HOLSTEIN LEADER

Celebrated Golden Wedding

Saturday, July 10th, was the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr and Mrs Jas. Brown, Yeovil, and Mrs Brown's seventieth birthday. Of their eight children all but one son Wallace, were home to mark the festive event, the first occasion since leaving home so many have been together. The children home were Jas with his daughter Isabel, Walter with his wife and Jonathan and his wife, all of Sault Ste Marie, Mich.; Mrs Atwater of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs Ross of Gladstone, Mich.; Mrs Geo McCall of Holstein, Mrs Jas Hart with her husband of Toronto. Six grandchildren were present.

On July 10th, 1865, Mr Brown was wedded to Miss Elizabeth Kennedy of the 14th con. of Egremont, by Rev Mr Greig of Orchard, Mr Brown then farming in Proton. Nearly 30 years ago they removed to their present home on the 14th con. of Egremont.

The old couple, still in excellent health, enjoyed the reunion with their children and grandchildren and several neighbors were also present to share in the sociability of the occasion. A presentation was made to Mr and Mrs Brown of a case containing $50 in gold and a beautiful tea pot and sugar bowl both of gold, and an address given them read by Mr Geo Bye. A happy evening was spent in music, games and social conversation and many good wishes were expressed that the old couple may yet enjoy many years of health and usefulness in the evening of life.

The open Bible—National Schools—Separation of Church and State—free speech—civil and religious liberty—equal rights to all special privileges to none—but—honor to whom honor is due. Only on such principles can a universal brotherhood be established.

A man who is not fit for a member of the Church of Christ is not fit to be an Orangeman, and he believed every member of the Order should be a member of some Christian Church.

Our love for the brotherhood will be tested now more than ever, but remember, he asked, that the noblest kind of love is that which dares to be generous to a fallen foe. We cannot pray for victory unless we mean it to be the herald of Peace and Good will among the nations.

We have offered Germany our love and friendship in the past. When these tragic events are past, over the graves of our dead we shall offer it again and so do our part to hasten the day when all peoples shall believe in the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man.

Notes from the General Assembly

From a report prepared by Mr David Grier, a Commissioner to the General Assembly from Holstein congregation, we have pleasure in making the following extracts:

"It is my duty as well as my privilege to give a few gleanings and reflections from the highest court of our church the General Assembly of June, 1915, which convened in Queen's College, Kingston. I may say at the outset that we found it a source of inspiration and uplift as we listened to the accounts of the various committees and members of the body discussing their needs and examining into every detail of the work.

Dr. Herridge, retiring Moderator, preached a powerful and instructive discourse on "The necessities of the hour," dwelling on our attitude as Canadians to the present war. "I have two sons at the front and had I twelve, I would consent for all to be there" showed his soldier spirit as much as his appearance in soldier's uniform on the platform at various times.

The new Moderator is Dr. McGillivray, of Chalmers Church, Kingston, a gentleman eminently fitted for the onerous duties of the position, by governing power and persuasive eloquence.

The great needs of the Mission work of the church was shown by the lamentable fact that 100 Mission fields are vacant this year, and it was affirmed that at least 12 could be saved were overlapping prevented. Closing 100 Mission Stations affects all others: our church needs more funds to carry on her glorious work. 500 men applied and only 80 were given employment. Soldiers of Jesus Christ, acting in any capacity must respond to the call.

The intense practical character of the Women's Missionary work was shown by the sum of $50,000 having been spent in various fields. Winnipeg ladies are training the Ruthenian population in domestic science to make good Canadian citizens of them.

In the Maritime provinces 50 per cent of the congregations were vacant. In Saskatchewan the work was keeping pace fairly well with immigration. Forty years ago there were 2 congregations now 852. At Englehart on the north everyone doubted their subscription, a laudable and encouraging example. 15000 Italians in Montreal contributed $700 to the Patriotic Fund, all encouragement to work to Canadianize and Christianize the foreigner if we are to have a peaceable contented and progressive people.

The progress in Home Missions stirs up also the Foreign Missions. Substantial advances have been made in Formosa and Honan, the latter field giving $2000 for Home and Foreign Missions. No fewer than 25000 persons were treated in one year in one dispensary. In India a whole people were born into the Kingdom—340 in one village. Some schools increased 50 per cent in one year and one school took 80 per cent of the medals offered.

In South China there are only 15 chapels in three districts of 250000 population. To reach these native instructors must be secured and the necessity is on us to fit them for their duties.

We should approach the subject of Church Union with a feeling of implicit trust in the Great Head of the Church. No narrow sectarian spirit should impair our impartial vision. Statesmen acted wisely when they united the provinces of Canada. The united empire of Britain is fighting heroically for truth, justice and righteousness. "In Union is Strength" is being verified as never before.

A new Canada, with new ideas, is being formed. It is our duty to see that these ideas are founded on high ideals that will stand the scrutiny of the Highest. The arrogance of our foes has led them to despise what is holy and good and it is imperative on us to teach and inculcate "Righteousness alone exalteth a nation."

The vote stood 5 to 1 in favor of submitting the matter to the people. Divisions are not perhaps in accordance with God's will but it seems our duty to bring the Church of Christ closer together and realize that we are one family.

As to Sabbath Schools it is absolutely essential that there should be men in every congregation willing to give time and thought to S. S. work; the leading and primary object to present the Saviour as the Great Teacher. Efficiency is the great requirement of the day and the co-operation of parents is necessary and a system of teacher-training is also necessary. The injunction "Feed my Lambs" was given before "Feed my Sheep."

The Saviour's great ideal of life is Service. As a boy in the temple, at the grave of Lazarus, with the outcast at the well, with the afflicted and tormented it was Service! Service! Service! The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto but to minister. Not only on the Cross but every day and hour he laid down his life. We see the significance of Jesus only when we see in him God lived by man—God in man and man in God. By the life he lived on earth he has written the law of service upon the revelation of God: the Most High is most high because He is by infinite pre-eminence the Seryant and Saviour of all.

The great gathering of delegates from B. C. to Nova Scotia left Kingston with many kindly memories of Christian Sociability, and a fund of inspiration and love for higher things from which they will draw strength for many days.

Ten days after the call has been issued for thirty-two volunteers overseas service by the Thirty-first regiment, twelve recruits have passed as physically fit and accepted. While this response is gratifying view of the slowness of recruiting over, still at the same rate, it will be nearly a month to complete the quota of the Thirty-first regiment complete the end of this week, and in order accomplish this, recruits will come out. If Grey county does furnish its quota within reasonable time, it will be the privilege of other section of the province to supply the deficiency. Up to now our country has not failed to supply and even more than the number of recruits has been asked for. Many other sections of Ontario have fed it necessary to go to the larger centres principally Toronto to gather recruits. Do the people of Grey want their quota to be classed among those? Twenty young men are here, and they can be spared. There are still plenty carry on the work on the farms and in other industries, as is testified the number of idle men to be seen the streets and in the pool-rooms the towns. Let Grey continue to one of the districts that can always be counted on to furnish its proportion of the men required. If the quota is filled up quickly the officer commanding the Thirty-first regiment instructions not to stop recruiting to take on all who offer themselves and are found fit. Those men already enlisted are now hard at work and Lieut. H. C. Young of Hanover, who is going overseas with them. Recruiting is still going on in the armories Owen Sound, Mesford, Hanover, Markdale and Clarkeburg.
