Eight o'clock Closing

At the very time when the Government presumably thought that with of the License Board there would be opportunity, three new m mor b a little respite from the agitation ing added to the roll, against the liquor traffic, they must be very disappointed to find that instead of a rest, a period of ever greater activity has been ushered in. I was on the evening of the 12th of October that the eight o'clock closing rule was announced, (which by the way has pleased nobody, either the liquor interests or the temperance men) and it was just three days later, on the 15th of October, that the Committee of One hundred, modelled at ter similar bodies in Saskatchewan and British Columbia, was launched at the big Toronto meeting. This Committee of One Hundred is to be the Executive of a new temperance movement, entirely non-partisan in its nature and which will be satisfied with no nibbling or zig-zag process, but which is demanding the complete prohibition of the liquor traffic in Ontario or, at any rate, a referendum of the people on the question. The movement, which is still in its infancy, already includes prominent men of both parties from many secere bright for a successful career. It is most fortunate that this movement at its beginning had the assistance of Mrs Nellie McClung, the brilliant western woman, and also of Rev. Dr. Pidgeon, recently of British Columbia. These two speak- stabling put under his baru on the ers, by telling the actual facts of the Banks property last week by the Edgreat temperance advance in the West, are doing much to encourage the people of Ontario to wipe out the liquor traffic here.
