

Miss Canada's Winter Hat

It is a well-known fact that Canada's Winter Hat is a model in smartness, fashionably made, chic appearance, modishly trimmed and of high-grade quality. Above all it must duplicate "Miss Somebody Else's."

A healthy father's weekly newspaper is the Weekly Sun of Toronto. It is not owned by any special interest, but takes a fearless and independent stand on all public matters regardless of politics. It stands for the family interest, and is in the thick of the fight. It has the prestige of an established personality. You should read it—every issue.

WILL TRAIN FOR WAR.—Mr. David Berthwick, who for the past 8 months has been employed at the G. T. R. in Durham, left on Saturday to join the 20th Wellington Rifles at Fergus. The Ladies' Council of the Girl Guides recognize his patriotism by a present of a sweater coat and some other comforts. As this is the only volunteer from Durham and a worthy boy we think the council might recognize his loyalty by placing an insurance on him, as other places are doing or in some way acknowledge his patriotic action. It would honor ourselves in a situation where opportunities are few.

A terrible bereavement is reported from Stettin, Alberta, the sufferers being Mr. and Mrs. H. Thibaudreau and family. Mrs. T. is a daughter of the late Don. The boy got down and started his father who, according to reports, searched for but found not his child, and had himself severely drawn out, badly burned. When the little body was recovered by the parents, the poor girl and their friends here mourn with them.

Judgment Withheld Friday of last week before Police Magistrate Telford, another case of infraction of the License law was charged against the Proprietor of the Midway House. The charge was that between 2 and 10 p.m., on Sept. 25, the defendant had sold whiskey to two special detectives of the government, and also had supplied the constable with the same on said day. Kings, of Warkenton, conducted the prosecution. Wright, of Owen Sound, for the defence.

Hunter and Stewart, the detectives, gave evidence similar to the week previous and so did the constable, that whiskey had been supplied by the defendant and paid for. The charges were flatly denied by both the proprietor and his keeper. Mr. Telford in announcing his decision to withhold judgment in the meantime, seemed to be entirely satisfied with the evidence of the government's agents, that of the constable was more serious the only doubt being whether he was supplied within the hours given in the information, which was between 2 and 10 p.m. The constable has been before 2 and there has been a hearing within the limits of the law. On this point the magister gave a higher legal opinion.

CONDITIONS FAIR TO ALL IN REVIEW $650 VOTING CONTEST

Everybody appreciates the liberal guarantee of compensation for every lady who takes part in the contest.—No one can work for nothing.—Merit and not luck will determine the winners.

Recognizing the fact that every one who takes part in the Review Contest has an absolutely fair chance to win a prize, and that whether prize winners or not, every contestant is sure of at least fair compensation for her efforts, a number of enterprising ladies in Durham and surrounding country have entered the Review's $650 Prize Voting Contest, and are now busily engaged gathering up the votes which will determine the winners on Dec. 17. Naturally, every contestant wants to win the beautiful $400 Stanley Upright Piano which is to be awarded as the first prize in the contest, but one is certain of getting something out of the contest. No contestant can fail to win a prize. Everybody is sure of a fair reward for every lady who works for nothing. The ladies now entered in the Review contest, as well as their friends, all appreciate this feature of the contest as being even more than fair to every worker, and thus assured against the possibility of putting in their time for nothing all the contestants are encouraged to put forth their best efforts.

Everybody who read last week's announcement regarding the contest, now realizes that the Review Voting Contest is nothing more nor less than a plain business proposition, and that it is absolutely fair in every respect to those who take part in it. Everybody can see that it is not a guessing game, not a lottery, not a game of chance, not an affair in which someone will get something for nothing, and that luck will play no part in deciding the winners. As stated in the advertisement, the contest is simply a test of merit and popularity, with the emphasis strongly on MERIT. Popularity character qualities of energy, enthusiasm, determination and perseverance—these are the qualities that make good successful workers and it is work that will determine the winners in this contest. Nothing can be surer than that the contestant who does the most effective work in the contest will be the winner of the $400 Stanley Piano. And as it is work that will count, it behooves everyone who wants to win to begin work at once. The mill will never grind with the water that is past, and no worker in the Review contest will be able to get votes with the time that is past. Time wasted today cannot be made up for tomorrow, or ever. It is gone and the results that might have been accomplished are lost forever. This contest offers every lady within the circulation zone of the Review a rare chance to win a beautiful piano free, and to share in the distribution of at least $250 worth of other prizes, as well as the chance to earn good pay for the time and effort expended in the work of getting subscriptions to the Review or Canadian Home Journal, or both, and this opportunity, will not be open to anyone very long. Time flies, and as the days and hours even, pass, this golden opportunity is fitting away. Those who desire to share in the rewards to be given the workers in the Review Contest must act quickly, without loss of time.

