Notes on the War

One does not know what a day may bring forth but as we write Tuesday morning the war situation is not rosy for the Allies. The great German drive against Russia which a few days ago was stayed after they had captured Przemysl, has again been advanced and it appears likely they will now capture Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, and drive the Russians completely out of the Austrian Province. The Star military critic thinks that Germany may then lean upon her sword and addressing the world ask for peace since every foe has been driven from his borders.

Italy may turn the tide: she is making victorious advances, occupying mountain tops and places of advantage and approaching Trieste, the great Austrian Adriatic port. She seems to have her plan and her armies well in hand.

In the western areas there is little doing, though every day is expected to bring something spectacular. Just why France, Britain and Belgium have not been able to do more when Germany was putting her main efforts against Russia, is not clear.

Lack of munitions probably since no one questions leadership in the generals nor bravery in the men. And why lack of munitions? Because of the drinking habits of men in British workshops impairing their efficiency and seriously lessening the output.

No wonder Lloyd George said that drink was a greater enemy than Germany or Austria. Kitchener has given orders to release certain men in the trenches to allow them to go home for factory work. Germany has 12 machine guns per battalion, Britain scarcely four.

The French have made some slight advances, but so have the enemy. Belgium is planning a new offensive we are told and we may be assured the British and Canadians are not sleeping.

Australians and New Zealanders are winning fame at the Dardanelles. The Turks are being driven back, but slowly, and the passage will not be cleared for a day or two yet. The British forces in the Euphrates valley have won notable victories and where Russian and Turk are opposed the former is winner.

German submarines are still sinking British craft with some loss of life. Dutch and Norwegian vessels also suffered. A British ship has been torpedoed in the Arctic sea north of Russia, while a German submarine got safely to Turkey via the English Channel, Bay of Biscay, Gibraltar straits and Mediterranean. The United States in a second note to Germany, milder than the first, still refuses to acknowledge a German war zone, and demands assurances that piracy will cease.

The resignation of Bryan, Secretary of State and President Wilson's right hand man, rather than sign the second German note, has been a nine-day's talk. He is being roundly condemned by the press and public opinion for treachery to his chief, not so much for the resignation, as for his avowed purpose to make a pliant campaign against the administration's methods. Some think he is manoeuvring to secure the next Presidential nomination.

Canada is making a call for 35000 more men and no doubt they will be forthcoming.

A Metropolitan Daily and your favorite local paper at a special Clubbing Rate

Since the opening of the great European war last August, the cable services of the Globe, Toronto, has attracted attention from one end of Canada to the other owing to its completeness and reliability. Every day the cable news is condensed and interpreted on the front page under the title of 'The War Summary.' This feature makes plain and intelligible what would otherwise be confusing to the reader. The Globe maintains its position as 'Canada's National Newspaper' as is proven by the fact that its circulation of 87,000 is much larger than that of any other morning paper in the Dominion.

Elsewhere in this issue appears an advertisement of the Globe, offering the paper sent to any address in Canada for $5 per year. A special clubbing offer of the Globe, Daily and the Durham Review one year for $3.00 is now made thus ensuring the best metropolitan daily and the best local paper at a cut rate.

Some of our contemporaries are advocating for the removal of that disease which afflicts all more or less at this season of the year, spring fever, accompanied with the general lassitude and feeling of out of sorts, that some spring medicine should be taken says The Stratford Beacon. One of the best says waller to the people, who are plenty of nature's great medicines, sleep. The Beacon ventures to put in another plea here for what many may consider has come to be a hobby, gardening. To those whose work is mainly indoor there can be no better spring tonic than some exercise in the open air. Waller to the people, who are plenty of nature's great medicines, sleep.

At the Exhibition this year will be exhibited for everyone to see all kinds of evidences of German Culture, from the helmets of the much vaunted Ulans to the barbarous device, the asphyxiating gas bomb. Big guns that had done their deadly work before they fell into the hands of our soldiers. Shells of every calibre; helmets and uniforms taken from the bodies of dead Germans; in fact, all that the Krupp's have been able to create will be shown at the Exhibition this year.
