OPICS

The Quarterly Sacramental communion will be held in the Methodist Church on Sunday next, 1st November.

Fog.—A lady's watch. Owner may be same by paying for this advertisement and applying to NEVILLE WALKINGHAM.

The Horse Fair was under the average last week, but still some 13 or 14 horses changed hands.

Photographs.—Surprise fifteen of your friends with a lovely photograph this Xmas. With every dozen we enclose three extra ones. F. W. Kelsey.

The Quarterly Sacramental Service will be held in Varny Church on Sunday afternoon at 3, Rev. W. W. Prudham officiating. There will be no evening service.

The party who removed the brass pediment from the front of St. Gilbert's Cathedral a few nights ago, is requested to return it at once and save trouble.

Notice.—Any person indebted to me will confer a favor by calling and settling, as I require money to keep the Red Front Hardware stocked with all your necessities. Yours truly
W. W. BLACK.

A big rally should be made to the annual meeting of the Horticultural Society on 3rd of November in Public Library at 8 p.m. All flower lovers should encourage this worthy Society by their presence and by becoming members.

Some extraordinary blasting operations on the farm of Mr. A. Crutchley bear testimony to the facility and cheapness of stump obstructions can be removed by the new blasting powder. A few cents worth gives many dollars of satisfaction.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGillivray, Mullock, received the sad news a few days ago that their son Angus of Three Hills, Alberta, had died suddenly. He was over 20 years of age, married, and leaves wife and six children. No further news at this writing.

Zion Church, Glenelg, will hold a Patriotic Concert on Wednesday next, 4th November, at which in addition to music and other attractions, Rev. Mr. Prudham will give an address on "Germany and the War Zone." Proceeds to Patriotic Fund.

Knex, Normanby, School Entertainment will be held on Friday evening, 5th October. Rev. Mr. Marsh and Newnam are to give addresses and a fine program of music by choir and children recitations, &c. in preparation. Admission 10 and 15 cents.

The November meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Thos. McGirr on Thursday, Nov. 5 at 2.30 p.m. Mrs. J. W. Blyth will speak on "Courtesy and good manners in the home" and Mrs. Hepburn on the "History and description of work of the Women's Institute." Question Box. All ladies are cordially invited to attend.

LECTURE ON EUROPEAN WAR FIELD.—On Friday night, 30th inst., a lecture will be given in the Methodist Church, Durham, by Mr. M. K. Richardson, on the scene devastated by war. Mr. Richardson travelled over this territory recently and his observations will be most interesting at this time. Admission 10 cts or as much more as desired. All to go to Belgian fund.

A Choral Society was organized in the library on Tuesday evening with the following officers: Secy.—Treasurer—Miss Lillian Walker; Committee—Miss Margaret Hunter, Amy Kelly, Miss Irene, Lyla Kelsey; Messrs Dan, McGeigh, J. Siedman, Peter Ramage. The Society will commence practice in the library next Tuesday evening for a concert for patriotic purposes to be held in December, under the leadership of Mr. Arthur Cook, Mount Forest. All members are invited to join kindly. Attendance bringing membership fee of 10c weekly.

RASPBERRIES AND SNOW.—The fine weather we had a compliment to last week came to a close on Sunday last and on Monday, 26th October, there was a reminder of the coming of King Winter by a stiff wind that seemed to be trying its practice hand. The preliminary indications has frequently been given. Last week Mr. Hugh McEwen presented the office with a basket of well-formed raspberries, packed in the open air, and our exchanges tell of like evidences of the fall season. A sharp frost on Monday night affected unplucked apples, and finished our four flowers.

LONDON IMPROVEMENT.—Thursday of this week, the two tower hotels and Mr. E. E. Rowe are to appear in court at the Town Hall to defend themselves against charges of violation of the Improvement Act. It appears that last Thursday two or more officials of the Provincial License Department, made a surprise visit to the town but their search of the hotels proved fruitless. However, unknown previously, information had been laid of irregularities found on a day of selling forbidden articles in the places mentioned. To have Mr. Rowe's name brought in this connection is a surprise and the editor is led to believe that the charges are, in fact, untrue, and all will have the opportunity to prove their innocence and exonerate themselves.

A nice line of Dress Goods, French Serges, Poplins, etc. At Grant's Plain and Corded Velveteens in great variety. At Grant's

Obituary.

MRS GEORGE ADLAM

Friday, 23rd October, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Marshall, in town, a respected pioneer of Bentinck township, passed away in her 82nd year. Up to a few months ago she was bright and cheery in a hale old age, but the weight of years told at last, her end was seen to be near, but what of illness and weakness she had, owing to paralysis, was borne with Christian patience.

Deceased was a daughter of the late Hugh Britton, who came from County Derry, Ireland, in 1849 with five children. They spent three years in Kingston before moving to Bentinck and in 1853 the subject of our sketch was married from her parents' home to Mr. Geo. Adlam, a union that was to last for about 52 years, for he died, much lamented on 22nd Jan., 1905. The golden wedding was celebrated in 1903 and a family of nine children joined in the festivities.