The contest is just starting and all contestants can now begin work on practically an even footing. Within another few days this will not be so. Those who recognize the value of time, and the importance of getting started early, will have accomplished results which in all probability will place them beyond the reach of late comers, and give them such an advantage as will be difficult, and perhaps impossible to overcome. Any lady who may desire to share in the Review rewards, who has not yet entered the contest, should therefore, lose not another minute in sending her name to the Contest Manager, and getting receipt books and instructions as to how to proceed with the work. It costs nothing whatever to enter the contest and receipt books and all supplies are free. Following are the names of the ladies who have entered the contest up to Wednesday evening:

- Miss Edna Sackett, Pricerville
- Mrs. Flora McLean, Durham
- Mrs. Wm. Saunders, Durham
- Miss Edith McLean, Durham
- Miss Grace Vollett, Durham
- Miss Clara Ritchie, Durham
- Miss Nellie Atcheson, Dromore
- Miss Jennie Adams, Holstein
- Miss Belle McArthur, R R 1, Holstein
- Miss Mae McKechnie, R R 1, Durham
- Miss Bessie Saunders, Durham
- Miss Annie McDonald, Durham
- Mrs. A. McDonald, Jr, R R 4, Elmwood
- Mrs. E. Roseborough, R R 1, Hanover

The vote standing of contestants will probably be published in next week's Review, and no one can say but the one standing lowest on first publication maybe on top at the close. Energy and application will tell.

Notice to Distant Subscribers It is natural that every lady taking part in the Review contest should desire to secure every subscription possible, and as the rules of the contest permit contestants to obtain subscriptions from anyone, anywhere. It is more than likely that those subscribers to the Review who live too far away to be seen by contestants will be written to by one or more contestants, asking for their renewal subscriptions to the Review. Subscribers are hereby advised that it will be perfectly proper and agreeable to the REVIEW, for them to pay their renewals or arrears to any lady whose name has been published in the Review as a contestant. In making such payments subscribers may, if they prefer to do so, make their post-office or express money orders, or postal notes, payable to "The Review," and send the same to a contestant, who will in due course turn the remittance over to the REVIEW. Or in case a subscriber desires to assist any contestant by paying his renewal or arrears, he may send his remittance to the REVIEW direct, with the request that the votes be credited to the contestant he wants to help, and the votes will be credited in accordance with his request.

TWO HORSES KILLED.—The incoming G. T. R. train Friday evening accidentally killed two horses belonging to Chas. Lang, one a colt and one rising three years, which had strayed on the track a short distance from the station. They were soon to be sold for $180, so it proved a severe loss. A horse belonging to Jas. Welsh was also brushed aside, but uninjured.

The Late John Cooper

Tuesday morning, 10th November, 1914, Mr. John Cooper died at his home in Normanby at the ripe age of 92 years. A few days previously he met with an accident in the stable getting his leg broken near the hip and though apparently bearing up well, the shock to the system at his great age has proved fatal. But for this untoward accident such was Mr. Cooper's vigor and vitality he might, busily speaking, have seen the century mark.

He had a beautiful, healthful old age and was a treasure to his family and all who knew him. His piety, integrity and beautiful Christian character shed a fragrance in the community and he being dead yet speaketh.

Mr. Cooper was born near Aberdeen, Scotland and when over 30 years of age came to Canada with his young wife, living first in Beverly township and going to Normanby about 55 years ago, where he and his life partner, who survives him, made a home for themselves and through all pioneer trials, toiled and triumphed and a family of sons and daughters grew up and now all them blessed. The union existed for about 60 years.

The children are Lizzie, Mrs. A. Derby, John at home, Mrs. Hughes, Alex. Sheburne, Charles in Saskatchewan, Jennie at home.

Deceased was Liberal in politics, an ardent Presbyterian, was an elder in Hampden Church for many years, and when in health enjoyed his services. His long life and admirable citizenship will long keep his memory green in the community where he was highly respected.

We are not able to announce funeral date at this writing.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. John D. Clark, Aberdeen, is spending the week with his son and daughter in town. Rev. W. W. Prudham will preach Missionary sermons in Warton next Sunday.

Miss Alice Ramage left on Friday for a couple weeks' visit among relatives in Toronto. Mrs. Jara Campbell of Buffalo, is visiting her brother-in-law, Mr. John McArthur at Mr. A. B. McArthur's, Old Durham Road, Glenelg.

Rev. Mr. Whaley will preach at Zion on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Prudham being in Warton. Mr. Allan McKinnon, who was recently stricken with paralysis, is happily making progress towards recovery. Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Wilson and son have returned to their home in New Jersey after visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Beaton of Poplar Hill farm.

Mr. Sam Levine returned home from Regina last Wednesday to spend the winter, after a two years' absence. He reports the Western cities all quiet though Regina is bricker than ever. Many of the unemployed have enlisted.

Dismissed Police Magistrate Telford gave his decision on Friday last in regard to the two liquor cases tried before him a week previously. His judgment led him to dismiss both cases, a decision which came as a shock to a large number in the town as their fallible lay mind had thought that the evidence was sufficient to secure conviction. This was not the case in the opinion of the man whose duty it is to sift evidence and there it rests in the meantime.

The decision was no doubt reached by ignoring the evidence of the special service men, who by the decision it seems to us stand branded as deliberate perjurers. What is the Ontario government going to do about it? Are they going to allow, nay, are they going to appoint men at the public expense to go through the country to swear away the good name of respectable citizens? There is room for an investigation and we hope it will be forthcoming.
