

ENEMY'S MASTER SPY ARRESTED

German Espionage in Britain Revealed by Apprehension of New York Woolen Merchant

A despatch from London says: The approaching trial of Anton Kuepferle, a German-American, on a charge of high treason, promises to prove sensational. The arrest occurred some weeks ago on the eve of Kuepferle's intended departure for the Continent, but the fact of his arrest and the various hearings before a police magistrate have been kept secret on account of the extreme importance to the State of the matters involved and the endeavor to deal adequately with the wide ramifications of German espionage in Britain which Kuepferle's apprehension disclosed. It is no exaggeration to say that the authorities consider Kuepferle's arrest the most important of its kind since the outbreak of the war, enabling the authorities to lay bare a most elaborate system of obtaining most valuable information of military and naval plans and transmitting them to the enemy. The most striking feature of the case is that it reveals beyond the shadow of a doubt that the most dangerous headquarters for despatching spies to England are located in the United States.

ITALY WILL NOT ENTER THE WAR

Has Reached An Agreement with Austria, According to Paris

A despatch from Paris says: Private advices have been received here to the effect that Italy and Austria have reached an agreement which will satisfy the aspirations of the Italian people for an enlargement of the national boundaries and preclude all possibility of armed intervention by Italy on the side of the allies.

WOLVES ON BATTLE FIELD.

The Terrible Experience of a Russian Officer.

The presence of wolves has added a new terror to the battle fields of East Prussia and Poland. A recent despatch from Petrograd gives the harrowing experience of a Russian officer, as he related it in a Riga newspaper. He was severely wounded, and when he came to himself he was apparently the only living soul left on the field. Pulling himself together and leaning on his sword, he staggered as best he could to the shelter of the adjacent woods.

CONDENSERS GERMAN HATRED.

Thinks Cool Calculating English May Be Blessing to Man-kind.

A despatch from London says: A protest against German self-esteem and against the prevailing spirit of hatred for England is made by the German journal, the organ of the German deserters, which asserts that each nation has a special mission to perform in the world. The wish is expressed that the rich talents and gifts of the cool, calculating English may become a blessing to mankind, and that for France there may arise her old and precious civilization.

Japanese Cruiser a Total Loss.

A despatch from San Francisco says: The Japanese cruiser Asama, wrecked on the lower California coast, cannot be salvaged, according to officers of the tug Sea Rover, which went to try it. The Sea Rover returned here Thursday.

WOULD BE CERTAIN DESTRUCTION

Commander of German Cruiser Quits Bluffing and Interns the Prinz Eitel

A despatch from Washington says: Assistant Secretary of the Treasury announced that the German cruiser Prinz Eitel, which was interned at Newport News, Virginia, would remain in the custody of the United States until the end of the war in which Germany is now engaged.

German Mail Seized.

A despatch from Basel says: British and French cruisers, according to advices received here, have taken from Italian mail steamers 2,300 bags of German mail addressed abroad and containing letters, post cards, money cheques and small packages. Bags coming from abroad intended for Germany will be treated in the same way and the contents of the bags are understood, is being made in response to Germany's submarine merchant and passenger ships. British warships recently captured on a Norwegian vessel confidential letters forwarded by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Imperial Chancellor, to Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador to the United States.
