Another Chicago Horror

A fearful calamity at Chicago resulted in the loss of about 1300 lives. An excursion steamer, at her docks, was being loaded with a gay and happy throng of 2500 people, when she began to tilt, the hawsers snapped and she slid into midstream, turning turtle.

Top-heaviness is supposed to have been the cause, overloaded. It was all over in two minutes, but in that time 1300 lives were snuffed out and a city plunged into mourning. All who had gone to the cabins were of course in a trap, others were injured. Some managed to crawl onto the side of the boat which was above water.

Investigation is proceeding and men thought to be responsible have been arrested. Another reason assigned for the disaster is that her water ballast had been removed to enable her to dock in shallow water. Doctors are now busy with survivors who may have allowed filthy river water, to prevent an outbreak of typhoid.

In June, 1914, warning was given that unless inspectors were more careful, some shocking tragedy would occur on these excursion boats and the remark was then made "even though tied to the dock."

Some previous marine disasters, with heavy loss of life were:

- Royal George, Aug. 1782, at Spithead, 600 drowned, cause wreck.
- Birkenhead, Feb. 1852, coast of Africa, 454, cause wreck.
- City of Glasgow, March 1854, at sea, 408, wreck.
- Austria, Sept. 1858, at sea, 588, fire.
- Lady Elgin, Sept. 1860, Lake Michigan, 287, collision.
- Atlantic, April 1873, Marshhead, 546, wreck.
- Princess Alice, Sept. 1878, Thames, 700, wreck.
- Utopia, March 1891, Gibraltar, 574, collision.
- Bargynne, July 1898, at sea, 871, collision.
- General Slocum, June 1904, East River, New York, 1000, fire.
- Titanic, April 1912, at sea 1593, iceberg.
- Empress of Ireland, May 1914, St. Lawrence, 1027, collision.
- Kicker Maru, Sept. 1914, at sea, 1000, wreck.
- Lusitania, May 1915, at sea, 1446, German torpedo.
- Eastland, 24 July 1915, at dock in Chicago 1300, careless officialdom.

Letter from Lieut. A. Seim

We quote extracts from the following letter received on Monday from Lieut. A. Seim who is with the Veterinary Corps in Egypt. As he had journeyed first to Alberta, the letter is about ten days late:

June 18, 1915
Dear Friend:—

I was certainly very agreeably surprised to hear from you but you will have another guess as to my whereabouts and as you are Irish we'll give you another guess. This is a better one than the one you had in my last Tuesday I ever saw in my life. The wind near burnt your face and I could hardly breathe. There was quite a sand storm, worse than any snow storm I ever saw. I am sending you a clipping out of this morning's paper and you can judge for yourself what it was like. Egypt is considered a hot country at any time.

I intend to "pop" as many Germans as I can. I'll have to hit the Kaiser a kick for Jack. Arab and if you want me to give him one for you, you had better get in your order at once. . . .

I have been here in this place a month but it nearly two months since I first came to Egypt. I don't like the country but I haven't seen much of it; maybe it is better out a bit. This is a desert, nothing but sand and you don't see much green grass or trees though this is the best spot of any I have seen here. My address is Lieut. A. Seim, A. V. C., 18th Field Veterinary Hospital, Section, British Expeditionary Force. I haven't heard from Milton for about three weeks. He was well then, May 6th, as I am now.

Yours Truly,
A. Seim

CALLING A SPADE A SPADE.—Come on, you forces of evil in Philadelphia that have made the church a doormat to wipe your dirty feet upon! Come on, you triple extract of infamy! Come on, you assassins of character! Come on, you defamers of God and enemies of his church! Come on, you bull-necked, beetle-browed, hog-jawed, peanut-brained, weazel-eyed four-flushers, false alarms and excess baggage. In the name of almighty God, I challenge and defy you I'll here nine weeks. Come on, and I'll deliver the goods, express prepaid! Oh get right with God! If you do, the devil will bank his fires, hell will be for rent and his boss in the hospital by the Fourth of July. Churches to-day are mere social organizations. We want more of God and less of dress, show and money. Card-playing, drink-quizzing, gin fizzes and tangoin' cast out, no devils, my friends. Some preachers are pretty good fellows, but they can't hit the ball. I've got a gospel gun that shoots straight. It's loaded with rough on rats, pecca, rock salt, dynamite and barbed wire. I could get off a line of talk that would make a Greek professor's jaws squeak, but I doped out long ago that the people don't want that line of conversation.—Billy Sunday—quoted in The Christian Standard.

