TOPICS

Last Friday afternoon, a shocking accident occurred at the factory of the Keenan Woodware Company, Owen Sound, when an employee, James Walters, was caught in a rapidly revolving shaft and hurled to his death, which was almost instantaneous. The body was ground to a pulp and was mutilated beyond all recognition.

Dr. Malcolm Black, for many years practising physician in Paisley, has sold out and bought a practice at Mt. Hope, seven miles from Hamilton, leaving Nov. 1st. Dr. Black is an old Glenelg boy, brother of J. A. Black of Chesley and has made an honorable record as a successful medico. His daughter is a teacher in Durham Public School.

Dr. Thurlow Fraser, pastor of Division Street Presbyterian Church, Owen Sound, volunteered his services as chaplain at the beginning of the war, and received word to report at Toronto last Saturday afternoon. He motored there Sunday immediately after his morning service. The congregation presented him with a military wrist watch before his departure.

The November meeting of the Women's Institute will be held in the Durham Library on Thursday, Nov. 4, at 3 p.m. Mrs. J. S. McIlraith will speak on the "Women of India"; Mrs. Jas. Hepburn on the "History of work of the Women's Institutes." Mrs. J. McGowan will lead in a general discussion on cold weather dishes. Question drawer will be conducted. All ladies are cordially invited to attend.

Anniversary services of Durham Presbyterian Church will be held on Sunday and Monday, October 31 and November 1. Rev. Dr. Farquharson, former pastor, will conduct the Sabbath services. He will also take part on the Monday evening, when a splendid tea will be served and a fine musical program rendered. Admission Monday evening 25 cts. to tea and program, proceeds to go to help our boys at the front.

Rev. Harvey Grant, D. D., for 20 years a Missionary in China, appeared at the Thank-offering meeting of the Women's Missionary Society in the Presbyterian Church and for an hour gave a graphic presentation of Missionary work in that vast country. He portrayed the political divisions of the country, but dealt chiefly with Honan, where the Presbyterian church has an extensive field, ministers, missionaries and native workers being even gathered into Presbyteries. The troubles of the Boxer rebellion and the gains made since the early persecuting days made an interesting story. The collection amounted to $50, the largest in the history of the local branch.

HYDRO-RADIALS.—Some activity is being shown in this question in regard to branches from Guelph northward. Durham is so vitally interested in this matter that our Board of Trade should keep its ear to the ground for possible developments and be ready to act when and where necessary. A meeting is being held in the offices in Toronto to-day, invitations to which were sent out some time ago we believe. Facts and figures from nearly all districts as to possible trade are at headquarters, but of course final ultimate action will depend on the rate-payers of the various municipalities at the polls.

REFLECTED ON LOYALTY.—Walkerston planned to raise $3000 by subscription to the Trafalgar Day Fund but reached only the $2,100 mark. At a meeting of the committees at night, two of the councillors it was found did not contribute. One satisfactorily explained his reason but the other, John Douglas, whom the meeting believed able to contribute, gave no explanation of his action. A resolution was passed requesting him to resign his seat at the Council Board. On being interviewed, Mr. Douglas refused to resign, claiming he acted in his capacity as a private citizen, none had a right to criticize his action and he was the keeper of his own conscience.

PLUCK MADE UP FOR LACK OF HEIGHT.—Major General Sir Sam Hughes is very popular with at least one soldier in training at Owen Sound, Pte. William Coffie, of Hanover. Coffie is but a shade over five feet in height, and when he went to the recruiting station was turned down for his lack of stature, being nearly two inches short. Some time afterwards Coffie overheard a man of Teutonic origin make some slighting remark about the Canadian soldiers, and though his opponent overtopped him by nearly a foot, he gave him a sound pummeling, all of which R. J. Ball, M. P., a resident of Hanover, learned in due time. At last he sent a personal letter with the facts of the case to General Hughes and the result was that in a few days an order came from the head of the Militia Department authorizing Coffie to be taken on the overseas forces. And now it is Pte. Coffie, short but stocky, delighted and diligent, doing his drill with the latest Grey county quota.

Almost 250 men are now in training at Owen Sound and 100 more have enlisted but are not yet in training throughout Grey County, so the campaign of the Grey Co. recruiting League has shown splendid results so far. It is expected over 400 will have enlisted in this quota by Christmas.