The surviving sons are Robert, George, David, John on the homestead. Williams daughters are Mary Ann, Mrs. John Backus, Susan, Mrs. Wm. Brown, Hanover, Eliza Jane, Mrs. Harry Reay, Martha, Mrs. R. Marshall, Durham. Two other children died young.

Deceased was a worthy helpmeet in the pioneer days and throughout life. Most interesting it was to have her tell of early difficulties, difficulties faced and surmounted. Not a stick was chopped on their farm but where the house was. Sturdy hands cleared the farm and the busy wife and mother did her share in building up the house and sending out her children equipped for the duties of life. She was of an amiable disposition, loved by her children and grandchildren and the long life that began at the village of McCloughrin, Co. Derry, Ireland, on the 15th April, 1833, has left many useful fruits behind it.

She was interred in Durham cemetery on Monday, 23rd October, many friends from her old home neighborhood attending the obsequies. The main service was held in Trinity church, which was full of friends and relatives. Rev. Mr. Morris, the new incumbent, conducted the service, Rev. Mr. Whaley assisting in Scripture and prayer. The address was most appropriate, pointing out lessons to be drawn from the power of the Resurrection when it affects our lives and not merely admitted as a historical fact.

The pall-bearers were her four sons at home, Robert, John, David, William, son-in-law Harry Reay and grandson Wm. Heughan. One sister Mrs. N. McArthur, Chesham, Mich., survives her and 45 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Tragic and Fatal Accident at Boothville

One of the most heart-rending accidents that ever occurred in this neighborhood, has darkened one home and cast a gloom over the community. Islay, the 11 year old only daughter of Mr and Mrs Fred Ranciman, had her life snuffed out in a moment in a most sad and tragic way.

The circumstances were as follows: her father was working near the barn, his son and daughter near him and chatting and helping in their own way. Some agents calling, the father entered into conversation with them and the children took to play under the barn. Suddenly the father heard a report as of a gunshot from the barn and a moment sufficed to see what had happened. A "mud" sill had snapped with superincumbent weight of straw letting down sleepers on the poor little body, whose neck was broken.

As the father approached the boy, a lad of 12 years, was seen emerging from the wreckage somewhat stunned, and told the distracted father his sister was in there somewhere. Gropping among straw and timbers he felt the body, but being pinned down fast, help had to be got to recover it. On the father fell the terrible task of acquainting the mother and a neighbor's telephone was utilized to call help from Wm. Alcorn's, where threshing was in progress. This was responded to at once, but before they got to the spot nearer neighbors had gathered.

Committed for Trial

The arrest and trial of the English lad Joseph Hamlet, which took place last week before Co. Crown Attorney and Police Magistrate Telford, resulted in his being committed for trial at the next sitting of the Court. The sound for the killing of Edgar Lawrence by shooting.

Dr. Gun was first called upon and related the facts of the case as observed by him in his professional capacity and stated definitely that he had no doubt death was caused by the wounds inflicted by the shot fired by the boy.

Harry Reay, one of the trio out that day with guns, swore he saw him taking aim and yelled to him not to shoot, but Hamlet said "there's nothing in the gun" and fired. He had heard Hamlet say he was firing at a post but his evidence proved that the post was on the other side of the lane from where Edgar was and 16 feet distant. After the shot and its dire results Hamlet again said "I did not think it was loaded." He (Reay) thought Hamlet never saw him before.

George Reay, the third of the group saw him fire at the post before Edgar was around, saw him take empty shot out and reload the gun and had also warned "Don't fire Joe for its loaded" and when he said "Joe you've shot him" the reply was given "I did not know it was loaded."

Very pathetic was the story told by a younger brother of deceased, Rex Lawrence, who was near by and was first at his brother's side after he had crawled through the fence. His first sight of Edgar was him rising to his knees and his face blood stained. He also said he heard Hamlet say to Harry Reay, "Make a race at him (Edgar) and scare him."

The character of the evidence was such that the Court had no hesitation in making the commitment.

S. Grey S. S. Convention

On Tuesday of next week, 2nd November, the second annual meeting of S. Grey Sunday School Association will be held in the Baptist Church, Hanover. There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions, and there promises to be a most profitable and interesting meeting.

All Sunday School workers are cordially invited and should make arrangements to attend all day.

Mr. H. H. Burrows, Guelph, a noted S. School worker, will be present and his addresses and spirit will be a feature of the meeting. Insp. Camp, Mr. Mrs. Prudham and others will also be prominent. Mr. John T. Wood, Hanover, is President and Rev. W. W. Prudham, Durham, is Secretary.

A Repeal Contest

The passing around of a petition last week asking for the submission of a by-law to repeal Local Option is an indication that a vote is desired on the question next January.

Those in favor of a restoration of license are quite within their rights in so moving and though the petition has not been presented to us we think it not a bad thing on the whole that the liquor party should have one more chance to see where they stand in the community. This feeling will lead a number to sign as was done three years ago, who will yet not bow the knee to Bacchus by voting to restore license conditions and attempt to clothe with respectability a traffic that every day is coming more and more into disrepute.

That the repeal, if attempted, will be defeated, goes without saying. Why should it not be?
