The Late Arch. McDougall

A copy of the Victoria Daily Times has reached us containing the following notice of the death of the late Arch. McDougall who died in Victoria Hospital on 1st Nov. The paper was sent to his sister, Mrs Don. Campbell, Swinton Park.

The remains of the late Archibald McDougall, a prominent railroad contractor, whose death occurred on Sunday night at St. Joseph's hospital, were sent to Vancouver this afternoon by the 1.15 boat for lumber there, the widow and several other friends accompanying the body.

The late Mr McDougall was widely known all through the Dominion, and more particularly in the west, where he undertook many important contracts in connection with his work. For many years he was associated with the prominent firm of Foley, Welsh and Stewart, and among some of the more important contracts which he undertook, were those on the Columbia & Western, the C. P. R., and more lately on the Grand Trunk Pacific. In this last work he successfully under-took the difficult task of running tunnels through the Kitchikan Canyon, and was also responsible in connection with the same undertaking for the heavy yard work in Prince Rupert.

A native of Co. Grey, Ontario, the deceased was a Canadian by upbringing and education and had spent almost the entire forty-four years of his life in the Dominion. Until his illness he lived at New Westminster, although even several months before he was removed to the hospital he was known to be suffering with heart trouble. His wife and one daughter survive him. A prominent member of the Masonic craft, the order is taking charge of the funeral arrangements to Vancouver, where the funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon.

A County Sale of Cattle

A pamphlet has been issued giving an idea as to the extent of agricultural operations in the County of Grey. It contains a list of the breeders of pure bred stock. There may be some names omitted, but if so the names omitted should be sent to the Secy. of the Board of Agriculture.

There is a feeling amongst the cattle men of the County of Grey that an auction sale of pure bred cattle should be held in the County. To this sale should be contributed only first class animals and the sale should be held at some point near the centre of the County. Already one man has signified his intention of contributing six animals if the sale is held. The advantage would be that if a good number of animals were offered for sale at one time and place it would bring in buyers from a distance and thus bigger and better prices would result. It would be a good way to get rid of our surplus stock. What do the breeders think about this? Are there many in favor of the plan? If there are a goodly number in favor of the plan and a good few animals contributed the Grey County Board of Agriculture will make all arrangements for conducting the sale. Will those interested in this, whether for or against, write to the Secy. and let their views be known? The Secy. is T.H. Binnie, Priceville, Ont., R. R. 2.

A Rousing Mass Meeting

If the interest, attendance and enthusiasm of the first Mass meeting in the Local Option Campaign in any criterion of the coming vote than the repeal will be defeated more decisively than three years ago. The Baptist church was full and even overflowed into the schoolroom. Rev. Mr. Morris, Rector of Trinity, was to be Chairman but his own services kept him late and he gave the Chairman's speech at the close. Rev. Mr. Wylie in appropriate terms introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. C. I. Poole of Grand Valley, whose address was logical, eloquent and convincing.

He took up certain of the stock arguments against Local Option, first it was "no good." Strange then that 533 municipalities in the province, out of 800 have carried it and were holding on to it, only 15 out of several hundreds that might ask for a repeal vote were doing so, and besides if no good why the unanimous opposition of the liquor traffic.

He dealt with the cry that an increase of drinking per capita was reported and showed that it was well known that this is caused by a great influx of foreigners who cluster in cities where bars are open. Where the law was properly administered and penalties honestly inflicted, drinking was reduced and he quoted Sheldburne opinion that there was not a bottle sold there for a barrel before.

He contrasted Grand Valley before and after local option, the contrast giving the lie to cry of business ruin and lost revenue and proving that social conditions were greatly improved.

Following this came Rev. Mr. Morris who made his position clear on the great moral question, which he wants to keep divorced from politics. He fought against liquor men because he loved them. He emphasized the necessity of "wrestling" as St. Paul did against "spiritual wickedness in high places." He wanted every voter to put to himself this searching question "Can you say conscientiously your town has gone back morally" and if not your course is clear. His work is the old land and in Winnipeg had

Anniversary Services at Hampden

Sunday and Monday last were important days to Hampden Presbyterians and the services and other functions of their 1914 anniversary will be remembered as not unworthy of many brilliant predecessors. Rev Mr. Whaley preached twice on Sunday to congregations that gave warm testimony to the helpfulness and uplift of his discourses.
Monday evening the church was filled for the literary program that followed the sumptuous repast in the basement which repast sustained all the best traditions of such Hampden functions. Rev. Mr. McLean occupied the chair and had before him an excellent program. Rev. B. M. Smith, Dromore, accompanied by Messrs Geo. Lethian and W. Ramage were early on the scene, but the young people composing the famous Dromore choir were delayed till 9 p.m. The program went on however, Mr. W. Ramage opening with an appropriate solo and later sang with hearty applause a couple of patriotic selections. After his choir arried every interlude was filled by splendid anthems or other numbers and they would indeed be hard to please if they were not satisfied with the hearty applause they received and the warm comments of all regarding the excellence of their selections and the vim, dash and feeling they incorporate into their music. Miss Agnes Renwick was organist.

Rev. Mr. Smith conveyed to the congregation the good wishes of his people and congratulated them on the success of their anniversary. Mr. R. J. Ball M. P. recalled early days in Hampden neighborhood praising the pioneers and hinting that the present generation were scarcely equal to those gone before, an admission Rev. Mr. Whaley later facetiously rubbed in, astonished Mr. Ball should admit decadence since he came to power! Mr. C. Ramage recalled former associations with the congregation in old teaching days and touched on some features of the war.
Mr. H. H. Miller gave the speech of the evening, weaving round the sentiment in a maxim of an Indian tribe some beautiful conceptions and drawing lessons for the conduct of Canadian people in the present crisis. The maxim was "The sun sets but goes on shining, the river flows on" and so from this continuity of nature we should learn lessons of faith and steadfastness amid all vicissitudes.

Rev Mr. Whaley's address we could wish to have received more notice than is here possible. He had some elevating thought on the value of "passion" whole-souledness in the individual make up. The great workers of the world had this quality of being in earnest and without it nothing of great value could be accomplished.
Mr Geo. Lethian brought lay greetings from Dromore congregation and told an apt story to suggest that Dromore was being eyedene that night. Proceeds amounted to $47.
