From some unknown cause, the barn of Mr. Thos. Bell, on the gravel road, about 7 miles north of Durham, took fire about 1 p.m. last Saturday and before being noticed by Mr. Simpson, who was working some distance away across the road, was beyond control. Mr. Bell was on his way to Durham at the time and Mr. Simpson rushing across, managed to save a horse from the flames, but a couple pigs and some hens were consumed along with the season's crop. There was an insurance of $750 on barn and $100 on contents.

Why do statesmen read the Weekly Sun of Toronto? Because it is a paper with a reputation that is unquestioned. It is the farmer's business paper, and is watching farmers' interests all the time. Aside, even from its market reports which are acknowledged to be the best in the Dominion, it is a paper of weight. You should have it come to your home every week. All through the long winter nights it will furnish a wealth of interesting reading material of a thoroughly reliable character. This paper has special clubbing arrangements with the Sun. Let us have your renewal and add the Sun to your list of papers for 1915.

The Roll Call.

ALLAN MCKINNON
On Saturday forenoon last, 28 Nov. 1914, the above gentleman breathed his last, never having overcome the shock from paralysis three weeks previously.

Mr. McKinnon was the oldest surviving member of a well-known family who over 60 years ago came to the wilds of Glenelg with their parents, coming from the island of Tiree in the west of Scotland, where deceased was born about 80 years ago, and was 11 years of age when he landed here. He lived for some time in S. Glenelg and later in N. Egremont and by industry and thrift acquired a modest competence retiring from the farm 23 years ago to live on the property adjoining the town, where he died. About 47 years ago he married Miss McComb, sister of Thos. and Sam. McComb, of town and to them were born two sons and two daughters, one daughter dying in infancy. Mrs. John Burgess, who has been so faithful in her ministrations to the daughter, the soas are Dan of Wilkie, Sask., and Archie at present in Arizona for his health.

Both sons came home when he was stricken, but Archie returned about a week ago. Besides his wife and immediate family, there remain as mourners, two brothers, Neil, postmaster in Priceville and Hugh in S. Glenelg, and one sister, Mrs. Adam Weir, Durham. A sister Julia died many years ago and another sister, Mrs. McLachlan, quite recently. Chas. and John were brothers, now deceased.

Mr. McKinnon was Liberal in politics and devotedly Presbyterian in religion. His funeral on Monday last, where many old friends gathered showed respect to his memory and to the living links. Rev. Mr. Whaley conducted the services and was assisted by Rev. Mr. Wylie, the former in his address drawing comfort and hope from Paul's declaration "I am now ready to be offered." The pall bearers were Arch. and Jas. Hunter. A. H. Jackson, Dr. Hutton, J. Snell and C. Ramage. Interment took place to Trinity Church cemetery, where Mrs. McKinnon's kindred lie.

Mrs. DAVID HOPKINS
There died in Hamilton Hospital, on Saturday, Nov. 28th, a respected resident of Bentuck, in the person of Mrs. David Hopkins, formerly of the 2nd con. Somewhat over a year ago her husband went to British Columbia to work with his brother and from that time lived alone to last July. In the fall she came to stay with Nurse Carmouat and for fourteen weeks she received the best of care from her hands. But two weeks ago she was taken to Hamilton where she was for ten days only when the call came at the age of 70. Deceased was a bright and lovable woman and had been married for 29 years.

She has one remaining sister, Mrs. Moffat at Pt. McNicholl and one brother Alex in Hamilton.
The remains were brought to her old home Saturday, the funeral taking place Sunday, Rev. Mr. Morris of Trinity church officiating at the services.

A minister in a neighboring town a few Sundays ago surprised his audience by reading the following announcement: "The regular session of the Donkey Club will be held as usual at the close of the service. Members will line up just outside of the church door, make remarks and stare at the ladies as they pass, as is their custom. Any member known to escort a lady to church and sit with her like a gentleman will be expelled from membership." The application was to the point and the effect was marvellous.

Mrs. Flora McLean Takes the Lead in Review Voting Contest

Miss Jennie Adams of Holstein attains Second Place. Five Contestants are closely bunched and some of those lower down the list are still in the race and going strong.

Looking at the figures indicating the standing of contestants this week, it is admittedly a most difficult task for anyone to undertake to predict who is to be the winner of first prize in the Review Voting Contest two weeks to-day. While several changes in the relative positions of the ladies engaged in the work of gathering in votes, has taken place since the figures were last published, no one at present has any distinct advantage in the race, and five ladies now stand so close together that nothing but guess work, as to which of the five will win, can be indulged in. As a matter of fact none of the five has enough votes to her credit to warrant her in assuming that some of those lower down in the standing will not overtake her before the end of the contest. A few long term subscriptions would enable any contestant to make a wonderful improvement in her prospects within a few days. And, of course, it is always possible that some of the "trailers" will get some of these big subscriptions.

