Rev. B. E. Newsham is moving at the end of this month to Tintern in St. Catherine's District, and is to be succeeded by Rev. Guy Bucher in the Varney, Orchard and Vickers circuit. Good wishes will follow Mr. Newsham to his new field, as he has shown energy and faithfulness in his work here.

A BIG SHIPMENT.—The Red Cross lady workers of the town have this week forwarded a large consignment of goods to the base hospital at Toronto. This included 572 rolls bandages and 537 towels, as the results of the showers, and 89 sheets, 38 surgical shirts, 20 pr. wristlets. It took five large cases to carry the shipment.

GIVEN SIX MONTHS.—At the County Court held in Owen Sound last week, Messrs J. McKenzie and K. Vaughan were given six months each. They were up for causing bodily injury to Miss Gertrude Walker of Markdale. They were racing a horse along the road in March of last year near Markdale and smashed into a rig driven by Miss Walker, and in the accident she suffered injuries which sent her to the hospital.

Under the auspices of the Varney Grange, an up-to-date picnic will be held in Mr. Wm. Carson's bush on Friday, June 18th. Mr. J. J. Morrison, secretary of the Farmers' Co-Operative Co. of Toronto, is expected to be present to give an address, which will likely be along Co-Operative lines. A live committee are making full preparations for a jolly good time. Admission free. Kindly bring baskets. Everybody welcome.

A Garden Party is to be held at Varney on June 20th. We are expecting to beat the record made last year. The services of a professional entertainer from Toronto are being secured and several well known speakers are expected to be present. Tea will be served from 6.30 to 8. Price 25 and 15 cents. Miss Charles Spencer, Principal of Elmcourt, Toronto College of Music, has been secured for the occasion.

A BROKEN ARM.—In playing hide and seek with some other kids Monday, Harold Eganage, 12, editor's youngest son, 13 years old, fell backwards 7 ft from a tree stump with branches shooting from it where he had been concealed and suffered a broken bone in his right arm just below the shoulder and also dislocated the shoulder bone. The injured member was set and the mishap will delay him in examinations a year.

ENGINE OFF TRACK.—While shunting on to McGowan's switch, which leaves the main track just east of the railway bridge near Main St., a CPR freight broke a rail about Tuesday noon and the engine left the track, with the cars still on the bridge. It was rather a dangerous position as had the engine wheels been a few inches further north it would have toppled down the bank. Another engine was sent for and it was placed on the track again by 4 p. m., delaying the eastbound 4.00 passenger train only about 25 min.

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.—"A penny for your thoughts Sandy" said a bonnie Scotch lassie after her laddie had remained silent for a while. "Weel," he replied, "tae tell ye the truth, I was just thinking how fine it wad be if ye were tae gie me a wee kiss the noo." "I've nae objection, Sandy," replied the lassie promptly, and gave him a smacking kiss right away. After a time she ventured another question—"An' what are ye thinkin' about the noo?" "Another kiss, maybe?" "Nae, nae, lassie," he answered, "it's nae serious." She nestled nearer and softly asked—"An' what might it be Sandy?" "I was just thinkin'," said Sandy slowly, "that it was about time ye were paying me that penny, lassie."

Some Label Facts

This week we have corrected our mailing sheets to date.

Will our readers take a moment to see if their label is right, and if not, and our fault, let us know NOW and not months or years from now. If date is behind and not our fault, then kindly correct it now also by remitting.

Our sincere thanks are due those who during the past two weeks have attended to the circulars sent out, by remitting or making arrangements to do so. Almost all apologies for the delay, but in one case resentment has been shown because we asked for our own.

When we send out circulars our staff has instructions to send to all whose label does not bear "1914" mark at least. All are made alike, it would be impossible to make fish of one and flesh of another. It is an unpleasant duty, but necessity compels us and we are glad so many friends have seen it that way and have done so handsomely and kindly.

Reader, if you received a circular by mail, in plain envelope, and have not answered it, do it at once before final list is made out at credit price.

This is Durham's first entrance in intermediate company for several years and a number of the stalwarts of former days will be seen in the line up. Orangeville is looked upon as a strong opponent but the Durhams with consistent practice are showing good form and expect to "turn the trick" Friday. Walk over to the grounds and see them.

The Women are Workers.

The Annual Meeting of the S. Grey Women's Institute was held in Durham Town Hall on 12th inst. Representatives were there from Aytou, Holstein, Desmore, Donoch, Zion and Lamulash and three branches were unrepresented.

President Mrs. Dr. Easton of Aytou occupied the chair and reports were given from each of the branches showing all to be in a flourishing condition.

