RECRUITING MEETING.—In the Town Hall, Durham, a recruiting meeting will be held on Sunday evening next at 8.15 p. m., immediately after church services. All are cordially invited.

WILL OPEN GROCERY STORE.—Mr. Wm. Buchan will in the immediate future, commence a Grocery business in the vacant store next MacFarlane & Co's, recently occupied by Saunders & Aitchison. He is this week in Toronto securing stock.

WE ARE SORRY TO LEARN of the sudden death of Mrs. Miller of Guelph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Nevin, of inflammation. Mrs. Nevin left Monday morning for Guelph. She had not had any previous word of her daughter's illness. She leaves her husband and two children, the youngest a month or so old, and her parents to mourn her loss.

KILTS OR TROUSERS.—In a letter dated Nov. 23rd, Lance Corp. J. M. Farquharson makes the following comments: "It is getting pretty cold at night and we have had a considerable amount of frost. So long as it remains dry, we don't worry about the cold, but about four in the morning when a cold mist is rising, the fellows wish they had their trousers instead of kilts."

Anything to oblige Mr. Thurston of the Fishermen's Advance. The current quotation is we believe "Consistent, show art a jewel." We consider ourselves under no obligation to give credit for Artesian Council minutes, as our conferees last week also opined, but an original local or editorial matter appearing in the Advance or other weekly, is given credit for if we republish same.

MUST SUBMIT IT.—Owen Sound Council, owing to irregularities in the petition asking them to submit Local Option, decided not to submit it. The "ants" then got busy and secured a mandamus or some kind of legal order, compelling them to submit it, as the Judge ruled that even with 106 unqualified names off their petition, there were left over 25 per cent of the names on the voters' list.

Not as many representatives of the farming community as should have been present heard a splendid address at the Farmers' Institute meeting here last Thursday by Mr. Geo. Gier of Waldemar on "The Economic Production of Beef." Mrs. W. J. Hunter of Brampton addressed the Women's Institute, here, and both speakers participated in a good meeting at Varney in the evening.

IT WON'T STOP.—The Dundalk Herald is in trouble. Discussing the new hydro system it says: "The Herald happened to have (installed on Tuesday) a very enterprising meter which wants to run up a bill on us. It is working for the Hydro Commission night and day. Its wheels never stop, whether lights are on or not. It is a stable Scrimgeour or some other official does not arrest the machine. The Herald may be bankrupt when the account comes in for payment of the end of the month—1,000,000 kilowatt-hours."

A Generous Gift.—The editor has this week received a letter from Dr. Edward Lauder, of Cleveland, from which we quote: "By the Review I see you are to have a campaign to raise $500 for the Patriotic Fund. Although 'I have been working away from home' for over 18 years, my heart and dearest memories are in Durham. For this and other reasons, I wish to join with the good people of Durham in contributing to the Patriotic Fund. When the subscription list reaches you, please put down my name for $200."

The doctor's many Durham friends warmly appreciate we are sure the kindly sentiment that still wants to rank itself with Durham interests, and friends of the Fund are grateful for this generous gift.

He adds "I thank Heaven we can look forward to the ultimate triumph of the Allies. Why should it not be so? They have every cause of justice and right."

The $5000 Campaign

The meeting on Monday night to inaugurate the campaign was one of the most brilliant and successful of the many such gatherings here. The speakers were on hand, they are good talkers, the arguments and illustrations were cogent and since that day the time for talk has ceased and it is time for action and going down into the pocket to help along the "Cause that needs assistance."

The wrongs that needs resistance.

Canvassers have been out and meeting with fair success, but getting a chill in quarters where genuine sympathy was looked for. The canvassers are not beginners there is nothing selfish in their aims, they simply represent an organized attempt to accept from the people generally the promptings of liberal hearts to the Patriotic Fund which provides for the dependents of those who, amid mud and snow, are fighting our battles, and helping to save the Empire.

We ask those who spurn the collectors is this not true? Where is the mistake? Join in it in any way. Don't miss this week and never let it be said that this great opportunity found you with deaf ears and buttoned pockets.

Contributions may still be given to any of the collectors, to Treat, A. H. Jackson or to either of the banks, and will be acknowledged in the press next week along with others.

"He gives twice who gives quickly." The Lord loveth a cheerful giver."

Dr. Edward Lauder, a Durham boy with generous heart, sends $200 to the campaign and closes a fine letter with these words: "Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith, let us now and to the end dare to do our duty."

That duty is plain this week.