The most notable change among the positions of contestants since last week has been made by Mrs. Flora McLean who heads the list to-day, but who last week was only fourth in the standing. Such a sudden improvement in her position is highly creditable to any contestant and shows very clearly that Mrs. McLean has been doing most effective work. To-day's leader has a veritable host of friends who will be delighted that she has temporarily at least, attained the position which they regard her as being capable of holding and the fact that she is now in the forefront will doubtless win her support from some hitherto lukewarm friends who may have been dubious of her chances of success.

Miss Jennie Adams of Holstein has also made upward progress since last week when she occupied third position. Doubtless she as well as a great number of her friends would have liked to see her name at the top of the list and for that, of course, no one can blame them. The fact may or may not have significance as regards the future standing of contestants but it is worth considering that each week since the names of contestants have been published, Miss Adams has steadily raised her name higher in the list and if she continues progress in the same manner she has but one step higher to make. Whether or not Miss Adams makes this one step, depends of course upon her own efforts and the assistance she receives from her friends, — and — the results accomplished by other contestants. Upon one point however there can be no doubt and that is that Miss Adams will make the effort.

Although Miss Clara Ritchie has dropped from first to third position within the week it should be observed that so far as the difference in the number of votes between her and Mrs. McLean is concerned, the two ladies are not so very far apart after all, as but 9000 votes separate them. Even were the difference greater that would probably not interfere in the smallest degree with Miss Ritchie's efforts, nor weaken in any way her determination to capture first prize, for she has the reputation of doing her best in whatever she undertakes and of persevering until the last. A difference of nine thousand votes is not a material disadvantage as has already been proven by several contestants who have overcome greater differences, and if anyone wants to indulge in a guess, he or she will be just as much warranted in guessing that Miss Ritchie will be ahead next week as they would to guess otherwise.

Miss Ritchie has not been alone in coming down in the standing, for a similar experience has befallen Miss Nellie Aitchison who last week was in second position and but 1000 below the then leader. As there is but 2000 votes between these two ladies now they may be said to have been keeping pretty close company. However, there is no reason for either one feeling discouraged and in fact neither of them are. Miss Aitchison is possessed of untiring energy and persistence, and as she is widely acquainted in, and for miles around Dromore, there can be no doubt that she will make a supreme effort to regain her former advantageous position or better. In this from what can be learned, she will have the good wishes and active support of a large number of people who want to see her win first prize.

Fifth position is held to-day by Miss Sadie McMillan, who was in the same place last week. While Miss McMillan's relative position has not improved, she has nevertheless accomplished splendid results in her efforts and has succeeded in keeping herself well within striking distance of top place. Her friends are confident she will yet go higher in the standing and without disclosing any of Miss McMillan's plans and expectations, it may be stated that the confidence of her friends rests on a seemingly second basis.

It won't do to overlook the youngest participant in the Review Contest—Miss Grace Vollet. Miss Grace didn't make a very promising start in the contest, but last week her efforts began to bear fruit, with the result that she secured a good many thousand votes and forged ahead of several other contestants who had apparently outstripped her in the race. With the knowledge now that she can get votes as well as any one else, Grace is an enthusiastic worker and there is every reason to expect that she will make a good showing before the contest comes to a close.

The standing:
Mrs. Flora McLean, Durham..... 211,000 votes
Miss Jennie Adams, Holstein..... 209,000 votes
Miss Clara Ritchie, Durham..... 202,000 votes
Miss Nellie Aitchison, Dromore..... 200,000 votes
Miss Sadie McMillan, R. R. 2, Priceville..... 176,000 votes
Miss Grace Vollet, Durham..... 61,000 votes
Miss Annie McDonald, Durham..... 54,000 votes
Mrs. E. Roseborough, R. R. 1, Hanover..... 44,000 votes
Miss Bessie Saunders, Durham..... 41,000 votes
Miss Edna Sackett, Priceville..... 37,000 votes
Miss Edith McLean, Durham..... 4,000 votes

How the winners will be decided:
As previously announced in the Review, neither the Publishers nor the Contest Manager will have anything to do with deciding the winners in the Review Voting Contest. This decision will be made by three well-known gentlemen of unquestionable integrity, who upon the last night will count the votes earned by each contestant, and decide the votes earned.

SECRET CLOSING
To prevent the possibility of any contestant or any other person obtaining information as to how many votes may have been earned by any contestant, and thereby being enabled to know or estimate the number of votes which might be required to win, all of the business of the last day of the contest will be received in secret from contestants by their being required to deposit all subscription tickets with the cash therefor in a metal receptacle sealed by the judges. No one can open this receptacle except the judges, who will not open it until the contest is formally declared closed, when they will take charge of the contents of the box and proceed to verify and count the votes for each contestant.