Each branch has done good work for the Red Cross and other patriotic funds, giving a total of over $400.00 and a great many garments were gathered for the Belgian relief and knitting and sewing and other work was done for the soldiers.

It was moved that the South Grey district donate $100.00 to the Base Hospital Fund and was unanimously carried.

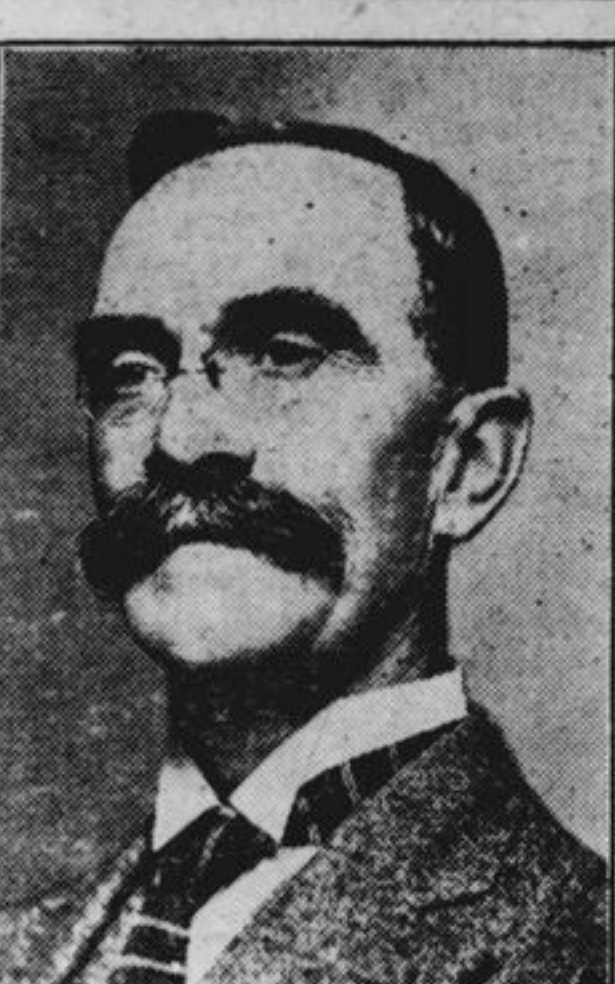

It was decided that the Grey County Convention be held in Durham on August 25.

The following officers were then elected: President—Mrs. Dr. Easton, Aytou; 1st Vice Pres.—Mrs. W. H. Rogers, Holstein; 2nd Vice Pres.—Mrs. R. T. Edwards, Zion; Sec.—Treas.—Mrs. T. McGirr, Durham.

"The secret of Perpetual Youth" was the subject of the paper given by Mrs. W. H. Rogers, of Holstein, and the many good thoughts that were given were an inspiration to all. Miss May Wenger, of Aytou, gave a splendid paper on "Patriotism and Good Citizenship."

A dainty lunch was then served by the ladies of the Durham Branch, the Directors of the Agricultural meeting, who had met upstairs, sharing in this part of the program.

Mr. Calder gave a nice little speech, complimenting the ladies on their business qualities, &c., and that at Owen Sound the $25 granted to each of the Institutes, was one of the easiest grants passed and hoped they would soon be granted the franchise. Secy. Binnie gave a brief account of the Agricultural Society troubles and said they were reorganizing that society and that it would probably include representatives from the Women's Institutes and Horticultural Societies and that there would be no excursion to Guelph this year, as the railways wanted too big a guarantee, as if they happened on a bad day, they would be in "the hole."

H. H. MILLER
Liberal Candidate in South-East Grey

Graham and Miller Deal with Dominion Doings.

We found it impossible last week to make use of our notes of the speeches of Mr. H. H. Miller and Hon. Geo. P. Graham at the Liberal Convention, but even though a week has elapsed their points are still good. Both men are intelligent observers of current politics, and both have done much for their country.

Mr. Miller realized the honor done him by being the choice of the old riding in 1914 and again of the enlarged riding this year. If he consulted his business interest and his former interests only there would be reasons to decline the nomination but on the other hand it was an honor, the confidence bestowed made it a duty and besides he had a hankering to be on the job, so even with a majority of 600 against him it was not enough to discourage. He warned his friends though that it would be the work of every man. A turn-over of 20 or 25 in each municipality would bring victory especially as the next election was likely to be less partisan than usual. His opponent was likely to be Mr. Ball and electors now would be able to contrast the services rendered by the two candidates and judge for themselves. He pointed out instances of his independence of party in his former service, even on occasions voting against his leader. His prominent connection with the Lord's Day Act and the Anti-Gambling bill had been much commented upon by unbiased men. The Durham armory which he had dealt with in a business way, a public building in Hanover and one to come in Durham, and other things was evidence of his efforts locally.

