DISEASES OF THE NERVES

Are Due to Poor Blood and Only Curable Through the Blood.

There is an excellent reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured the most severe cases of neuralgia, sciatica and other complaints of the group known as disorders of the nerves. This group also included nervousness and excitability. Each of these complaints exists because the nerves are not getting a proper nourishment from the blood. The reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders is because they make the rich, red blood upon which the nerves depend for proper tone. It is thus seen that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood, and while they are doing this they strengthen and fortify the whole system against disease. Among the many who have found relief in this trouble through this great medicine is Miss Ethel Smith, residing near Burford, Ont., who says: "Some years ago I was seized with a great pain in my right leg, between the hip and knee, it became so bad that I got no rest, day or night, and often cried with the pain. The doctor said the trouble was rheumatism of the sciatic nerve. Liniments were used until they actually took the skin off, and still the pain grew worse and worse. Then all the other nerves in the limb seemed to be affected, and it kept being jerked and twitching until it would have to be held to keep it still. Then the doctor put the limb in a paper mache case, but it was not long until the trouble began in my other limb, and it had to be treated in the same way. I lay in that condition for three years with my whole nervous system so badly shattered that it would make me scream if any one walked across the floor. Then my throat became partially paralyzed and I could scarcely speak. During this time I had been attended by three different doctors, who did all in their power, but each said I would never be able to walk again. Then my father decided to get me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I had used them long I felt them helping me. This so encouraged me that the use of the pills was continued and in a few months I was able to walk half a mile each day to get the mail. I used in all eighteen or twenty boxes of the Pills and they did what three years of doctoring had not been able to do. I am as well as ever I was in my life, and have had no return of the trouble. My family and friends think my cure was a miracle, and we give all the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BEHIND THE GUNS.

Comparison of British Naval Men and Other Nations.

The British naval man, of course, needs no praise. His great qualities, be he officer or man, are well known and appreciated. What, however, of the fighting prowess and characteristics of his naval friends and foes in this great struggle?

If the officers and men of our Fleet are approached at all in all that makes them what they are, it is by the officers and men of the French Navy. The majority of French naval officers are descendants of the old French aristocracy. They have shed the vices and faults which so often disgraced their ancestors, while retaining those qualities of heroic courage, intense patriotism and absolute devotion to duty of the old French nobility. Further, the French naval officer, aristocrat though he be, has moved with the times. France has led the way in scientific discovery, and as a "scientific" sailor the French officer need fear comparison with none.

The French bluejacket is splendid, simply splendid. He is drawn almost exclusively from the hardiest seafaring and peasant stock of Normandy, and while on modern battleships there may not be any great scope for seamanship of the old days, it is a mighty good foundation on which to build a modern naval fighting man.

On no account should the Russian Navy be judged by what happened in the Russo-Japanese War. Admiral Rodziewsky's ships were doomed from the day they set forth on their long voyage to the East. Moreover, they were extremely ill-manned. So great at that time was the shortage of Russian naval officers and men that the gaps were filled by military officers and soldiers.

All this has been changed. Ever since the Russo-Japanese War the Czar's Navy has been silently but surely remedying its faults and developing efficiency. The spirit of both officers and men is first-rate, and with a fair chance the Russian ships may be expected to give an uncommonly good account of themselves.

Little is known of the Austrian Navy's capabilities. The officers have the reputation of being good "ships' husbands," while the men are smart and well-behaved. But, as was until recently the case in Germany, the Austrian navy has been and still is entirely secondary to the Army. Therefore, it has not attracted the best men, particularly in the commissioned ranks, while it has been starved of training and such necessities as practice ammunition.

But, of course, it is the German Navy that counts for everything in our eyes. It is no use belittling an opponent, and the German fleet may prove a formidable foe. For one thing, the relations between officers and men are infinitely better than in the German Army. Incidentally, the latter lack of sympathy, indeed the active dislike, between the German Army officers and their men must tell heavily against Germany should she meet with reverses.

RISKS LIFE FOR SCIENCE.

Man Will Enter a Den of Snakes for $100,000.

Thomas Wanless, an Australian, is to enter a den of the most poisonous snakes of India, and if he lives will receive $100,000.

Wanless claims the discovery of a serum which will neutralize the venom of any snake poison in the human system. A drug house in India has agreed to pay $100,000 for the formula if a test proves its value.

Wanless, confident that he will win the test, has agreed to risk his life. He offered to sell the secret to the Australian Government for a few thousand dollars, but they hesitated too long.

He is without doubt the most daring fighter of snakes in Australia. Handling snakes is almost an exact science. Most men use a long stick. Wanless never uses a gun or a stick. He emphasizes the fact that he is a snake expert, for he believes no one can charm snakes.

