and gate, about $80 was realized. Allan Park and Vickers started the ball a-rolling in a baseball game but only 3 innings could be played before darkness intervened. Under Mrs. Reay's supervision a splendid supper was served and later the program rendered and presided over by R. J. Ball M. P. Addresses were given by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Newham, and Mr. Ball, musical numbers by the Varney quartette, song by Jas. Park, while the main treat of the evening was Miss Mildred Walker, the Toronto educationist, who threw life, motion, action and humor into her rendering.

The Council and merchants of the town have agreed to continue the Wednesday afternoon half holiday indefinitely, not for purposes of sport, but to give opportunity for rifle practice for the new Volunteer Co. and Civilian Rifle Association just formed. Country friends will please take note of this to prevent disappointment on Wednesday afternoons. Thursday evening will be mid-week open night as usual.

THE WAR—DAY BY DAY

To-day, Wednesday, has the same story of a strenuous battle between the opposing forces. The allies may have to retro again, but they are in good heart and hope to keep the German line of Paris. If this can be done it will spell failure for William the Homeicide.

More war news on inside pages.

THE ROLL CALL.

Practical Enthusiasm

Durham will form a Volunteer Company.

Civilian Rifle Association about 170 strong is formed.

The patriotic meeting on Friday last in Town Hall resulted as expected in a large attendance and much enthusiasm. The mayor was voted to the chair and after appropriate opening remarks called on Mr. E. D. McClocklin, who at length set before the meeting the preliminary steps that had been taken resulting in this meeting. Very practically he laid before the meeting the conditions required to form a company or rifle Association and dwell on the importance of getting acquainted with the rifle and that only by practice. Mr. J. P. Telford and Mr. S. Hughes along the same line gave the conditions required to secure government recognition, ammunition, etc.

Others who addressed the meeting were Dr. Jamieson, Messrs Irwin, Ramage, Rev's Hartley, Prudham and Wiley, Allan, Lenahan. All recognized the necessity of some action at the present time, some favored the formation of both a company and a rifle Association; others thought one or the other should be taken up.

Mr. Hughes at last crystallized the sentiment of the meeting into a motion that enrollment be at once proceeded with and this was done.

Later—the enrollment for the Company at latest accounts number 63, much more than enough. For the Rifle Association no fewer than 167 are ambitious to learn to shoot. The spirit that has been shown is very gratifying.

Toronto Fair

In spite of the war this great Exhibition has more entries than ever and the spectacular attractions are equal to if not better than former years. The weather has been a little catchy but prospects are better and it is hoped another successful year is assured. All who can should patronize this fair as it has become almost a national institution and it will do good to have the mind turned a little while from the terrors of war to the triumphs of peace.

South Grey Fair

SEPT. 21 AND 25

As like as not the warring armies will call an armistice on above dates to allow of undistracted attention being given to our Annual Show. Whether they do or not our officials are going right on and preparing for the biggest yet should King Weather be favorable.

The matter of importance now is to get hold of a Prize List and plan just what entries you will make and then see that they are made in good time. Another thing is to be a 'booster,' not a knocker and put in a good word for the show at every opportunity.

Ontario's Great Exhibition