Wetzl—Hoy Case Settled

Chief Justice Falconbridge last week dismissed the action, giving judgment for Hoy for $48. The details of the case are as follows: In 1914 Wm. Wetzl, a farmer of Hopeville, bought a Clydesdale stallion from Ed. Hoy, of Holstein, for $1,200 giving $25 in cash and a chattel mortgage on property for the balance. The horse died in Wetzl's stable about five months after and the opinion of the veterinary surgeon was that death was due to Paris green. In the interval the horse had been insured for $1,000 and the insurance was assigned to Hoy, who, however, later on seized and sold property, under the chattel mortgage to satisfy the balance of his claim. Wetzl claimed damages for this, asserting that the seizure under the chattel mortgage was a wrongful conversion. He asked for a verdict of $1,000.

Chief Justice Falconbridge, who tried the case, dismissed the action and gave judgment for the defendant for $48, balance due on the chattel mortgage.

The Dromore branch of the Women's Institute purpose holding a garden party on Mr. Jas. Snell's beautiful lawn on the 11th of August, the proceeds of which will be given to the Red Cross Society. 10 cents admission will be charged. A fine program is being arranged for. Ice cream and other delicacies may be secured during the evening from attentive and willing waiters. A program of sports will be given, chief of which will be a football match between Holstein and Dromore.

We are glad to be able to report that this fine society has already contributed handsomely with hospital supplies, including 23 pairs of socks, 45 yards cotton made into bandages, 1800 mouth wipes, 300 face cloths, 2 doz. slings, 16 handkerchiefs and a roll of cotton. They purpose holding in the future a Jolly and Jam shower. The ladies are worthy of all commendation. What a contrast to the miserable specimens of men who won't contribute one cent to the fund so auspiciously begun and carried out to a $430 extent.

Miss Smith, from Dorchester, accompanied by her brother's two children, was a visitor at their relative, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Findlay's.

Miss Katie Black, Chesley, in company with her friend, Miss Viola Bennie, were worshippers at Amos on Sunday last and visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ramage on Monday.

Miss McLean is visiting her cousin the McMillan family at present.

We were pleased to meet with Mr. Abraham Hooper, in company with his son Willie, at Amos on Sunday last, the latter so improved in health and appearance as to be scarcely recognizable, we after a course of treatment recommended fortunately by the Rev. Mr. Smith, is now a handsome young man, after being, as the latter expresses it, like a walking stick. As a matter of course they and we all feel grateful.

Little Miss Mary J. Haas is recovering, though slowly, from her recent attack of typhoid fever.

Mr. Jas. Snell has completed his silo and is again up-to-date and to his eyes, Mr. Thos. Brown, Jr., narrowly escaped a serious accident. While hauling up cement sludge the rope gave way, causing him to lose his balance and fall headfirst to the ground below. Fortunately, Mr. Snell, with great presence of mind, being nearby, gave him a shove, thus breaking the fall. Beyond a few bruises, he is still, "Tommy on the top."

Mrs. Frank Adams visited last week her sister Phemie (Mrs. J. Strong) at Toronto and returned on Friday last.

[As will be seen elsewhere our correspondent has been called upon to pass through deep waters, since the above was written, by the sudden death of his eldest daughter Mary.]

Mr. and Mrs. Hastings and Miss Lendrum, of Toronto, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sharp.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hamilton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Morice and took in the afternoon service in Knox.

The entertainment on Monday evening in Knox was very successful both in literary program and finances. Rev. Mr. Smith made a capable chairman and had strong support from his brethren of the cloth, no fewer than four being present. These were Revs. De Moyer and Willie of Darham, Marsh of Holstein and Bucher of Varney, and made interesting and entertaining addresses. As variety there was violin music by Rev. Seppel, of Ayton, a duet by the Misses Mead and a solo by Mr. Jno. Marsh all much enjoyed. Proceeds were $60, some of which will go towards patriotic funds.