In hunting snakes Wanless is unarmcd, and his only protection a pair of high leggings. When he finds a reptile he waits his time and drops on it with lightning rapidity. He then grabs the snake by the back of the head, pressing his fingers against the jaws and choking it until the reptile is unconscious.

If the snake succeeds in biting him he quickly applies a ligature, scarifies the wound, sucks it well, and applies his antiodote. The arm may become very black and swollen, but in a few hours he is quite recovered.

Once Wanless was bitten on the jaw by a tiger snake, and, not being able to apply a ligature to prevent the circulation of the blood, he lapsed into unconsciousness after he applied his antiodote.

He was unconscious for nearly two days and nights, but recovered. He has been bitten all over the body except on the top of the head, where the only place where he is afraid to be bitten is in the hall of the eye.

Snakes have the power of poisoning themselves or each other. If a snake is badly wounded it turns immediately and bites itself, and the end is sure. Wanless claims to be the only man in the world now alive who has been bitten by the death adder. The death adder is the most deadly of all the Australian reptiles. It is very deaf and does not hear a footstep unless it be close. For this reason travellers through the bush are most careful. A cat bitten by one of these reptiles was dead three seconds afterward.

SOLDIERS SING AND PRAY.

Religious Devotion Shown in Italian Armies.

The great extent to which warfare provides an incentive to religious devotion has been noted in correspondence from other belligerent countries, and Italy furnishes considerably more testimony to the fact. Indeed, with but little exaggeration, it may be said that the Italian army divides its spare moments between singing and praying. It is believed in Italy that King Victor's troops are the gayest and most light-hearted in all the war, for they always go into battle singing. Their first thought on returning from a struggle, however, is a Mass for the repose of the souls of comrades whom they had to leave behind on the field. The most popular song in the camps, after the devout services are over, is "Addio Mia Bella" (Good-bye, My Love).

The religious enthusiasm in the army is also reflected in the fact that so many of the Roman Catholic clergy have rallied around the flag. The military authorities have expressed themselves as greatly pleased over this, for some of them had entertained doubts that the clergy were staunch patriots, but they have proved that they are ready to give their lives as willingly for their country as any other class of citizens.

Throw Away Your Eye-Glasses!

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye-weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that there is a real hope for you if you have had your eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful eye treatment. Many of our patients, after trying it, say: "I was almost blind; but after using your eye glasses, my eyes do not water any more. At night they would not close, and they felt fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady writes: "I have had my eyes treated with your eye glasses, and I can now read every word without any glasses. I can even read the print without glasses." It is a wonderful fact that thousands who wear eye glasses can now see them in a reasonable time, and millions more will be able to see clearly without them.

Follow the simple rules. Here is the prescription: "Wash your eyes with clean water, and get a bottle of Neo-Opto. Fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in two drops of Neo-Opto, and stir it up. With this liquid, bathe the eyes two to four times a day. Many have had their eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start, and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothered with a little, take steps to save them now, before it gets too late. Many have had their eyes saved if they had used your eye glasses. Write for the full prescription by mail, if your druggist cannot supply it."

RIFLE SIGHTS.

Enable You to Keep Your Eye on the Mark.

The average person if asked to explain why a rifle is sighted would probably be unable to do so beyond some vague remark about taking correct aim.

Sights are necessary because a bullet does not travel in a straight line, but, under the influence of gravity and friction, begins to drop almost as soon as it leaves the muzzle. Thus the bullet of the British Service rifle drops six inches in the first 100 yards, but when it has gone 200 yards it has dropped not twelve inches but two feet. The drop increases by leaps and bounds with the distance. Were there no sights on the rifle and you wanted to hit a mark at 200 yards you would clean miss it.

This would be awkward, for you would lose sight of the mark aimed at, to say nothing of the difficulty of correctly estimating a distance of two feet at 200 yards.

The sights of a rifle enable you to keep your eye on the mark although the muzzle of the rifle is actually pointing above it. The movable slide of the backsight enables you automatically to point the muzzle just so many feet above the mark aimed at as is necessary to counteract the known drop of the bullet at various ranges.

CHANGE

Quit Tea and Coffee and Get Well.

A woman's tea and coffee experience is interesting: "For two weeks at a time I have taken no food but skim milk, for solid food would ferment and cause such distress that I could hardly breathe at times, also excruciating pain and heart palpitation and all the time I was so nervous and restless."

"From childhood up I had been a tea and coffee drinker, and for the past 20 years I had been trying different physicians, but could get only temporary relief. Then I read an article telling how some one had been helped by leaving off tea and coffee and drinking Postum, and it seemed so pleasant just to read about good health I decided to try Postum."