MAKE IT 500.—The campaign of the Grey County recruiting league to raise 250 men additional has met with much success, and present appearances are that the number may reach 400, some optimists even putting down 500 as a possible. The meetings of the County League are over and it is hoped the branch leagues will now get in some good work.

THE BATTLE LINE IN ONTARIO.—Local option contests are being carried on in no fewer than seven cities; Belleville, Fort William, Port Arthur, Barrie, Niagara Falls, Stratford, Peterborough. 8 towns: Aurora, North Bay, Oshawa, Parkhill, Parry Sound, Uxbridge, Wallaceburg, Whitby. Also in 9 villages and 12 townships. The war against the waste of liquor drinking in material resources and in human lives goes steadily on.

In writing up some of the Owen Sound recruits, the Times thus refers to an old Durham boy: "Karl Lenahan: Stepped out from behind the drug counter and got into uniform in the ranks' best little hockey goal keeper in this section of Ontario, and a good, steady baseball player. He had been playing these games for many years and has made good just as he will make an excellent soldier. For he is in earnest in anything he starts. He came originally from Durham. He is a member of last year's junior hockey team that felt one goal short of the championship."

GAVE UP COMMISSION.—Lieut. Don L. McKinnon, of Priceville, who enlisted in the Army Service Corps, and was training at Quebec, has thrown up his commission as a lieutenant and came to Ottawa, where he enlisted as a private in the Signalling Division, Canadian Engineers. There were too many on the waiting list ahead of him and Donald believing more men are needed at the front, took a quicker route to get there. He has been warmly commended by many of the higher officers upon his action, having shown himself to be the stamp of man required, one who will sacrifice rank that he might the more readily and opportunely serve his country. Many South Grey friends will also appreciate his stand and watch his future career with interest.

Watch That Label

This week with great care we have corrected our mailing sheet and as usual if an overlook has occurred, we ask you to let us know now, not next year. We are anxious to have a correct list and a clean list, to be well paid up and we would ask attention to this from those who are in arrears. Look at your label.

Fifty Dollar Fine

On Saturday last before Magistrates Ludlow and Young, Mr. Samuel Wilson was charged by Constable Arrow-smith with violation of the Local Option law in being drunk within the municipality. He denied the charge, claiming that he had lost much sleep previous nights and physical exhaustion had been the cause of his unsteady gait. Evidence of Dr. Wolfe and Chas. Brown went to show that he had exhibited all the indications of intoxication and this was confirmed by Thos. Whalen.

In rebuttal several members of the family of the accused testified that he had not transgressed and the only evidence outside of accused's own relations was that of — McOee, of Hanover, who had been bar-tender in the Middaugh House at the time. The evidence of this young man was given in such a flippant manner, chewing gum while the Court had to check him and ask him to remove the gum from his mouth which he did. He was told that his evidence was unreliable, and as a lesson for his want of decorum, no witness fees would be awarded him.

J. P. Telford, town Solicitor, had charge of the prosecution and handled the case admirably. Kien of Walkerston appeared for Wilson and had an up-hill fight, forgetting sometimes the dignity due to his position, especially when in examining Constable Arrow-smith he had the effrontery to doubt his veracity, for which he was rebuked by Mr. Ludlow.

He made an impassioned appeal for his client in summing up but the court held that the charge had been proved and imposed a fine of $50 and costs. This was the defendant's second violation and he had been warned in the first instance.

Constable Arrow-smith, the Bench and prosecuting attorney all handled the case well, and a little more of such results will surely tend to the improvement of the morals of the town.

Mulock Baptist Anniversary

The Anniversary services at the Baptist Church, Mulock, on Sunday and Monday were a decided success. Rev. J. B. Brown of Keady preached morning and evening to good sized appreciative congregations. On Monday evening supper was served in the schoolhouse followed by a patriotic program in the church. The great feature of the program was an address by Rev. J. K. Fairfull of Clinton on "Fighting Machines and how to use them." Mr. Fairfull delivered a most eloquent and stirring address, proving by his mastery of his subject the knowledge of the expert and the brilliance of the orator. All were agreed that instruction of a high degree was received at the hands of the speaker. Addresses were also given by Rev. Brown, Wylie and Philpotts which were most acceptable.