Activity along election lines was inevitable as long as partition was uncertain. Liberals must be ever ready, when their opponent can fix the date. No charge of disloyalty could be levelled at them for they had opposed no war grants nor war measures but they defended their right to criticize huge expenditures. For instance it had been proved that liquor costing 65 cts a lb. had been sold to the government for $22.80 a lb., surely this was a transaction justifying criticism. He was as willing as any man to lick a war stamp if it was really going for war purposes but he hated to do it because it was making him pay the profits on the old horses foisted on the government by party friends.

He pointed out again the necessity for organization and believed the record of the government would alienate many of their friends and if Liberals were true to principle they would win.

Mr. Graham hoped the Liberals of the riding would, in the coming contest, be possessed of the vigor shown in the remarks of the Secretary. Mr. Miller was a worthy man to fight for. He had sat with him in the house and knew him to be one of the most conscientious, capable and industrious men that ever represented a constituency. He had shown a manly independence and a grasp of public questions few possessed, and Sir Wilfrid would rejoice to see him returned as well as others of his colleagues.

"Why all this political turmoil?" he asked. One man only could stay the turmoil and he won't speak and we don't propose to be caught napping. Not only he won't say, but preparation is in progress for an election. It was threatened last fall, then one was forecasted in June, and it may come in September. If there is to be no election why is there legislation to give soldiers a vote? Why are ballots printed and run off to Britain and Bermuda? Why are government printing offices working night and day on Voters' Lists? There were signs of an election war-swing activity. The actions of British statesmen where an election was deferred though due, and where cooperation of both parties stayed partisan clamor, was in marked contrast to what we had in Canada.

He referred to the criticism of the

Durham Patriotic League

Will hold Concert and Lecture in Town Hall on 25th June.

The recently formed Patriotic League in Durham has secured for the first patriotic night under its auspices the presence of Mr. J. L. Hughes, the well-known publicist, who will give a lecture on the above date on some war topic.

A musical program is also being prepared and the excellence of this, the ability and renown of the lecturer, and the worthy motive underlying all, will no doubt tax the capacity of our town hall once more. No admission fee, but a voluntary collection will be taken up to defray expenses, the balance to be applied to the patriotic fund.

Mr. Hughes became known many years ago as the Inspector of Toronto schools, in which position he displayed such marked ability and industry as to bring him widely into notice. For years he bore a burden now distributed among several men. His fame spread not only over the province, but to the States and he has lectured much in New York and in the great cities on and near the Canadian border. He has written several books on educational subjects. A lecture from such a man will be a treat. He is giving his time absolutely free and as a close observer of the war situation cannot fail to be interesting.

Though not a military man himself, he is of a militant family. Major General Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, is a brother, Col. Wm. Hughes another brother, in England with the second contingent, while still another brother John has charge of the military camp at Valcartier and this latter is further distinguished as the father of our own Sydney Hughes, Manager of the Royal Bank in Durham.

Fix the date in your mind, Friday, 25th June, and plan to be present. All young men especially from country and town should be present.

The Cemetery

The request for financial assistance to the Cemetery Co. having been turned down by the Town Council, the question of maintenance of that institution becomes of importance. Too few of the large number interested ever give a thought to maintenance after having once paid for their plot yet a little thought will convince anyone that maintenance is needed if the place is to be kept presentable.

The only revenue at present comes from the sale of plots and as can easily be understood that becomes less and less as the families of the community become supplied. From this revenue in the past has come the many improvements at present enjoyed, such as attractive tree planting, caretaker's residence, tool house, water service, &c., and more than all the salary of the caretaker. No other salary or emolument is given to any person. At present the finances do not warrant engaging a caretaker, hence the search for funds. Mr. Telford, more than any other, has given time and thought to this "God's acre" and it would be a shame to let it fall into neglect.

The townships of Bentinck and Glenelg as well as the town of Durham are interested, but they will scarcely give a grant if Durham should refuse, so the alternative seems to be that some equitable system of support be devised, and that must come largely from plot-holders. Surely public spirit will not allow the cemetery where rests their dead to become as a waste, for the reflection would fall heavily on all concerned. Our columns are open for suggestions.

Dr. J. A. McDonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, will speak at a big patriotic concert in Priceville on Tuesday, June 22. Make it a point to hear him.

The annual meeting of the Red Cross Workers will be held in the Armories on Saturday, June 19th at 3 p. m. All ladies are invited to attend. A full meeting is desired.