"I made the change to Postum, and there is such a difference in me that I don't feel like the same person. We all found Postum delicious and like it better than coffee. My health now is wonderfully good."

"As soon as I made the shift to Postum I got better, and now my troubles are gone. I am fleshy, my food assimilates, the pressure in the chest and palpitation are all gone, my bowels are regular, have no more stomach trouble, and my headaches are gone. Remember, I did not use medicine at all—just left off tea and coffee and used Postum steadily." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.—sold by Grocers.

GREAT CHEMIST PRAISES ZAM-BUK

Mothers Who Use This Famous Balm Have Backing of Science

Mothers who use Zam-Buk, because they have proved it to be a splendid healer, will be interested to hear the result of a test of Zam-Buk by Mr. W. Lascelles Scott, the great English chemist. He says: "I have made an exhaustive analytical examination of Zam-Buk and find its active constituents are of exclusive vegetable origin. It contains none of the irritating, irritating mineral drugs and animal fats present in ordinary ointments. The antiseptic and bactericidal (germ-destroying) powers of this preparation are proved by my tests to exceed those of carbolic acid, yet Zam-Buk neither cauterizes nor inflames even a very sensitive skin, but ends skin disorders."

"I have no hesitation in certifying the purity of Zam-Buk, its value for skin ailments and disorders."

Mothers who have not yet tried Zam-Buk should profit by the above. Zam-Buk is unequalled for eczema, cuts, burns, ulcers, running sores, piles, corns, abscesses, chapped hands, etc. All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, 3 boxes $1.25.

NO LACK OF AMMUNITION.

Lloyd-George Works Wonders in Supply of Munitions.

The success attending the appointment of David Lloyd-George as British Minister of Munitions is testified to by the Dominion Times Parliamentary expert, who says that the production in munitions has increased fourfold and in one highly important branch more than thirtyfold.

"The Ministry of Munitions," the writer adds, "justified itself in the recent heavy fighting on the western front. There were no complaints this time of advances having to be stopped for lack of ammunition."

"It is a feather in the cap of Mr. Lloyd-George, who set himself up in an old fashioned house in Whitehall, with two chairs, a table and a secretary, and in a short interval has created a wonderful organization in the Ministry of Munitions. Gathered around him is perhaps the strongest company of business and scientific brains that has ever been applied to any Government Department in this country."

"At present a thousand industrial works and factories have been scheduled for conversion into munitions, and the number of men employed in them is little short of a million. In addition, 5,000 skilled soldiers have been released for munition work."

It is announced that shipments of shells manufactured in private factories and workshops in British India have been begun. This is regarded here as a decided advance in the industrial capabilities of India, the work having been carried out successfully through all processes from iron ore to the finished product.

WAR SONGS.

The Number Is Now So Great That Few Appeal to All.

In olden times soldiers went into battle crying the slogan of their king or their lord, and, more recently, songs have taken the place of the war-cry, although "Remember Rangoon" was used in South Africa.

However, the number of really great war songs is very small, and in these days of popular ditties, tends to grow less. In the past, a single song would seize the imagination and go right through the land until every one was singing it, whereas now the number is so great that few appeal to all.

Perhaps three songs have had more influence on their countries than any others: "Liliululelo," the "Marseillaise," and "John Brown's Body." The first sang James B. of his throne and dethroned him in France, the second not only had a radical influence on France, but has had the imagination all over the world.

The last, which was the war song of the Federals, in the American Civil War, consisted of four lines only, but is popular with all English-speaking troops for its tune alone, as is "Marching through Georgia."

No Chance to Try it.

A man who sells shower baths on five days' trial told this story:

"I sent one of my men in a rural district. I told him to use the shower bath five days and if at the end of this time he was not satisfied to send it back. This is the letter I received:

"Your shower bath looks good, and perhaps is all right. I don't know whether it is or not because the five days for trial passed before I had time to try it."

MURINE FOR YOUR EYES.

Murine is Prepared by our Physicians, and used by the Public and many years in their practice, now dedicated to the relief of the eyes. It is a simple, safe and effective remedy for all eye troubles, and is the only one that restores the eye to its normal state and restores the eye to its normal state. It is the only eye remedy that restores the eye to its normal state.

Some broadminded physicians use and recommend Murine while others perhaps jealous of its success, have tried to keep it from the public. Those whose eyes need care can guess why, as those who have used Murine just find that their eyes are restored to their normal state. It is the only eye remedy that restores the eye to its normal state.

FOR RELIEF OF VICTIMS.

