OUTSIDE OF PRICEVILLE

There are two sides to everything so there is this time the outside for us, though we can always get an entrance without asking for a key to unlock the doors for to get in. The good citizens of Priceville are to be congratulated for securing an able representative in the corresponding line to report the happenings that so often in the past were neglected on account of the former writer claiming to be a countryman. Nowadays the country citizens are so highly favored that they only on very necessary occasions go to town unless some old bachelor who is out of tea, bread and tobacco will go for that part to satisfy the craving appetite—especially for the latter.

Again the country citizens go to Priceville on Sundays to hear the "good tidings" delivered by a faithful pastor, not to gather up any news although accidentally we might hear of some which might prove to be too late to be reported in due time for the press. However we often come in contact with material enough to make up a good budget from the country, including south, north, east and west. We go south and we take in the highlands, S. L. Artemesia, and down S. L. Glenelg—all good class of people. We go north and although naturally the temperature might be a little lower as it is somewhat nearer the North pole but however cold the atmosphere may be the good citizens are good warm hearted people who are always ready and who always hold to the words that "It is more blessed to give than to receive." But the receivers generally are inclined to think that it is a good pleasant thing to be kindly treated by being the recipient of all the good things given them through the liberality of the givers.

We go towards the east on very rare occasions but we are told that good and wise men come from that direction and as a proof of their wisdom we often meet with a large number of them every Sunday morning sitting reverently to listen to the story told from the pulpits of our different churches delivered by faithful pastors.

We go towards the west and naturally before we know where to stop we are often into the town of Durham. The west is often spoken of as the Garden of the World so we take those good old residents of the old G. road as the old Gardeners of Glenelg.

Last Sunday, yesterday, was an ideal day. A large number turned out to celebrate the duties of the sacred day by attending in our different places of worship. In the Pres. Ch. Rev. Mr. Matheson gave his first sermon on a series of services to be given by him during the next five Sundays. Mr. Matheson gave an excellent discourse although under a severe strain as he had a bad cold. His text last Sunday was from 1 Cor. 15 and 4th verse. His next discourse will be on the future existence of the departed and we hope his cold will take a quick turn for the better before next Sunday.

The weather has been quite spring like during the past week but by all appearance a change is brooding in the near future. A large number of people of all classes, old and young, are complaining with cold or grip or something else which they have no name for. The month of March at this time reminds us personally that we are another year older, it being our birth month. It is not necessary to give day and date of that far away year when we landed in old Canada West one cold and stormy night, badly clad, having no boots, stockings or coat or pants and immediately set up a complaint of the severity of the weather in old Canada. We were told that our good mother made a big loaf of maple sugar a day or two before our arrival so as to give us a sweet reception on our arrival.

Altho' we said a while ago that we could unlock the doors to Priceville without key or padlock, the good citizens are not of a countryman entering within their gates as a spy, so now we take the liberty of entering in and take a good view of those noble Scotsmen that met there one evening last week and entertained some of their Scotch brethren from the town of Durham. It's no matter whether we are English, Irish or Dutch, we like to be Scotch on occasions like the one in town last Friday night. A good Irish Editor stayed there till noon the next day for the purpose of giving a large column to it in his paper this week. But as we will be only intruding on the town correspondent we will pass out of town to our ain country again.

Mr and Mrs. Alex McMillan, S. L. Artemesia, contained a number of young people one evening last week. Norman McInt' sold his fine horse "Longboat" to Mr John Gray within last week. We can assure Jack that he got a good faithful horse which will not be afraid of doing his share of the spring work.

Arch. McDonald left this Monday 15th March, as delegate from Lodge No. 140, A. O. U. W., Priceville, to the Grand Lodge meeting held in Toronto this week. Archie intends to combine business and pleasure for a week before he returns.

Norman McDougall of Top Cliff is giving up farming and is to have a sale of all his effects on the 22nd inst.

Chas McKinnon who suffered from a severe attack of quinsy is getting all right again.

We noticed mailman Robt. Shortreed taking the wheels-to-day for the first time.

Those who have maple bush are in some instances making syrup and those that have no maple trees can do like the highlander after arriving from the old land long ago tapped hemlocks, balsams and all other trees, but no sugar or sap could be gotten

How's Business ?

Advertising, backed up by the right spirit, the right goods and the right service, can rescue a sinking business, and will make a prosperous business more masterful in its own community.

When John Wanamaker, the Prince of Merchants began business, he resolved to force matters. He was not content to wait to be found out—he DETERMINED TO BE found out. In short, he advertised. He threw on his business, small as it was, the light of publicity, and the public of Philadelphia entered the shop on which the light shone.

In this community the public is entering those shops on which the light of advertising is falling.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC

Be sure of this: those who are using our columns week after week do not give you poorer goods or service, or have higher prices.

Shops which are illumined by advertising court with full confidence your favor.

Shop where you are invited to shop.