The program was brightened most considerably by the music provided by the friends from Durham and Hanover. The work of the Durham quartette, (Misses L. Walker and J. Wylie and Messrs A. Bell and T. Fallaise), Solos by Miss Walker, Mr. Bell, Mr. Fallaise and a duet by Miss Walker and Mrs. Forsythe of Durham were exceedingly well rendered and much appreciated. Mr. A. J. Juch of Hanover favored with a couple of solos and was recalled for an encore each time. Solos were also rendered by Miss Wilson, Mr. — of Hanover and instrumental solos were given by Miss Walker of Durham and Mr. Hamel of Hanover, each item being exceptionally good. Mr. Adams of Hanover proved a most exceptional chairman and kept his audience interested by his efficient handling of a good program, not the least worthy item being the chairman's address. The gathering broke up after the singing of "Britains Sons" and God Save the King.

Patterson—Atkinson Nuptials

On Wednesday last, 20th Oct. at 4:30 p.m. a pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Atkinson, Edge Hill, when their daughter Annie was united in wedlock's bonds to Mr. Joseph E. Patterson from No. 9 section.

Under an arch of evergreens, beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, the groom took his appointed place at the proper time and presently the bride came forward on the arm of her father who gave her away before a large number of guests to the number of about one hundred. Miss May Patterson, sister of the groom, presided at the organ, playing Wagner's "Lohengrin" wedding march while Rev. Mr. Morris, the bride's pastor, presented the solemn vows which declared them man and wife. Congratulations and good wishes followed the ceremony, after which the company sat down to bountiful laden tables, with all the delicacies that attend a wedding supper.

The brides wedding gown was a handsome creation of ivory duchess satin, trimmed with snacking, pearls and lace, the regulation bridal veil decorated with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern.

The gifts were varied and beautiful testifying to the worth of both and which will adorn their future home on the 2nd con. in the house formerly occupied by the late Mr. Robt. Hewitt.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch and chain and to the organist a gold necklace set with pearls. The good wishes of the community go out to the young couple and the Review sincerely hope that life's joys for them will be many.

TEACHERS WERE WALL FLOWERS.

The West Bruce Teachers' Association are not very enthusiastic over the dance given for them by the Kincardine people at their convention there, where it is said the Kincardinites turned out and did all the dancing themselves, leaving the teachers for the most part to look on like wall flowers from the gallery. So crowded at times was the floor with Kincardine feet that it would probably have been easier for the rich man to have got into heaven than for the teachers to have gotten into that dance. Looking at others dancing is certainly great sport—that is, if you don't care what you say. In Walkerston, the people on the other hand imported an eminent speaker and enabled the teachers while here to improve their minds instead of as in Kincardine inviting them to step out and jiggle their feet. As the speaker here said that the future of the nation depends largely on the teachers, it is probably well that the West Bruce instructors didn't shine in the giddy whirl, as they certainly cut a better figure sitting back like sages in calico than flitting about like moths in the pot-light.—Walkerston Times.

The Roll of Honor

Dropping off singly or by twos and threes, one hardly notices the response Durham and immediate vicinity has made to the call for recruits. We give below the list of Durham boys who have responded to the call of empire. A few of them were at other points, but all have interests centred in Durham.

David Borthwick	Cecil Wolfe
Fred Kelly	Percy Bryon
John Weir	Cecil Gun
Cecil McNally	Stanley McNally
Ernest McGirr	Alex Bell
Geo. Lloyd	C. C. Ramage
Caldwell Marshall	Fred Laidlaw
Geo. Banks	Wm. Grundy
Jas. Coatts	John Stedman
Gordon Gun	Johnston Allan
A. C. Dewar	Lance McGirr
Andrew Smith

Twenty-three in all and a probability of seven or eight more before long. All are needed.

A Great Send Off

The largest crowd we think that ever gathered at the C. P. R. station was that of Thursday night last. The occasion was the leaving for Walkerston of five young men who are joining the colors and the heartiness of the good-byes left nothing to be desired in the way of public commendation of their actions.

The five who thus freely offer themselves for the defence of their country are: Johnston Allen, Gordon Gun, A. C. Dewar, John Stedman, Lance McGirr.

Previous to train time a number of citizens met in the Town Hall, Hon. Dr. Jameson, M. P. P., presiding, and made presentations of useful mementoes to the departing boys, accompanied by expressions of appreciation of their action and good wishes for their future.

The articles were wrist watches to Gun and McGirr, a fountain pen and signet ring to Stedman and fountain pen and locket each to Dewar and Allan.

The articles were secured by funds contributed by citizens during the day.