Splendid Addresses

Not since the war started have better addresses been given here than those of Messrs. Miller and Somerville on Monday night. That Somerville's was intensely graphic as he gave his personal experience in Germany and Austria in 1914. The feature most impressed on him and through him on his audience was the preparedness of Germany and Austria for war. On the declaration of war every railway was commandeered, passengers and all the traffic but military were thrown aside, and he and his party had to take the next train which came in five weeks!

The rough and ready method of financing by seizing up to 50 per cent of the savings of the people, should teach Canadians what they might expect if the war went against them.

There was pathos in the speech as he told of the sufferings and the labors and loyalty of the women who gave up their rings and jewels for the cause. The war he said, was scarcely begun yet, for we were simply holding them till we got ready. He paid tribute to Belgium for the precious three days they held the German host, allowing Britain and France time to line up to oppose them.

He had ample evidence of the German plan (before the war started) to first crush France, then Russia, then Britain. It was a powerful address and should stimulate recruiting by uniting men and liberality in giving by those who can't go.

Thanks are due to the band boys, to Mr. Wm. Ramage and other musical friends for assisting in the program. Rev. Mr. Moyer gave a few pertinent impromptu remarks. Mayor Hunter was in the chair and the hall was nearly overflowing. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

An exchange says: "To practice what you preach is grand logic and he ladies in Petrol believe in carrying it out. Preaching in song that they would kiss all the soldiers when they returned from the front, they put their sentiments into practice at a recruiting meeting on Monday evening, when 25 of them kissed Pte. Todd Fleming as an evidence of their appreciation of his wounds received in France. Some of them even gave a deuce measure. About twenty fellows on the Main Street will be enlisting and going to Petrolia "Oil Springs."

Wiring Notice

10 Nov. 1915.

Owing to the fact that the Electrical wiremen have not been able to meet the demands of applications and clear up the defects on the inside wiring of a great many houses, no other has been given to cut off the supply of current until a reasonable time has been given to meet the situation. When the time arrives however, that all can be served by the electricians, a time limit will be set and all who have not complied with the regulations will be cut off.

Presentation to Pte. Johnston Allen

At the close of the Sunday School at the Baptist Church this week, the following address was read by Miss Janet Wylie and the presentation made by Miss Gladys Search to Pte. Johnston Allen, who was home from camp at London over the week end. Pte. Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Allen of our town.

Dear Johnston,—

We are pleased to have you back amongst us once more in our little Baptist Sunday School here even although it be but for a very short time. It is needless for us to say how much we admire your true manliness in being among the first from Durham to offer their services to their King and country in this awful war in which British freedom, British liberty and even the very existence of the British nations are at stake.

Britishers, the wide world over, regret the course of events that thrust the ravages of ruthless war upon them. The path of duty is unmistakably clear, though it leads to self-sacrifices unknown in this world before the present strenuous time.

All honor to you Johnston for seeing your duty coldly and embracing the opportunity to perform that duty faithfully and fearlessly. Your manly conduct will be an incentive to all true young men, who are physically fit to go and do likewise.

May God protect you through dangers seen and unseen and bring you safely back to your home and to your many friends in Durham, when all this cruel strife is over and peace once more pervades this once-happy country. Before parting now, we ask you to accept from us this small purse of gold as a little memento by which to remember us when you may perhaps be far away from the little band of friends around you here to-day.

Our kindest regards and best wishes will follow you wherever your lot may be cast.

Signed on behalf of the Baptist Sunday School and Young People:

Misses Annie C. MacKenzie, Lily Walker, Gladys Search, Janet Wylie, Eya Redford.

It is finely illustrated and abounds in practical information on breeding, rearing, feeding, housing and marketing of beef cattle. Here is an extract: "The great secret in preparing a carcass of beef is to treat an animal in such a way that the fat grows with it during the entire period of its life." We extend congratulations to Mr. Arch. Black and Miss Florie Graham, of St. Marys, both former Durham young people, who were united in wedlock there last week.

The Campaign

Captains and collectors are busy this week and meeting with unexpected encouragement in some quarters and disappointment in others. It is quite evident that a large number in Durham financially able do not yet realize the seriousness of their war or there would be larger response. It is OUR war, OUR wounded we are helping, OUR dependents we are providing for. Why hold back? Think it over and swell the sum before next week's paper comes out.

A Grey County Battalion

Composed entirely of Grey County officers and men, an energetic campaign is now under way to recruit a battalion, 100 men in this County. 375 men are already recruited and in training at Owen Sound. On Tuesday Capt. Fleming, Lieut. Douglas, Sgt. Lenahan, and Lance Corporal Willis opened a Recruiting station for Durham and district in the armory here. Lt. Douglas will be in charge and with the two latter will enlist as many as possible from this part. 700 men are yet required. The new battalion is 147 and Col. F. G. MacFarlane, formerly of Markdale, will be commanding officer.