400 Hospitals in Paris Caring for Wounded.

There are now in the district forming the entrenched camp of Paris, 148 charitable organizations working for the relief of victims of the war, and more than 400 hospitals, which afford accommodations for about 40,000 wounded. The four regular military hospitals, the most important, have now 40 annexes. The Red Cross hospitals number about 300, and there are 28 convalescent establishments, 5 independent hospitals, American, English, Japanese and Russian.

The workrooms for unemployed women have multiplied to a greater extent than the hospitals, now numbering 520. There are 228 different societies looking after the needs of refugees, 69 employment offices, 15 free dispensaries and 195 various organizations for the distribution of clothing, and for lodging and feeding the needy.

Besides these organizations for material relief, there are numerous groups, not registered, whose purpose is to provide cheer and comfort to soldiers at the front.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES COLDS.

Nelson's old ship, the Foudroyant, was sold to the Germans in 1892, bought back by public subscription, and finally wrecked at Blackpool in 1897, whereupon the wrecked metal salvaged from her were made into hundreds of pieces of furniture and dainty nicknacks.

LITTLE OF REAL ROMANCE.

In Life of Comptroller Fortescue of Royal N. W. M. P.

One of the chief regrets of Comptroller Fortescue, now about to retire from the Royal North-West Mounted Police of Canada, with whom he has served for over 40 years, when interviewed, is that in spite of his long service and the distinction that he has attained, he has missed practically all the romance and adventure with the "riders of the plains."

"My work has been almost entirely in the offices at headquarters," said he. "The rounding up of Indians and outlaws and the active work of keeping order has been for others, and I don't want to tell other men's stories."

Comptroller Fortescue said that he joined the police in 1873, when the force came into existence, and was one of the original party that came out West to Winnipeg nearly a dozen years before the laying of the railway. The main business of the force was, curiously enough, the protection of the Indians, who were being exploited by the white traders and being demoralized by the whiskey, which was the traders' chief stock in trade for the bartering of furs.

In the first year he was out in the West, however, Constable Fortescue, as he then was, was taken ill with typhoid, and was invalided to the East. As a man familiar with the work of the force was then needed at headquarters, Constable Fortescue was taken into the office, and there adventure, as far as the future comptroller was concerned, came to an end, for though the rise of the young constable to supreme control of the famous force is not without romance, the work in which he was engaged as Comptroller Fortescue remarked, does not lend itself to the telling of stories. The comptroller is now in his 71st year.

MUNITION PLANT DESTROYED.

Russian Factory Near Kobe Blown Up by Spies.

It is reported here that German spies have blown up one of the ammunition factories at Aboshi, near Kobe, Japan. The plant is owned by the Japan Cellulose Company, but has been equipped for the manufacture of explosives, especially gunpowder, for Russia. The facts as to the reported destruction of one of the factories are withheld.

Now that Japan has decided to increase her output of munitions extra military goods are being placed around all property used for the manufacture of munitions and supplies.

Constipation and indigestion; colic; worms, colds and simple fever; all the other minor ills of little ones can be promptly cured by Baby's Own Tablets through their action in regulating the stomach and bowels. A FEW RULES.

Be Conscientious in the Discharge of Every Duty.

Dishonesty seldom makes one rich, and when it does riches are a curse. There is no such thing as dishonest success. The world is not going to pay you for nothing. Ninety per cent. of what men call luck is only talent for hard work. Do not lean on others to do your thinking or to conquer your difficulties. Be conscientious in the discharge of every duty. Do your work thoroughly. No one can rise who slights work. Do not try to begin at the top. Begin at the bottom and you will have a chance to rise, and will be surer of reaching the top some time. Be punctual. Keep your appointments. Be there a minute before time if you have to lose your dinner to do it. Be polite. Every smile, every gentle bow, is money in your pocket. Be generous. Meanness makes enemies and breeds distrust. Spend less than you earn. Do not run in debt. Watch the little leaks, and you can live on your salary.

His Orders.

"Remember," said the sergeant "no one is allowed to dismount without orders."

"Murphy was no sooner in the saddle than he was thrown to the ground."

"Murphy," yelled the sergeant, when he discovered him lying breathless on the ground, "you dismounted."

"I did."

"Did you have orders?"

"I did."

"From headquarters, I suppose?"

"No, sir; from hindquarters."

Prohibition Favors Tea-Drinking.

Well-informed members of the tea trade say that the figures for the year show an astonishingly large increase of tea drinking throughout the world. Prohibition is largely to account for this, and when a great country like Russia prohibits the sale of strong drink and the people turn to tea, it means an immense drain on the resources of the gardens whence comes the world's supply. In the last few months the cost of tea has risen 12 or 14 cents a pound.

Minard's Liniment Cures Dizziness.
